RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT OF THE ROYAL BOTANICAL GARDENS, CALCUTTA, FOR THE YEAR 1881-82.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT,—AGRICULTURE

Yacht "Rhotas," the 19th August 1882.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Annual Report on the Royal Botanical Gardens, Calcutta, for the year 1881-82.

The improvements in the Gardens, which were commenced some years ago, made considerable progress during the past twelve months. An ornamental lake has been excavated; a swampy tract of some size has been raised and properly laid out; several new roads and paths have been constructed; and some progress has been made with the western boundary canal. The new conservatory for palms and tree-ferns is in course of construction, and the foundations have been laid of a commodious building to replace the present herbarium and library. The Garden is now, in the words of the report, "a beautiful and shady park, traversed by numerous driving roads and foot-paths, and containing many beautiful and instructive specimens, both of Indian and of exotic plants." Dr. King proposes that the road now being constructed along the river bank between Howrah and Salimar Point, should be continued in front of the Engineering Workshops and College up to the gate of the Gardens. By this means a new and valuable approach would be provided, and the accessibility of the Gardens greatly increased. The proposal will be considered in the General Department of this Government.

2. The experimental cultivation of rubber-yielding plants was continued during the year. The Ceará rubber plant is reported to have thriven well, and to have yielded a number of seedlings for distribution. A species of Landolphia, which was forwarded by Sir John Kirk, Her Majesty's Consul-General at Zanzibar, has been successfully introduced, and is doing well. On the other hand, the Pará rubber plant (Hevea Braziliensis) appears to have been a complete failure, and its cultivation has been discontinued.

3. Much attention has been bestowed on the question of utilizing plantain and other vegetable fibres for purposes of paper-making. Dr. King considers that what is required is some cheap method of removing the useless cellular tissue in order that the fibre may be transported without danger of fermentation setting in by the way. If this difficulty can be overcome, there is every reason to hope that plantain fibre will come into extensive use for this purpose. Experiments are being made with a view to the introduction of the paper mulberry of China and Japan (Broussonetia papyrifera) which yields one of the best paper fibres known. Excellent results were also obtained from the leaves of a plant which was found in Chota Nagpore by Mr. Gamble, Conservator of Forests, and which is supposed to be the Eriophorum comosum, or "bhabur" grass common in the North-Western Provinces. The fibre of "bhabur" grass is well adapted for paper-making, and is nearly equal for this purpose to Esparto grass.

4. Considerable additions were made during the year to the collection of dried plants in the herbarium, the chief contributors being Sir J. D. Hooker, the Directors of the Botanic Gardens at Buitenzorg in Java and Hong-Kong, Mr. Gamble, Dr. Schlich, Colonel Beddome, late Inspector-General of Forests in Madras, Mr. Fisher, Colonel Collett, C.B., Dr. G. Watt, and Revd. Mr. Heyde of the German Mission at Ladak. Much activity was shown in the interchange of plants and seeds. During the year 25,939 living plants and 3,303 packets of seeds were distributed, the recipients being for the most part Station Committees, Cantonment Magistrates, and Superintendents of Hospitals and Jails. On the other hand, 9,766 plants and 883 packets of seeds were presented to the Gardens by various contributors. The office of Curator of the Herbarium, which had long been vacant, was filled up early in the year by the appointment of Mr. L. J. K. Brace, and since the close of the year to which the Report refers a successor to Mr. J. Craig in the post of Assistant Curator of the Garden has been appointed by the Secretary of State. The new incumbent, however, has not yet arrived.

5. The Lloyd Botanical Gardens at Darjeeling suffered during the first part of the year from the operations necessary for the construction of the European Hospital in that station. The loosening of the surface soil, which was occasioned in the course of cutting away the top of the Hospital hill, brought about a succession of slips, and much damage was done to the Gardens by stones and other débris. In addition to this the grubs of a species of cock-chafer made their appearance and committed extensive ravages among the young plants. The Conservatory has been completed and filled with flowers, and now presents a handsome appearance. It is hoped that the stone-drains to catch the water from the hill above the Garden will be completed by the Municipality during the current year.

6. The Lieutenant-Governor desires to acknowledge the continued excellent work done by Dr. King and his subordinates during the past year.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the report and of the resolution be submitted to the Government of India, in the Revenue and Agricultural Department, for information.

Ordered also that a copy of the Resolution be forwarded to the Superintendent of the Botanical Gardens, for information.

Ordered also that paragraph 2 of the Report, with extract (paragraph 1) from the Resolution, be forwarded to the General Department of this Office for consideration and orders.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

COLMAN MACAULAY,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE GENERAL REPORT OF THE BHAGULPORE DIVISION FOR THE YEAR 1881-82.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS.

Darjeeling, the 19th August 1882.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Annual Report of the Bhagulpore Division for the year 1881-82.

Mr. Barlow was Commissioner throughout the year, but went on furlough immediately after its close. The report has therefore been submitted by his successor, Mr. Metcalfe. In Bhagulpore, Maldah, Purneah, and the Sonthal Pergunnahs, the same district officers may practically be said to have held charge for the entire year; but in Monghyr, Mr. Currie officiated for only seven months, while Mr. Kean was Collector for the remaining five.

2. Tours.—The Commissioner's tour lasted 118 days, and was distributed over the whole year. During his tour Mr. Barlow was able to visit the head-quarter stations of all the districts in his division, and also all sub-divisional head-quarters, except Kissengunge and Arrareah in Purneah. The Lieutenant-Governor observes that this is the second year in which Arrareah has not been inspected. The Commissioner should make a point of visiting it before the current year ends. Mr Barlow acquired a good deal of information during his tour regarding the general state of his division, which must be of use to his successor. The points which he considered specially noteworthy will be considered under their proper heads in this Resolution.

3. In Monghyr, Mr. Currie and Mr. Kean, between them, spent only 72 days in the interior of the district. This is not the first time the Government has had to notice unfavourably the tours of Monghyr district officers in general, and of Mr. Kean in particular. On this occasion, Mr. Kean, who was Collector throughout the cold season, has disregarded not only the general orders on the subject, but the special instructions of the Commissioner, directing him to spend at least three months in the interior of his district. He will therefore now be called on to explain his failure of duty in this respect. The Collector of Bhagulpore has this time satisfied the requirements of the rule regarding tours; while the district officers of Purneah, Maldah, and the Sonthal Pergunnahs have each made extended and useful tours. The various Sub-Divisional Officers also, with one slight exception, which need not be more particularly noticed, spent more than four months in the interior of their respective sub-divisions. The charge is not unfrequently made against District Officers in Bengal that they know less of their districts than Magistrate-Collectors in other provinces. The Lieutenant-Governor would be very sorry to accept any such general condemnation, but he cannot fail to notice that, in the fact of a permanent settlement in Bengal, and in the absence of those facilities of intercourse with the internal economy of districts which the conduct of temporary settlements affords, it is all the more incumbent upon officers in charge of districts or of sub-divisions to maintain a regular acquaintance of the affairs of their jurisdictions by constant tours.

4. Weather and Crops.—The rainfall, though less than the average, was larger than in the preceding year. It was not, however, so seasonably distributed; and as harvest outturn depends much more on the seasonable distribution of the rainfall than on its actual quantity, the results were not everywhere satisfactory. In Monghyr and the Sonthal Pergunnahs the summer and autumn rains were sufficient and fairly distributed, and the result was a good bhadoi and aughani harvest. There was, however, scarcely any winter rain in these districts, and the rubbee suffered accordingly. In Maldah the rainfall was generally sufficient and seasonable: all the crops were consequently good. In Purneah and Bhagulpore the year opened well; but drought in July and August injured the crops on the high lands (more, however, in the former than in the latter district); while heavy rain in September caused inundations and consequent loss to the winter rice in both districts. The rubbee in Purneah was fair; but in Bhagulpore, owing to the tardy subsidence of the inundations, rubbee sowings were delayed and the harvest was poor. Taking 12 annas out of the 16 to represent an average yield, the Commissioner estimates the character of the various harvests in his division as follows:—

	Bhadoi.	Aughani.	Rubbee.
	As.	As.	As.
Monghyr	11	13	8
Bhagulpore	12	8	8
Purneah	7	10	10
Maldah	12	12	12
Sonthal Pergunnahs	12	12	7

5. Public Health.—The year cannot be called a healthy one. There was much mortality from fever in all the districts north of the Ganges; in Bhagulpore and Purneah indeed—the districts which suffered from inundations—the disease was particularly severe. The native aphorism, therefore, quoted by the Commissioner that "an inundation season is a healthy one" conflicts in this instance with the facts. South of the Ganges fever was also prevalent, but not to the same extent nor of so severe a type as north of the river In portions of the Sonthal Pergunnahs, however, there were many deaths from the disease. It would seem that for some years past a wave of fever has been advancing eastwards. Last year it appeared in the Shahabad district only; this year it has spread over the whole Patna Division, and reached Bhagulpore. It is probably due more to general or climatic than to mere local causes.

6. Cholera also appeared throughout the division, but only in Purneah and parts of the Sonthal Pergunnahs did it assume anything like an epidemic form. The disease seems to have begun at the Caragola fair, where overcrowding and exposure to unusually chilly and damp weather favoured its origin. The people returning from the fair carried the germs of disease with them. The Commissioner does not state whether any sanitary precautions were taken at the Caragola fair; in case none were taken, the subject is one which should receive his careful attention for the future. Medical aid was afforded to the sufferers by the district authorities; but perhaps it is not an erroneous assumption that cholera can be more easily prevented than cured.

7. Material Condition of the People.—On this head the Commissioner writes as follows:—

"All the districts in this division are agricultural; the condition of the people depends entirely on the produce of the lands and the price of the crops. Both circumstances were unfavourable, there having been a small outturn and low price. The poorness of the crop, however, caused no particular change in the material condition of the people. The past few years having been years of comparative plenty, the meagre outturn of the crops of the year under report had no injurious effect. Stocks were full, and there was no lack of food. The cheapness of food-grain no doubt pressed upon the rent-paying ryots, inasmuch as they were unable to procure ready money to meet rent demands. The difficulty in some places was, it is stated, averted in a great measure by the cultivators turning their attention to a greater extent than usual to the cultivation of chillies, tobacco, opium, &c.

"The low prices were favourable to the landless classes, especially the labourers, who found enough of employment and cheap food.

"Writing of the physical appearance of the people, Mr. Oldham reports—

"'The appearance of the Sonthal villages, and of the people themselves as regards clothing, in the hills and forest tracts, is extremely wretched, though their bodies are well nourished, and they show no signs of depression. I attribute their wretched clothing to their remote position and secluded surroundings and the hovels which they inhabit, to the ease with which the materials are procured in the woods, and the slight labour which is necessary for putting them together. Elsewhere comfortable and well-built houses are on the increase, and the plantations, which were first noticed in 1880-81, are being maintained and initiated.'"

The Lieutenant-Governor thinks it very probable that the unfavourable harvests, combined with the low prices which prevailed, may have contributed to make it hard for ryots in part of the Bhagulpore Division to pay their rents. But he also believes that in the excessive rents which were often demanded a truer and more sufficient explanation will be found. This matter will be referred to again in this Resolution.

8. Emigration.—There is no emigration worth speaking of from this division. A few more people left for the colonies and labour districts than during the preceding year; but the total number of emigrants did not reach 2,000. The Commissioner says it is undesirable that labourers should leave this division, for "land in square miles is lying fallow for want of cultivators, while many commercial operations suffer for want of labourers." It is strange that land should long lie fallow for want of hands to till it in Bhagulpore, while in the neighbouring Patna Division thousands of hands have no land to till. The explanation of the anomally can scarcely be found in climatic differences, for between the two divisions these differences are not very great. A more probable cause exists in the unsatisfactory state of the existing rent-law, which in this part of the province at any rate fails to stimulate the investment of capital in the soil, or the application of labour to it. It is to be hoped that the time is not far distant when a better state of things may prevail.

9. The Commissioner mentions one of these movements among the Sonthals, which within historic memory have carried that interesting race from the borders of Cuttack and Sumbulpore to the Ganges. Five hundred Sonthal emigrants have settled at Panduah in Maldah, once the rival of Gaur, as the seat of Mahomedan empire in Bengal, but now, like Gaur, a wilderness. These Sonthali settlers are clearing the jungles in which the remains of the ancient city lie buried, and reducing to cultivation a tract which, whatever its past condition may have been, is now only infested by tigers, and has been always fatal to Bengalis of the plains. For emigrants of this description there is no need to leave Bengal. In Maldah, Purneah, and Dinagepore there is still plenty of jungle to be cleared

10. Prices of food and labour.—The Commissioner states that food remained cheap throughout the year, notwithstanding the indifferent harvests; and this state of things he attributes to the large stocks laid by in previous years of plenty. With the price of food stationary and no emigration, the price of labour naturally did not rise. It is satisfactory to hear that in parts of the division there was a great reduction in the price of common salt.

11. Manufactures.—The Lieutenant-Governor regrets to find that under this head the Commissioner can give only a gloomy report of the present state of some once flourishing industries. Throughout the division (portions of Monghyr excepted) indigo-planting is on the decline. Indeed in Maldah, and in parts of Purneah and Bhagulpore, it is almost extinct. Silk, though still an extensive industry, is not prospering. The manufacture of saltpetre is depressed, the pretty "bidriware" of Purneah is dying out, the Monghyr hardware and ebony trade is decaying, and so is iron-smelting in the Sonthal Pergunnahs. No manufacture is flourishing except sugar, which has benefited from the substitution of the Behea press for the wasteful native contrivance. The Manager of the Maharajah of Durbhunga's Khurruckpore property is also said to have extracted sugar of excellent quality from the khajoor tree. The decay of the tusser silk manufacture, which is much to be deplored, is attributed to an epidemic disease among the silk-worms, which deters capitalists from investing money in breeding them. A further special report should be submitted on this matter, but meanwhile it is to be hoped that the discovery of a cure for the disease is not beyond the resources of private research and enterprise. The decline of indigo-planting is due to more general, and, in the districts of this division, possibly to more permanent, causes. Some of the Bhagulpore planters have taken to ordinary crop cultivation, and are known under the name of "Belati grihasts," but they are not, it would seem, in a very flourishing condition. Mining operations made no progress during the year; but the usual slate and stone quarries were worked in the Monghyr district. There is reason for hoping, however, that the southern portions of the division have a future before them in the way of mining industries.

12. Trade and Commerce.—The information on this important subject furnished by the report is very meagre for all the districts, except Bhagulpore. For the Bhagulpore district the Joint-Magistrate, Mr. Posford, submits a full and interesting note. Taking the division as a whole, it seems that the export trade in food-grains was slack, while the import trade was up to the average. The trade in hides was depressed; but in jute and tobacco a brisk business was done. The cultivation of jute seems to be extending in Purneah, and mahajuns are learning the value of the Northern Bengal State Railways as a means of exporting and importing merchandise. The Maldah rice trade, which was formerly considerable, has suffered from the silting up of the Kalundi and Mahanuddy to such an extent that the question of improving the navigation of these rivers has attracted attention. As much of the rice trade of Maldah and Dinagepore, however, is understood to be with the North-West, the resources of this portion of Bengal would probably be best developed by a railway connecting the Northern Bengal with the Tirhoot and Oudh systems. Such railway might also be advocated as the best solution of the population question in Behar and of the labour question in Assam. Projects in this direction are under the consideration of Government. It is very satisfactory to learn that a trade in fish is growing up along the Ganges, especially at Rajmehal and Sahibgunge, and that the reduction in the duty on salt has stimulated the importation of that commodity for fish-curing purposes. A large future lies before this industry, which deserves encouragement in the general interests of the country; and the Lieutenant-Governor will therefore be glad to have a special report on the subject. Regarding the trade with Nepal, no new facts have been brought to light. The Nepalese continue to import English piece-goods, salt, country cloth, and domestic animals. They export rice, cereals, jute, musk, and timber. This traffic passes across the frontier by so many bye-paths that the bulk of it escapes registration at the three posts where registering officers are stationed. It is indeed questionable whether any good results from maintaining such an inefficient registering agency at all. It should either be extended and strengthened or dispensed with altogether.

13. Public Feeling.—The only subject on which public feeling ran high was the rent question. In some parts of the division continued enhancements, followed by exactions of illegal cesses, drove ryots into a combination against the payment of any rents whatever. From these facts Mr. Metcalfe deduces the necessity for an encumbered estates' law "to enable the Government to step in and prevent an unscrupulous and incompetent proprietor from rendering the lives of thousands of his tenants miserable." The facts, however, seem, in the Lieutenant-Governor's opinion, to point rather to the need of more active and intelligent administration, and of an improved rent law. It would appear that villages have been farmed to rent speculators on short leases; that enhanced jummas have been exacted at each successive lease; that rents have been everywhere raised, frequently to more than double the normal rate; that to enhanced rents illegal cesses have been added, and the consolidated total made the starting point for fresh exactions; that all the influence of semi-feudal landlords backed up by the devices of unscrupulous subordinates has been directed to wringing from ryots their uttermost farthing, with the effect of driving them into open resistance. Such proceedings as these convey the strongest censure on the local administration, which might have checked, if it could not at once remedy them, and furnish the strongest evidence in favour of such an improvement in the law as will give the tenantry substantial protection against grave abuses. Nothing could be worse than the condition of things in the Buneli Estates, for which, when the proprietors have been nearly ruined by their extravagances, and the tenantry almost driven to revolt by the oppressions and exactions of their landlords, a special system of Government management has to be introduced.

The local self-government scheme, and the repeal of the Vernacular Press Act, are said to have been common topics of discussion and congratulation among the better classes; while among other classes no definite idea seems to exist why the matter should afford any grounds for satisfaction at all. It is premature to expect that the masses of the people should understand those questions in such a way as to give intelligent expression to their opinions. If among the wealthy and educated classes the scheme is well received and turned to the best advantage, enlightenment on the subject will spread to the masses.

14. Some local feeling was excited by the orders regarding the reservation of offices in Behar for natives of that Province. The Bengalis are said to regard Bhagulpore as debateable ground, and to deny the applicability to that Division of the orders in question. The Lieutenant-Governor thinks that some misapprehension exists on the subject of these orders, and he avails himself of this opportunity to explain what he understands to have been Sir Ashley Eden's intention in issuing them. It is unquestionably true that, for the discharge of certain duties in Behar, the natives of the Province are much better suited than Bengalis are. They may not be so well educated, and especially not so well educated in English, as their Bengali competitors, but they know the vernacular, which, in a province where dialects are numerous, is a great advantage; and they understand the people among whom Bengalis are often regarded as foreigners. They are therefore to be preferred on public grounds for these appointments, which bring their holders into close contact with the people of the province. Another reason for the preference given to natives of Behar for employment in their own province was the desire to stimulate education in that province. That reason had more weight in it some years ago than it happily has to-day, and Mr. Rivers Thompson is glad to see that the progress of education in Behar has been of late so rapid that it may well hope to dispense with such adventitious aid. For the present, therefore, when the interests of Behar Administration require that a native of the province be preferred to a native of Bengal (and that is likely to be often the case), then a native of Behar must be employed in preference to a Bengali. But there are cases in which no such interests have to be served, and in such Bengalis are as eligible for employment in Behar as they are eligible for employment in other portions of the empire. Of course Bengalis domiciled in Behar are already treated as natives of the province. It is obvious, however, that such special arrangements cannot be permanent. What Government has to look to is efficient administration, and if the people of Behar do not qualify themselves up to the standard of efficiency required, they must suffer.

The market tax to which the Collector of Purneah refers, as levied by zemindars at rural hâts, should be made the subject of a special report.

15. Public Press.—The Commissioner reports that two newspapers have ceased to exist during the year; while two new ones with "unobjectionable tone" have been started. The Lieutenant-Governor views with satisfaction the growth of a loyal and enlightened native press as the best means of educating the people to a knowledge of their rights, and interpreting to the people the intentions of the Government. The Government, too, gains in a wider knowledge than purely official reports can give of the wants and aspirations of the country. The recent repeal of the Vernacular Press Act has undoubtedly removed a serious cause of discontent and irritation, and with the unfettered freedom of expression which the native press now enjoys, the Lieutenant-Governor hopes to see the growth of an intelligent and healthy public opinion. With these views Mr. Rivers Thompson is anxious to afford to the native press all the facilities of information as to the views or action of Government which can conveniently be communicated to the public.

16. Administrative Changes.—In the Excise Department a considerable reduction in the number of outstills was effected during the year. It has already led to a loss of revenue, but its effect in diminishing drunkenness, which is its main object, remains to be seen. The system of farming out cattle-pounds in Bhagulpore and Purneah has been, as might be expected, financially successful; but it is a system which readily admits of being abused, and which therefore requires careful watching. The provisions of the Pooree Lodging-house Act have now been generally accepted at Deoghur at the reduced rate of two annas per lodger, and no complaints have yet been made as to its working. Finally, the mortuary statistics which the Commissioner reproduces only show how wide a field exists for improvement in this branch of the Administration.

17. General State of Police and Crime.—As far as prevention of crime is concerned, the Police Administration has been more successful than last year. There were 1,667 fewer true cases cognizable by the police, and although it is true that the greater portion of the decrease has been in the less serious class of offences, there has also been a marked decrease in heinous crime against person and property. These satisfactory results the Commissioner attributes to the more careful supervision of bad characters by the police, and to improvements in the village chowkidari system. No more effectual check on crime against property in India exists than an efficient body of village watchmen, and the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to see that attention is being paid to increasing the effectiveness of this portion of the police force. Improvement was much needed. If the good effects attributed to more careful supervision of bad characters by the regular police have been secured without sending such people to jail, and thus charging the State with their maintenance, the result is altogether satisfactory.

Although more successful than in the preceding year in preventing crime, the police were less successful in detecting it. In cognizable cases the percentage of convictions was only 38·4 in 1881 as compared with 41·8 in 1880. This result is not good in itself, and because it shows cases were badly enquired into. The work of investigation is principally done by head-constables, and until a better class of men is generally appointed to that grade, it is hopeless to expect much improvement. Still it is evident that closer supervision by the police authorities in Purneah would produce better results, while in the Sonthal Pergunnahs the ill-success of police enquiries rendered a thorough change of system necessary. Regarding the less serious or non-cognizable cases, the Commissioner has nothing special to say. There was, however, a decrease in such offences.

18. Civil Justice.—The following table compares the number and classes of suits instituted during the year under review and during the preceding year:—

Districts.	1880.			1881.
	Small Cause Court suits as also suits for money or moveables.	Suits under the rent law.	Title and other suits.	Small Cause Court suits as also suits for money or moveables.	Suits under the rent law.	Title and other suits.
Monghyr	3,966	2,425	789	4,222	2,291	572
Bhagulpore	3,682	3,016	595	3,772	3,647	517
Purneah	3,993	3,568	493	4,361	3,859	410
Maldah	2,865	1,103	157	3,268	1,149	139
Sonthal Pergunnahs	5,667	4,652	675	7,086	4,307	599
Total ...	20,173	14,764	2,709	22,709	15,253	2,237

In explanation of these figures, the Commissioner offers the following remarks:—

"Small Cause Court suits, as also suits for money and moveables, increased considerably in the division. The increase occurred in all the districts, notably in Sonthal Pergunnahs. It is to be attributed to the year having been a fairly prosperous one. Low prices prevailed, and labour was cheap. The cultivators found difficulty in disposing of their produce at remunerative rates, and paying their debts, and consequently the result was an increase in civil cases. The exceptional increase in Sonthal Pergunnahs is to be attributed to the census disturbances, the effect of which was felt up to April in the following way. Throughout this period it was impossible for many officers who were moving about the interior to observe the dates they had fixed, or be present at the places notified for hearing suits as long as the officers were with bodies of troops, and police suitors were generally shy of appearing before them. These causes led to a number of cases being struck off in default, or decreed ex parte, which were revived in the following months, and the figures have swollen accordingly."

Notwithstanding the increase in the number of suits, there was a decrease in their values—that is to say, there was a good deal of petty litigation, but fewer heavy cases. It is satisfactory to find that 39,855 cases of all sorts were disposed of, against 40,199 cases instituted. Twenty-five per cent. only were decided on the merits, the remainder having been withdrawn, compromised, or decided ex parte. The administration of civil justice generally commands the confidence of the people. The Commissioner's remarks regarding the want of an additional Moonsif at Kissengunge will be considered in the Judicial Department.

19. Land and Land Revenue.—The total land revenue demand was Rs. 33,39,252, and the total collections were 96 per cent. on the demand. For the regulation districts of the division the results are satisfactory, "almost the whole balance being due from the Damin ryots who could not afford to pay on account of the low produce market." A settlement at rates believed to be moderate has lately been made with these ryots. Two crops out of the three were excellent during the year. The ryots are said by Mr. Barlow to be "as well off as any tenantry can be" If these be the facts, then the inability of these ryots to pay their rents is not sufficiently accounted for by the low prices which prevailed. It is not to be supposed that at the settlement rent rates were fixed on the presumption that markets would be always favourable and prices always high. The matter therefore calls for further explanation at the Commissioner's hands. The results of the management of other Government estates, besides the Damin, were on the whole satisfactory, though there are still large arrears outstanding.

It is not creditable to the Collectors of Monghyr and Bhagulpore that land registration work should be still so backward; and the Lieutenant-Governor expects that special efforts will be directed to finishing the work in these districts. Partition cases continue to increase as a consequence of the registration of title; but it is disappointing to find that arrears are already accumulating, notwithstanding the appointment of a special officer for this work exclusively in the Monghyr and Bhagulpore districts This is a point to which the Commissioner should direct his special attention. Much harassment and expense to the parties are caused by protracted butwara litigation and much ill-feeling engendered. The recent amendments in the law were introduced with the express purpose of expediting the disposal of this class of cases.

20. The Commissioner thinks that "the relations of landlord and tenant were not generally disturbed, though isolated cases of complaint were not entirely absent." The Lieutenant-Governor fears that this view of the facts is somewhat too sanguine. He finds that in Purneah, notwithstanding the low prices of produce, there has been an increase in enhancement suits; that over large portions of Monghyr and Bhagulpore the relations between landlord and tenant were strained to the utmost degree; that elsewhere ryots, if they did not actually refuse to pay rents, showed a disposition to withhold them. Generally, it is stated, that there was discontent among the ryots, which the Lieutenant-Governor fears will not be removed till the amendment of the rent law lays the foundation for a better state of things.

21. Cesses.—Collections were made smoothly everywhere except in Monghyr and Bhagulpore, where arrears accrued owing, it would seem, to failure on the Collector's part to take full advantage of the Certificate Procedure. The district of Purneah has been re-valued at a sum considerably in excess of the previous valuation, but in Mr. Weekes' opinion the valuation is still under what it ought to be. He states that in Purneah the practice has prevailed from time immemorial of levying abwabs (babuts as they are locally called) instead of enhanced rents as the result of compromises come to between landlords and tenants. Cesses are not calculated on the abwabs, but only on the rent properly so called; and thus a distinction, which is merely nominal, is utilized to reduce the Government demand. It is, however, difficult for the Lieutenant-Governor to suppose that such a state of things can long continue or can prevail widely. In Purneah or elsewhere ryots must come to know that a higher rent cannot be legally demanded from them than the rent entered in the road cess jummabundis, that is to say, the rent on which the cess is calculated. The Act contains an effectual provision framed to meet such cases as Mr. Weekes refers to. By explaining the law to all interested in its legal enforcement, the Magistrate will find that he has already in his own hands the remedy he asks for. Re-valuations are proceeding in the districts of Bhagulpore, Monghyr, and Maldah. It is to be hoped that as few valuations as possible will be made by the summary procedure and as many as possible on the actual rentals.

22. Excise.—The total excise revenue from all sources during the year amounted to Rs. 11,46,665, or about Rs. 50,000 less than in the preceding year. There was a marked decrease under the head of Country Spirits, and an increase under the heads of Ganja and Opium. The outstill system was in force in the Regulation Districts, and the central distillery system in the Sonthal Pergunnahs. Under the former system fewer shops were licensed than in the preceding year, while in the Sonthal Pergunnahs the rate of duty was raised. It was hoped that by lessening facilities of procuring drink in the one case, and in the other by directly raising the cost, excessive drinking might be discouraged. As far as the revenue from country spirits is concerned the result was a loss of Rs. 80,000, while Mr. Barlow has placed on record, as the result of his personal experience, that drunkenness has decreased during the year. Some district officers, however, do not agree with the Commissioner in this opinion, and others express a modified judgment. In Monghyr especially the opinion prevails that the cheapening of the liquor under the outstill system has encouraged drunkenness among the lower classes. But on the whole the year's experience goes to show that efforts are being successfully made to reconcile the interests of the people with the fiscal interests of the State. In this branch of the Administration the main points to be attended to are that the number of liquor shops and their situation shall be so fixed as to avoid on the one hand the creation of a monopoly of sale, and on the other hand to discourage that undue competition which leads to the manufacture of a cheap adulterated spirit. When shops are licensed with due regard to population, class, and area, the supply of liquor will not go beyond the demand, nor will excessive competition lower prices.

23. Stamps.—The revenue derived from the sale of judicial or court-fee and non-judicial stamps was Rs. 8,43,680. In the preceding year the revenue was Rs. 37,000 less. The increase was under the head of Judicial Stamps, and is attributed to the larger number of rent-suits instituted, to the levy of fees in certificate cases, and to the re-valuations for cess purposes. There was a decrease in revenue from postage stamps which is not explained by the Commissioner, and which is in itself an unsatisfactory feature in the year's history. There was a decrease in the revenue from non-judicial stamps, the year being, as the Commissioner puts it, "one for money-lenders to collect their dues, not for fresh loans." The Commissioner goes on to say—

"The revenue from hundi stamps and one-anna revenue stamps fell off slightly owing to slackness of trade and banking business. The sale of the latter cannot represent all the transactions in which such stamps should be used. The Government revenue no doubt suffers from the non-use of this stamp on receipts. There must be thousands of transactions in the districts of this division when this stamp should be used, and is not employed at all."

There is much truth in these observations. Mofussil villages afford a wide field for extending the sale of receipt and promissory note stamps, and there is every reason for believing that, if such stamps were readily available at the people's doors, they would be more widely used than they now are. The Lieutenant-Governor will therefore be glad to learn from the Board of Revenue whether arrangements cannot be made whereby village post-masters or school-masters can be appointed stamp vendors, advances of stamps, if necessary, being made to them on terms similar to those which prevail in the Postal Department, with so much convenience to the people and profit to Government.

24. License-tax.—The total assessment amounted to Rs 1,94,970, and the collections to Rs 1,65,075; Rs. 25,135 were remitted or refunded, and the year closed with an outstanding balance of Rs. 4,760. In Purneah and the Sonthal Pergunnahs nothing remained due, and in the other districts the balances are said to be irrecoverable. The actual collections were about equal to last year's collections, and as the tax was recovered without difficulty, the assessment was probably moderate. As the tax does not exceed 2 per cent. on profits (excluding profit under Rs. 500 a year), it follows that the aggregate profits of the wealthier traders of this agricultural division are not less than 85 lakhs a year.

25. Monetary Arrangements.—The Commissioner reports that during the year there has been a decline in hundi and mahajani draft business. No cause is assigned; but probably the depression in trade as well as the extension to rural post offices of the money-order system sufficiently account for the circumstance. The currency note circulation has increased; but the Government Savings Banks have not gained in popularity—a fact which the Commissioner attributes to reductions in the limit of deposits and in the rate of interest. The establishment of Post Office Savings Banks will bring the advantages of the system nearer to the doors of the people, and this is perhaps what was really wanted to render the system a success.

26. Railways, Roads—During the year work was begun on the extension of the Tirhoot State Railway to Shimrighat opposite Mokameh, and on the Steam Tramway from Deoghur to Baidyanath on the East Indian line. "The value of railway communication," says the Commissioner, "is appreciated by all classes: local capitalists are found ready to invest their money towards the opening of new lines without any guarantee. A private company has been formed in the district of Bhagulpore to construct a light railway from Bhagulpore to Bowsee, a distance of about 28 miles, and the proposal has been sent up to Government through Messrs. Burn and Company. It is proposed to put down rails on the District Road Cess Committee's existing metalled road. The concession has not yet been obtained. A separate report has been submitted to Government. If this railway be continued to Dumka, and extended to Deoghur, it will open out a rich tract of country containing mining resources.

"The districts in this Division which do not enjoy the benefits of railway are Purneah and Maldah. Proposals are under consideration to open a railway from Dinagepore through the western portion of Maldah and south of Purneah to the banks of the Ganges opposite to Sahebgunge. This line would tap a fine country and afford a good route for labourers from the crowded districts of Behar to the tea estates of Eastern Bengal and Assam. The Collector of Purneah thinks that it would be as well for this line to go nearly straight to Purneah, and from thence down one of the ridges viâ Saefgunge and a few miles east of the Munsahi factory to the riverside. His object in taking this line through Purneah is that some day it will be possible to extend the same north-west over very easy ground to join the Durbhunga or Northern Bhagulpore line."

During the year nine fatal accidents occurred on the East Indian Railway in this Division, none of them being due to neglect or mismanagement on the part of Railway servants. There was one collision and six cases of obstruction on the lines. From the latter, however, no damage resulted.

27. In Purneah the roads are said to be very bad, while in the other districts the advantages of good roadways are in certain localities neutralized by want of bridges. The Commissioner enunciates a truism when he says that "a mere foot-path is as useful to the traveller as a broad metalled road if there are no bridges." It seems to the Lieutenant-Governor that there is much waste of power, and but little uniformity in the method of administration usually followed by Road Cess Committees in Bengal. The expenditure year after year of large sums of money on earthwork repairs is a very unremunerative process. Committees should aim at having some permanent improvements to show for their money; and therefore, after making each year a sufficient provision for the important matter of village communications, they should take up some main line of communication, if possible, in connection with the Railways in the district, and concentrate their energies and resources on that line till it is completed, merely allotting for the repairs of all other roads a bare sufficiency. A main line thus taken in hand should be bridged and metalled throughout, and thus by degrees permanent lines of road, practicable for all sorts of traffic throughout the year, would be established. The subsequent maintenance of these metalled roads would not be found a heavier burden than earthwork repairs, which, scattered by the winds almost as soon as completed, do more to impede traffic than to assist it, and are a constant drain on the resources of a district. The Lieutenant-Governor could not entertain the suggestion of amalgamating all the district funds in a division for one large work, for it would be contrary to the policy and intention of this Act. But clearly the hoarding of the road cess money in the Monghyr district is a worse feature than the application of the fund to small and unimportant roads in other districts. The inaction of the Monghyr Committee should be noticed by the Commissioner.

In the matter of planting trees along district roads, the Lieutenant-Governor thinks that more might have been done during the year. For many reasons tree-planting is much to be encouraged. Perhaps if contracts for the culture and protection of trees were made with the headmen or punchayets of the villages through which the roads pass, better results might be achieved. No real difficulty ought to be experienced in tree-planting, for in it the District Officers or Road Cess Committees have with them the religious and benevolent sentiments of the people.

28. Schools.—The following table shows that the numbers, both of schools and pupils, have risen considerably during the year:—

Class of Institution.		1880-81.		1881-82.
		Schools.	Pupils.	Schools.	Pupils.

	Female	22	329	29	396
	Total ...	7,195	80,524	7,757	89,403

The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to find that this increase has been secured side by side with a reduction in expenditure, the expenditure on education of all sorts during the year being Rs. 3,74,056 as compared with Rs. 3,84,999 in the preceding year.

The following figures give interesting information regarding the creed and nationality of the pupils for the last two years:—

		1880-81.	1881-82.
Europeans and Eurasians..	..	110	125
Native Christians ..	..	226	440

Total	..	80,524	89,403

The results of the University examinations were satisfactory, though apparently not so good as in the previous year; the Middle and Primary Scholarship examinations also gave good results. The general conduct of the inspecting staff is spoken well of, but a Bhagulpore Sub-Inspector was found guilty of appropriating Government money and punished. This case should form the subject of a special report. The Lieutenant-Governor notices with approval the following event in the educational history of the year, and will be ready to consider favourably an application for some moderate assistance to such a praiseworthy movement:—

"Before concluding this section of the report, it would not be out of place here to notice a successful endeavour made by some of the advanced Bengali residents of the town of Bhagulpore to establish a night school for the education of the children of the labouring class of people. It was started during the year in September with only two pupils on the roll, and in the course of ten months the numerical strength has risen to more than fifty. The classes from which the students are recruited are the following: Halwai, Kurmi, Dosadh, Gowala, Kumhar (potter), Kayasth, Carpenter, Dhanuk, Pasi, Brahmin, Barber, Bania, Goldsmith, Shoemaker, Mahomedan, &c. The school is at present maintained by private charity, mainly by contributions from a single gentleman. A managing committee has been appointed, and it is proposed to apply to the municipality for a grant. I propose to ask the sanction of Government to a small expenditure out of the grant for primary education in support of this school."

29. Dispensaries.—The withdrawal of Government aid from a few dispensaries has been followed by their closure, but other dispensaries seem to have prospered under the new order of things, which tends to foster independence and develope what is good in these useful institutions. The number of patients treated in the dispensaries in this Division rose during the year from 55,736 to 63,271, and the income (Rs. 28,329) more than balanced the expenditure (Rs. 26,344).

30. Committees.—The District and Branch Road Cess Committees are stated to have worked well, the non-official members having taken a great interest in the work. Meetings were sufficient for the disposal of business, though not quite so numerous as in the preceding year. The Education Committees are not so well spoken of. "Their powers having been curtailed, and their province of supervision having been diminished, they had really very little to do." This reproach will soon be removed, for under the new scheme of local self-government the sphere of usefulness of all Committees will be widely extended.

The Monghyr Municipal Committee continues to do good work, and the Bhagulpore Committee (which seems to have an excellent non-official Vice-Chairman) has considerably improved on the condition of things unfavourably noticed last year. The Lieutenant-Governor, however, thinks that good roads will perhaps be more appreciated by the great body of the tax-payers than even ice-machines. On the whole, the results of municipal government throughout the Division during the year have been satisfactory and encouraging.

31. Wards' Estates.—One new estate—Rasulpore in Purneah—was taken charge of during the year; and one old one—Pachgachia in Bhagulpore—was released. The rent demand from all the estates, including arrears, was over seven lakhs of rupees; the collections, however, were not quite five lakhs, which is not a very satisfactory result. The outstanding balance in the Chanchal Estate in Maldah seems especially large, while in the Monghyr estates the condition of things calls for closer attention from the Commissioner. The survey operations, begun some time ago in the Chanchal estates, have brought to light the existence of great inequalities in the assessment of rent rates. Efforts are being made to reduce matters to a more equal footing, the object of the survey being not the enhancement, but the equalization of rents.

32. Conduct of Zemindars.—The information given by the Commissioner under this head leaves much to be desired; but it appears that in Monghyr some important zemindars caused trouble to the district authorities by their disputes with their ryots; that in Bhagulpore, Monghyr, and Purneah the utter disorganization of Rajah Lilanund Singh's affairs was a constant source of difficulty to the Collectors of those districts, and that rent disputes also prevailed in the estates of other proprietors. In Maldah alone did amicable relations generally prevail. Rajah Harballab Narain Singh, Roy Narendro Narain Singh, Rai Thakurmun Singh, Ali Khan, Khan Bahadoor, of Sheikpoorah in Monghyr, and Baboo Taresh Chunder Pandey of Pakour are commended for the good management of their estates during the year.

33. Character of Officers.—The Commissioner's remarks under this head will be forwarded to the Appointment Department. Here it may be noted that of the Covenanted Officers, Mr. W. B. Oldham, Deputy Commissioner of the Sonthal Pergunnahs, is most highly spoken of, while among the Uncovenanted Officers, Baboo Saroda Prosad Chatterjea and Baboo Chundra Narain Gupta distinguished themselves most.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. P. MACDONNELL,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

REPORT ON THE STATE OF THE SALT MARKET FOR THE FIRST QUARTER OF 1882-83.

No. 716B, dated Calcutta, the 21st August 1882.

From—A. FORBES, Esq., Secretary to the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Revenue Department.

H. A. COCKERELL, Esq., C.S.I.

I AM directed to submit the following report on the state of the salt market for the first quarter of 1882-83, comprising the months of April, May, and June 1882.

2. The quantity of salt of every description cleared during the quarter under report amounted to 21,37,223 maunds 39 seers 9 chittacks, against 23,33,213 maunds 34 seers 2 chittacks in the previous quarter, and 21,59,504 maunds 4 seers 1½ chittacks in the corresponding quarter of the previous year; and the net amount of duty levied thereon was Rs. 39,59,524-12-6, against Rs. 56,41,850-5-9 in the previous quarter, and Rs. 58,17,616-11-7 in the corresponding quarter of the previous year.

3. The quantity of excise salt sold in the districts of Cuttack, Pooree, Balasore, and 24-Pergunnahs, during the quarter under review, from the stock of the different seasons' manufacture, and the quantity which remained in store at the close of the quarter, are shown in Table I:—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 88 formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction of the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

NOTE.

Barometric Pressure.—The pressures in column 2 of the above table for all stations below 500 feet are reduced from those given in column 3 of the table on the previous page, by adding the weight of a column of air of the temperatures given in column 18. For stations above 500 feet elevation the reduction is made by Captain Allan Cunningham's table, "Prof. papers on Indian Engineering, No. CXIII." The temperatures at the sea-level are taken from column 3 of the above table.

Temperature.—The temperatures in column 3 are reduced from those in column 18 on the preceding page, by adding 1° Fahrenheit for every 450 feet.

Wind Resultant.—The resultant wind direction and its comparative predominance are calculated from the whole number of wind observations recorded during the month. The relative predominance in the direction of the resultant is given as a percentage of the whole number of observations. The direction is computed in the usual way by Lambert's formula.

Cloud.—This column gives the average proportion of clouded sky, a cloudless sky being indicated by 0, and one completely overcast by 1 0.

The above, being all comparable, afford the data for consulting a meteorological chart for the month, which will shew the isobaric and isothermal lines and the resultant wind directions, which last may be represented by arrows of varying length, proportioned to the prevalence of the wind. To these may be added the rainfall from the previous tables.

Report of Fluctuation of Traffic on the Eastern Bengal Railway for the five weeks ending 24th June 1882.

Report on Goods Traffic for the five weeks ending 24th June 1882.

EASTERN BENGAL RAILWAY COMPANY, TRAFFIC SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE, SEALDAH TERMINUS.

No. W—32-123, dated Calcutta, the 9th August 1882.

From—W. INNES, ESQ., Traffic Superintendent, Eastern Bengal Railway Company,

To—The Agent, Eastern Bengal Railway Company.

I BEG to forward the usual comparative statement of traffic for the five weeks ending the 24th June last, from which it will be seen that the gross weight carried over the railway during that period was 11,68,038 maunds, being an increase of 3,07,611 maunds, or 36 per cent. over the figures for the corresponding period of 1881.

It will be noticed that all the staples recorded in the statement, with the exception of grain including rice, salt, and tea, contribute to this satisfactory result.

Increases.

Cotton in bundles	3,102	Mds.
Ditto in bales	215	„
Net increase	3,317	„

The increases recorded in the three preceding months still continue; the higher prices still being maintained consequent on a greater demand for export.

Gunny in bundles	4,414	Mds.
Ditto in bales	1,603	„
Net increase	6,020	„

The favourable increase recorded last month still continues owing to a great demand for export principally to Australia.

Jute in drums	1,21,155	Mds.
Do. in bales	8,757	„
Net increase	1,29,912	„

This large increase of 134 per cent. is due to the abundant crops of last season. There is still a considerable quantity coming down.

Piece-goods (European) ... 3,617 Mds.

The probability of the Suez Canal being closed consequent on the outbreak of war in Egypt had for a time stimulated the traffic in piece-goods.

Railway materials (foreign) ... 88,161 Mds.

This increase is due to materials forwarded for the Bengal Central Railway at present under construction.

Sugar ... 16,716 Mds.

There have been unusually heavy shipments of this staple to Bombay and coast ports, consequently larger quantities have been sent forward, principally from Kissengunge, where the production of this staple has greatly increased.

Tobacco ... 28,954 Mds.

This increase is due to a continuance of higher prices in the market consequent on a greater demand for export. The bulk of this traffic comes from the Northern Bengal State Railway.

Miscellaneous shows ... 1,39,671 Mds.

Which shows that the minor heads of unclassified traffic share to a large extent in the general improvement.

Decreases.

Grain, including rice ... 85,373 Mds.

The decrease in this staple has been fully explained in previous reports, and there is nothing more to add.

Salt ... 25,475 Mds.

The decrease in the import of this staple recorded last month still continues, hence the decrease over this railway.

Report on the Fluctuations in Traffic on the Northern Bengal State Railway for the month of July 1882.

GENERAL REMARKS.

THE net increase in traffic under all heads stands at 39,051 maunds, or 14·72 per cent. over the weight carried during July last year.

INCREASES.

Ale ... ... Mds. 544

The short despatches of Commissariat beer for some months past have resulted in a larger quantity being sent forward this month.

Ginger ... ... Mds. 170

This increase is not large, but, as comparison is made with rather a heavy month's traffic in this staple, is satisfactory.

Gunny-bags ... ... Mds. 13,454

The traffic under this head is keeping up well in spite of a weak market at the port. The fact that the manufactured article is being carried below the rate charged for the raw material is probably having a favourable influence.

Jute ... ... Mds. 9,545

Although an increase is shown under this head, the traffic has not been nearly as large as was expected from the increased area under cultivation this year, and the splendid crop all over this district. The increase in the rate over the Eastern Bengal Railway from one-third to two-third pie, which was brought into operation on the 3rd and remained in force until the 24th instant, no doubt had the effect of driving the traffic to the rivers.

Piece-goods ... ... Mds. 1,982

The long spell of fine weather has led to despatches being made for keeping the district Hâts supplied.

Railway material ... ... Mds. 8,943

29,752 maunds, out of the weight shewn, was locomotive coal on revenue account.

Sugar ... ... Mds. 247

The reasons which influenced the piece-goods traffic have also affected the sugar despatches.

Tea ... ... Mds. 7,307

The large increase registered this month and last will probably result in a falling off later on in the season.

All other goods ... ... Mds. 13,391

This increase does not quite cover the decrease under this head last month.

DECREASES.

Food-grain ... ... Mds. 4,740

Until a demand springs up from some source to clear the heavy stocks of rice now held in Calcutta, a falling off must be looked for.

Salt ... ... Mds. 8,605

The heavy despatches of salt last month probably accounts for the decrease noted.

Tobacco ... ... Mds. 2,287

The absence of demand for export, and little or no enquiry for local consumption, is the cause of this falling off.

RULES FOR THE FILLING UP OF VACANCIES IN THE CLERICAL ESTABLISHMENTS OF THE SECRETARIAT OFFICES OF THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA, AND THE DEPARTMENTS DIRECTLY ATTACHED TO THEM, BY COMPETITIVE EXAMINATION.

Nos $\frac{31}{1298-1308}$.

Extract from the proceedings of the Government of India, in the Home Department (Public),—under date Simla, the 31st August 1882.

Read—

Home Department Resolution Nos. $\frac{31}{1161-66}$, dated the 21st July 1880, on the subject of raising the standard of ability among clerks attached to the Secretariats connected with the Government of India.

RESOLUTION.

The Governor-General in Council has for some time past had under consideration the question of the best mode of filling up vacancies in the clerical establishments of the Secretariat offices of the Government of India, and securing a reasonably high standard of qualification among the assistants employed.

2. The recognized difficulty in all Government offices is to obtain men fit for the superior duties, such as those of drafting, prècis-writing, preparing statistical returns, and the like. The pay provided for the superior appointments is in itself sufficient to give adequate remuneration for the proper performance of duties of this class; but the complaint is general that the standard of work done is at present often very inferior. It has been too much the rule to promote men from the lower grades as a matter of course; and as no test of qualification is applied either on admission to those lower grades, or on advancement beyond them, promotion has come to depend at least as much on seniority and the absence of misconduct as upon any merit or positive fitness for superior duty.

3. The Governor-General in Council has decided that the first step towards reform must be to draw a marked line of distinction between the superior and inferior classes of appointments, and that for this purpose the Secretariat Clerical Service shall for the future be separated into an upper and a lower division,—the former comprising all appointments the pay of which is Rs. 200 and upwards, the latter all appointments (other than those of mere copyists) the pay of which is below that sum. No clerk will be entitled to promotion from the lower to the upper division as a matter of course, or otherwise than in accordance with the rules laid down in this Resolution.

4. As regards the mode of recruiting both upper and lower divisions, the Governor-General in Council has come to the conclusion that the only satisfactory principle to follow is that of free and open competition* modified as regards the upper division by conditions favourable to persons at the present time actually serving in the lower division. The plan of filling up vacancies in the Government offices by competitive examination has worked satisfactorily in the Home Civil Service, and in the few instances where it has been tried in this country. It does away at once with many abuses and difficulties, and seems peculiarly adapted to the circumstances of Indian offices, the responsible heads of which have necessarily no intimate acquaintance with the personal qualifications of candidates for admission, and are driven to rely upon the partial recommendations of subordinates or the certificates of irresponsible outsiders.

* Except in the case of the appointments of Registrars of offices, Superintendents of branches, or Head Assistants, for filling up which an absolute power of selection must remain with the head of the office concerned.

5. It has therefore been determined for the future to hold in Calcutta, and such other places as may be hereafter appointed for the purpose, an examination in January of each year for the purpose of selecting candidates for appointments in the Secretariat offices of the Government of India. These examinations will be under the management of the Board of Examiners, Fort William, assisted by paid Examiners, and acting in communication with the Secretary to the Government of India in the Home Department. The precise dates of the annual examination will be notified in the Gazette of India on or before the 30th November previous.

6. The subjects of examination will be the following, all of them being obligatory:—

A.—For Candidates for appointments in the Lower Division.

	Marks.
1. Arithmetic and Elementary Mathematics* ...	500
2. Geography	250
3. History (English and Indian)	500
4. Handwriting	500
5. Englishing Composition	500
6. Letter drafting and Prècis-writing	1,000

* i.e. Algebra up to binomial theorem; and Euclid, Books I—IV.

B.—For Candidates for appointments in the Upper Division.

1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6. The same subjects and marks as under A, but the standard required will be materially higher.
7. Any special subject of examination prescribed by any particular department	1,000

No candidate will be allowed any marks in respect of any subject of examination unless he shall be considered by the Examiners to shew a competent knowledge of or a real proficiency in such subject. No candidate will be considered qualified who does not obtain at least one-third marks in subjects 4, 5, and 6; and no candidate will be eligible for the Financial Department who does not also obtain at least one-third marks in Arithmetic and Elementary Mathematics.

7. Every candidate for an appointment in the lower division must send a written application for permission to appear at the examination to the Secretary to the Board of Examiners between the 15th and 31st days of December (inclusive). The application should be in the form given on the margin, and be accompanied by a fee of Rs. 10, one-half of which will be returned to unsuccessful candidates.

[FORM.]

To the Secretary to the Board of Examiners,
Fort William.

SIR,

I request permission to present myself at the ensuing examination of candidates for appointments in the lower division of Government clerkships. The fee of Rs. 10 is forwarded herewith.

I am, &c.

With the application must also be forwarded—

1. Evidence that the candidate is not less than 19 and not more than 24 years of age.

2. A certificate from a Government Medical Officer of or above the rank of Assistant Surgeon that the candidate is in good health and of sound constitution.

3. A certificate that the candidate is of good moral character from the head of the institution in which he has last been educated, or (when a year or more has elapsed since his education terminated) from some respectable householder, to whom he is well known in private life, and who is himself personally known to the head of some Government office,—this last fact being certified by the countersignature of the officer in question.

8. Every candidate for an appointment in the upper division must in the same way send a written application for permission to appear at the examination to the Secretary to the Board of Examiners between the dates above specified. The application should be in the form given on the margin, and be accompanied by a fee of Rs. 20, half of which will be returned to unsuccessful candidates. Candidates must forward with the application the evidence of age and certificates of health and moral character prescribed in paragraph 7 above.

[FORM.]

To the Secretary to the Board of Examiners, Fort William.

SIR,

I request permission to present myself at the ensuing examination of candidates for appointments in the upper division of Government clerkships

The fee of Rs. 20 is forwarded herewith.

I am, &c.

9. The number of candidates to be selected by the Examiners for each division will be notified in the Gazette of India by the Home Department on or before the 30th November. This number will be determined, in communication with the heads of the offices concerned with reference to the number of vacancies existing or estimated as likely to occur within the course of the following year, plus a margin of 10 per cent. for casualties. In each year after the first the number of appointments to be notified will be reduced by the number of selected candidates remaining on the list from former years who may not yet have received appointments.

10. Every third vacancy occurring during any year in the upper division of an office may be filled up by the head of the office if he think fit, in accordance with the results of a departmental examination of clerks already in the lower division of the same office. In all such examinations subjects 4, 5, and 6, in paragraph 6 above, shall be compulsory. Vacancies which it is intended to fill up under this paragraph will not be reported as vacancies for the purposes of paragraph 9.

11. As soon as practicable after the open competitive examinations, the Board of Examiners will prepare a list of selected candidates in each division in the order of merit, up to the number notified under paragraph 9, if so many are found qualified; and this list will be circulated to the heads of the offices concerned. Candidates will be given their choice of departments as far as possible, and the Board of Examiners will intimate such choice to the head of each office, who will offer the vacant appointments at his disposal to the candidates electing his office in the order in which they stand on the list, and thereafter to the other candidates in the same order, through the Secretary to the Board of Examiners. Priority of selection as between the heads of different offices will be regulated by such orders as the Governor-General in Council may from time to time make in this behalf. (In the case of the Foreign Office, the Secretary shall be at liberty to select any qualified candidate on the list.) It will be open to a selected candidate to decline any particular appointment offered him, and his name will not on that account be removed from the list; but no candidate's name shall remain on the list for either division after he has attained the age of 25 years, or for more than two years after the date of his being entered as a selected candidate.

12. The foregoing rules will govern the case of candidates who are not now serving in the offices to which this Resolution applies. Except as provided in paragraph 10, there will in future be no promotion from the lower to the upper division. But any clerks who are at the date of the issue of this Resolution serving in the lower division may present themselves at any one examination for vacancies in the upper division that may be held in 1883 or 1884; and if they succeed in then obtaining marks indicating a competent knowledge of subjects 1, 2, and 3 (as provided in paragraph 6), and one-third marks in subjects 4, 5, and 6, the Board of Examiners will place their names, in order of merit, on the list of selected candidates drawn up under paragraph 11, above the names of all other competitors, irrespective of the fact that these last may have obtained higher marks in the examination. If a candidate whose name has been placed on the list under the provisions of this paragraph declines the appointment offered him, his name will be removed from the list, and he must look for promotion only under paragraph 10. The concession made above in favour of clerks now in the lower division will sufficiently provide for the case of clerks who entered the inferior grades of the service in past years with the expectation of working their way up to higher appointments. No fees will be charged to candidates presenting themselves under this paragraph, but no such candidate will be admitted to the examination who does not at least 15 days before the date of examination submit to the Board of Examiners a certificate from the head of his office declaring that his conduct while serving in the lower division has been satisfactory.

13. All selected candidates receiving appointments will be on probation for twelve months; and if at the close of that period their work has not been found to give satisfaction, they will receive their discharge, and will have no claim to gratuity or compensation on that account. This rule will not apply to clerks selected for the upper division who were previously permanent clerks in the lower division

14. Candidates accepting appointments must understand that their future promotion in their office within the division to which they belong will depend entirely upon their work and merits. No clerk will have any claim as of right to rise beyond the grade upon which he may have been brought in, though in ordinary course clerks who satisfy the head of their office will receive promotion to vacancies in the division as they occur, new entrants being, as a rule, though not as a matter of course, brought in on the lower grades.

15. Transfers from the upper division of one Government office to that of another, or from the lower division of one office to that of another, may be arranged by the heads of the offices concerned; but no transfer by arrangement from the lower division of one office to the upper division of another can be allowed in future.

16. These orders will apply to the Secretariat offices of the Government of India and departments directly attached to them, such as the Sanitary Commissioner with the Government of India, the Surgeon-General with the Government of India, the Inspector-General of Forests, the Accountant-General, Public Works Department, the Director-General of Railways, and the like.

17. On the occurrence of any vacancy hereafter in any office to which this Resolution applies, when no candidate qualified under these rules is available to fill such vacancy, temporary arrangements may be made by the head of the office to carry on the work until the results of the next examination are known.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the above Resolution be forwarded for information and guidance to all the departments of the Government of India and to the heads of offices under the Home Department, and that the Resolution be published in the Supplement to the Gazette of India.

RESOLUTION.—It is provided by Act 44 Vic., Cap. 12, Section 47, that "any stamp duties of one penny, which may be legally denoted by adhesive stamps not appropriated by any word or words on the face of them to any particular description of instrument, may be denoted by adhesive penny postage stamps."

2. Under this provision penny postage stamps are in the United Kingdom allowed to be used to denote stamp duties of one penny on any of the instruments named in the margin; but several penny postage stamps cannot be used to denote the duty on an instrument liable to a higher rate of duty than one penny. Nor can two half-penny postage stamps be used to denote the duty of one penny. The Governor-General in Council has ascertained that the system has caused no inconvenience, but that on the contrary it has worked well, while the additional facilities afforded to the public have been much appreciated. It is also expected that the system will result in an increase of revenue.

Drafts, receipts, protests, letters of renunciation, policies (other than life policies), proxies, contract notes, delivery orders, certificates of births, deaths, and marriages.

3. In this country a stamp duty of one anna is levied on most of the instruments enumerated above and on a few others, and there can be little doubt that the adoption of a similar system in India would be a very great convenience to the public in the transaction of business, particularly in the matter of receipts. Postage stamps can be obtained everywhere, and many people always keep a supply of them; while receipt stamps can only be procured from stamp vendors, and comparatively few people keep a stock of them. The adoption of the system referred to would, therefore, afford facilities to the public in denoting the stamp duty, and by rendering easier the observance of the law would doubtless increase the revenue.

4. The several Local Governments have been consulted as to the expediency of adopting the system in India, and it appears that all of them approve generally of the proposal. The only objections raised are—

1*stly*, that it would be difficult to distinguish between postal earnings and the revenue from receipt and other stamps,—a distinction which it is of importance to preserve, both because of the essential difference in the nature of these receipts and because at present stamp revenue is provincial, while postal receipts are imperial;

2*ndly*, that the unified stamp, after being employed for stamping receipts, would be liable to be fraudulently re-used in payment of postage.

The first objection can easily be removed. The amount of the revenue at present derived from one-anna revenue stamps can be readily ascertained, and, with such slight additions as may be requisite in view of the probable normal growth of the revenue from this source, might form the basis for adjustments between Imperial (Postal) and Provincial (Stamp) Revenues.

But the second objection seems to be of a more formidable nature. Against the possible re-use of the stamps after removal of the defacement it would be necessary to provide by printing the unified stamps in doubly fugitive ink, so that any attempt to remove the defacement would involve the destruction of the imprint. This precaution is considered absolutely necessary for the safety of the revenue in the United Kingdom, and would be at least equally necessary in India, while the extra cost will be but small. If this precaution were adopted, there would be little danger of a stamp which had been once used for payment of postage on a letter being employed a second time as a stamp under the Stamp Act, for the Postal Department defaces the stamp in such a manner as to render its fraudulent re-use practically impossible. The danger consists in the possibility of stamps which have once been used in payment of stamp duties being used a second time as postage-stamps,—a danger which arises out of the existing practice which has been encouraged by the Postal Department, under which senders of letters deface the stamps which they put upon their letters, in order to prevent the stamps being removed either before the letters are posted or while in transit through the Post Office.

5. Under Section 11 of the Indian Stamp Act, 1879, a person affixing any adhesive stamp to any instrument is obliged to cancel it, "so that it cannot be used again." He is not obliged to write his name on the stamp, as is the case under the English law. It would be inexpedient to alter the Indian law in such a manner as to bring it into conformity with the English law, as there must be a very large number of persons in India who use the one-anna revenue stamps and who are unable to write. Under these circumstances it is obvious that if a letter were posted the stamp on which had been defaced, it would be impossible for the departmental officers to know whether the stamp in question was one which had been used as a stamp under the Stamp Act, or whether the defacement was merely due to the very general practice already alluded to. It is clear, therefore, that if the reform is to be introduced, the only course open is to prohibit the practice of defacing the postage stamps affixed to letters. By this arrangement any letter received by the Post Office to which a defaced stamp was affixed would be regarded as an unpaid letter.

6. The proposal to adopt the unified stamp, therefore, resolves itself into the question on which side the balance of convenience to the public will lie. On this point the public alone can decide.

7. Before, therefore, taking any final steps to introduce the reform, His Excellency in Council considers it desirable to ascertain the opinion of the European and Native community as to whether it would be more generally acceptable that the public should have the facility afforded by the use of postage stamps instead of the one-anna revenue stamps, and at the same time incur whatever risks the individual runs in the way of fraud by leaving the stamps attached to letters without any defacement, or whether the public regard the present practice of defacing postage stamps as so essential to their own interests as to make them willing to forego the advantages afforded by using postage stamps in the place of a revenue stamp in order that they may retain it.

8. Should public opinion be in favour of the proposed change, it would probably be necessary to modify the scheme in one particular. It has been already stated that in the United Kingdom the penny postage stamp only is admissible to denote the duty. Two half-penny stamps cannot be used for the purpose. To the course adopted in the United Kingdom there could be no reasonable objection. The penny postage stamp denotes the lowest postage payable for a single letter, and is consequently much more used than any other denomination of postage labels. The half-penny stamp is comparatively little used, and it was probably considered that it was not worth while to print it in the doubly fugitive ink.

9. In this country the case is different. The half-anna postage stamp represents the minimum postage rate for all purposes, and in this respect answers to the penny stamp in England. As regards the convenience of the public, therefore, it is of more importance that the used of the half-anna stamp should be permitted for denoting stamp duty than that the one-anna stamp should be capable of being so used. It will, therefore, probably be necessary if the reform is introduced to allow of the use of either a single one-anna or two half-anna stamps to denote the one-anna stamp duty. This can be effected by the issue of a Notification under Section 9 of the Indian Stamp Act, 1879.

ORDERED that the foregoing Resolution be published in the Gazette of India, and that copies be communicated to the Chambers of Commerce, Bengal, Bombay, Madras, and Rangoon.

ORDERED also that copies of the Resolution be forwarded to the several Local Governments and Administrations for communication to other public bodies ar associations, and that a copy be sent to the Director-General of the Post Office of India.

RESOLUTION.—In December 1881 Babu Amrita Lal Roy offered to supply printing ink made by him for use in Government Printing Offices, and was requested to send samples of the ink to the Governments of Bengal, Bombay, and Madras, and to the Superintendent of Government Printing, for examination.

2. From the reports which have been received from the Local Governments, and from the Superintendent of Government Printing on the quality of the ink, it appears that, although it is not suited for what is known as "superior book-work," it is sufficiently good for all ordinary purposes and for form printing and at the same time the price is lower than that of the ink procured from England for these purposes.

3. Accordingly, in furtherance of the policy of encouraging Indian industries, the Governor-General in Council directs that the ink required in all Government Presses for the purpose of form printing or for other ordinary printing work shall be procured from Babu Amrita Lal Roy, or from any other local manufacturer, provided that ink of suitable quality is furnished and that the cost is not higher than that of imported ink of similar quality; and the Governor-General in Council also directs that in future no indent for printing ink of a superior quality shall be forwarded to the Secretary of State without first ascertaining that ink of a quality suitable for the work cannot be procured from local manufacturers.

ORDERED that the foregoing Resolution be communicated to all Local Governments and Administrations, and to the Superintendent of Government Printing (India), Calcutta, for information and guidance.

Ordered also that a copy of the Resolution be forwarded to Babu Amrita Lal Roy, and that it be published in the Gazette of India.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86 formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III. IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction of the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

Report of Fluctuation of Traffic on the Tirhoot State Railway for the month of July 1882.

The total quantity of goods carried during the month of July 1882 aggregated maunds 3,30,612, as compared with maunds 2,10,574 carried during the corresponding period of 1881, and maunds 3,30,889 carried during the previous month, showing an increase of maunds 1,20,038 in the one case, and a decrease of maunds 26,277 in the other.

Of the several increases and decreases, the following are the most prominent ones and seem to be deserving of separate explanations :—

INCREASES.

Coal ... ... Mds. 14,993

This has been imported by Messrs. Burn & Co. and other contractors for brick-burning purposes.

Lime and kunkur ... ... Mds. 3,928

This has been exported from Somastipur for use of the Civil Buildings and Road-cess Department at Durbhanga.

Piece-goods (English) ... ... Mds. 4,888

Due to larger requirements in the local markets.

Railway materials ... ... Mds. 25,582

This has been explained in the previous reports.

Salt ... ... Mds. 3,107

This appears to be chiefly due to the introduction of monsoon rates for seeds and food-grains which are being sent in large quantities down to Calcutta. The merchants instead of returning the bags empty fill them in with salt and send them here. The increase is due also to the reduction in the duty of this staple of traffic.

Saltpetre ... ... Mds. 5,797

The traffic in this commodity is steadily improving and appears due to the high price at which it is selling in the Calcutta market.

Seeds, oil .. .. Mds. 63,193

Due to the Calcutta market being brisk and to the reduction made on the East Indian Railway in consequence of the introduction of monsoon rates.

Sugar ... ... Mds. 3,428

Owing to a new company having started manufacture in the district of Durbhanga.

Sundries ... ... Mds. 6,076

This cannot be well explained, as it is composed of miscellaneous articles.

Tobacco ... ... Mds. 10,252

The same remarks as in the last report apply to this.

DECREASES.

Food-grains ... ... Mds. 15,347

Owing to the low market.

Timber ... ... Mds. 7,120

There is a very large stock of timber at the Gunduck siding station belonging to Messrs H. Dear & Co It is hoped that this timber will be shortly exported to Patna and elsewhere and increase the traffic. Insufficiency of rolling stock has been the cause of the small export.

A. W. U. POPE, for Traffic Superintendent.

Report of Fluctuation of Traffic on the Patna-Gya State Railway for the month of July 1882.

The total quantity of goods carried during the month of July 1882 aggregated maunds 1,08,838 as compared with maunds 91,562 carried during the corresponding period of 1881, and maunds 1,10,069 during the previous month, showing an increase of maunds 17,276 in the one case, and a decrease of maunds 31,231 in the other

Of the several increases and decreases, the following are the most prominent ones and worthy of separate explanations :—

Increases.

Food-grains ... ... Mds. 3,506

Due to there being no rain during the last week, demands in the markets throughout the Patna and other districts increased.

Seeds, oil ... ... Mds. 3,840

Owing to the Calcutta market being brisk and to the reduction in rates on the East Indian Railway.

Stones, stone-ballast, and wares ... ... „ 14,084

A very large quantity of this staple has been taken by Messrs. Jadoo Roy & Co. for the Patna Municipality, all of which will be sent by rail.

Sundries ... ... Mds. 3,077

This cannot well be explained, as it is formed of miscellaneous articles.

Tobacco ... ... „ 2,295

This is a nominal increase. A large stock is still waiting for higher prices.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE SHIPPING OFFICES AT CALCUTTA AND THE OUTPORTS DURING THE YEAR 1881-82.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.—MARINE.

Calcutta, the 7th September 1882.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

A letter No. 585B, dated the 7th July 1882, from the Secretary to the Board of Revenue, submitting the annual report of the Board on the operations of the Shipping Offices at Calcutta and the outports during the year 1881-82.

An important change took place during the year in respect of the office of the Shipping Master, Calcutta. That office, which had hitherto been filled by the Collector of Customs, was transferred to the Port Officer in accordance with the recommendation of a Committee appointed to consider the question of the amalgamation of the duties of the Port Officer with those of the Port Commissioners. As Lieutenant Stiffe assumed charge from Mr. Grimley on the 1st February, the full effects of the change had not become perceptible before the close of the year; and the subject will therefore be more conveniently considered when the operations of the department for the current year are being reviewed. It may, however, be noted here that a considerable saving of public money has been effected by the transfer, the cost of the amalgamated office establishments having been reduced below Rs. 1,000 a month.

2. There was during the year a large increase in the number of ships visiting the port. This increase had its effect on the receipts and disbursements of the Shipping Office, both of which exceeded those of the previous year, thus—

	Number of ships visiting the port.	Receipts.			Disbursements.
		Rs.	A.	P.	Rs	A.	P.
1880-81 ...	1,999	22,825	14	4	18,896	11	1
1881-82 ...	2,132	25,459	4	8	20,171	5	5

The increase in receipts, which occurs chiefly under the head of "Shipping and discharging fees," is attributed to the larger number of vessels visiting the port, and partly to the fact that the Deputy Shipping Master now demands security against distress from sailors discharged by consent only in cases in which such security seems to be required, instead, as formerly, of insisting upon its deposit in all cases. The result of this change is said to have been satisfactory both to the seamen, who, with the view of bettering their condition, take discharges more willingly, when they have not to deposit any portion of their wages, and to the Government which receives a fee on each discharge. A slight increase under the head of fines and forfeitures is accounted for by the more extensive employment of lascars, whose fines are realized by the Shipping Office, as substitutes for English sailors whose cases are generally disposed of by the Board of Trade. There has been an increase in disbursements under the head of establishment charges, due to causes unconnected with the trade of the port.

3. Some confusion had arisen in the accounts of the trust funds held by the Shipping Master, and incorrect balances appear to have been brought down under the different heads from year to year, though the total balance was correct The figures have now been as far as possible corrected, and the Lieutenant-Governor approves the Board's proposal to verify these accounts in future by comparison with the Accountant-General's books. It speaks well for the current work of the office that the whole of the receipts on account of the estates of deceased seamen, and all family remittances, were remitted to the Board of Trade during the year, and that 99·87 per cent. of the amount held in deposit for British seamen was also disbursed

4. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets to find that the present arrangements for ascertaining the true names and next-of-kin of native seamen are not altogether satisfactory. The reluctance of lascars to give any particulars concerning themselves is said to be due to an anxiety "to avoid recognition and arrest, as the crew actually shipped in the Shipping Office or before the Shipping Master seldom proceed to sea in the vessel; lascars take their advances and then arrange for substitutes to go in their places, and with a new crew this is seldom found out." "This could be stopped," the Port Officer adds, "by withholding the advance till the last day of sailing and then stopping all leave, but on these terms these crews would not ship." The difficulty is one which, as the law stands, the Government is unable to remedy without the active co operation of ship-owners. Unless ship-owners enter the names and addresses of lascars' heirs on the ship's agreement, it is impossible for Government to trace them after the lascars' death. The firms noted on the margin have in this way co-operated with the Government, and to them Mr. Rivers Thompson's acknowledgments are due. The question, however, forms part of the larger one regarding the system on which native crews are now recruited. That question is before the Government on a representation made by the Chamber of Commerce, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that it may be found possible to devise some satisfactory remedy for a state of things which sorely needs amendment The Board report that monthly casualty returns of native seamen are not received from the Howrah, Mayo, and Medical College Hospitals. The Lieutenant-Governor desires that the Surgeon-General will enquire into the reason for this omission, and submit a report to Government on the subject.

5. The numbers both of seamen shipped and discharged through the Shipping Office show an increase as compared with the previous year, being 15,863 and 14,678 as against 14,708 and 13,120 respectively. The percentages of Native, British, and Arab seamen shipped for the last three years are shown below :—

	Natives.	British.	Arabs.
1879-80	67·1	15·79	4·64
1880-81	70·9	14 4	4·05
1881-82	72·76	14·25	2·33

These figures support the deduction drawn by the Board on more than one occasion from the decrease in the number of discharge certificates purchased—namely that lascars were being more largely employed as substitutes for British sailors.

6. Desertions from British ships have been fewer, being 191 against 203 in the previous year, giving a ratio of 2 per mille of entries. The result is attributed to the increased facilities now given for discharge. Masters and Agents of ships have been informed that it lies within their power to get evidence recorded before the departure of ships which may be used in the event of the deserter's subsequent arrest, but they have failed to take advantage of the provisions of the law in this respect. The remedy for desertions is to a large extent in the hands of Masters and Agents themselves.

7. Among the crews of 246 vessels manned by Europeans, 27 cases of illness were discovered. Twenty-two cases of scurvy were detected on board twelve vessels; but there is reason to believe that in these cases the disease was contracted before the seamen embarked. In the case of one vessel only was any complaint made regarding provisions, and that complaint proved on examination to be groundless. In two cases enquiries were held into the alleged insufficient supply of fresh provisions and antiscorbutics to native crews, and in both cases the complaint was justified. In one case, however, that of the Bayard, the master was not to blame, as the voyage had been considerably longer than there had been any reason to anticipate In the other case, that of the Plassey, the conduct of the master in not entering cases of sickness in his log has been brought to the notice of the Board of Trade. Most of this vessel's crew suffered from scurvy during the outward voyage, but the fact was attributed rather to the inferior quality of the antiscorbutics supplied than to insufficient quantity. Measures have been taken to secure the provision on board of antiscorbutics of good quality. It has been found that lime-juice deteriorates by age, and orders have been passed requiring in future the entry of the date of examination on each bottle of lime-juice issued, and the destruction of all lime-juice issued at Calcutta, if brought back to this port. A non-alcoholic preparation of lime-juice for native seamen is now being tested by Government.

8. A considerable falling off was observed in the amount for which seamen's money-orders were granted during the year under review. This is said to be due to increased resort to banks for the purposes of remittance, the Government rate of exchange having occasionally been less favourable than that obtained in the open market.

9. One bad case of desertion of a crew at Diamond Harbour by the master of a vessel was reported. The master prosecuted the men at Diamond Harbour for insubordination, and while they were under remand, left the port with their wages and clothing. The men were acquitted, but arrived at Calcutta in a destitute condition. They were relieved by the Shipping Master at the expense of the owners of the vessel and of the master from whom recoveries were effected through the Superintendent of Mercantile Marine, Madras. It is not stated whether this case was reported to the Board of Trade, as the conduct of the master seems to have deserved. A report on the case of the Iskandar Shah has been already submitted to the Government of India. The point at issue is the legality of the fine inflicted by the Shipping Master on the master of the vessel for discharging his crew before the Turkish Consul at Jedda.

10. The receipts of the Shipping Office at Chittagong (Rs. 726-14) were nearly double those of the preceding year, the increase being marked under all three heads of shipping fees, discharging fees, and sale of forms. The charges of the office are not given, as they are met from the Customs revenue. The receipts on account of the deposit of wages of British seamen amounted to Rs. 9,935 against Rs 3,234 in the previous year, and those on account of the wages of deceased British seamen to Rs. 426 against Rs. 48. Deposit money on account of wages of discharged native seamen amounted to Rs. 4,336. Nothing was shown under this head in the previous year. The whole of the deposits of wages of British and Native seamen, except Rs. 95, were either remitted to the Shipping Master, Calcutta, on account of seamen looking for further employment, or disbursed to the men themselves. The non-disbursement of the Rs. 95 is satisfactorily explained. Three hundred and thirty-seven seamen were shipped at Chittagong against 213 in the previous year. Of these, 261 were lascars, 47 British, and the remainder belonged to thirteen other nationalities. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that attention has been given to the remarks made by Government last year with regard to visiting ships. Sixty-seven vessels were visited by the Shipping Master during the year. The health of the crews was generally speaking satisfactory. The transactions at the Orissa ports do not call for any special notice.

11. The duties of the Department both in Calcutta and Chittagong have been efficiently discharged.

RESOLUTION ON THE ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE PORT COMMISSIONERS FOR THE YEAR 1881-82.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT,—MARINE—CALCUTTA PORT TRUST.

Calcutta, the 12th September 1882.

READ—

The Administration Report of the Commissioners for making improvements in the Port of Calcutta for the year 1881-82.

The report, which has reached the Lieutenant-Governor more than a month after the prescribed date, commences as usual with a statement of the actual financial condition of the Port Trust. The anticipations expressed in the Lieutenant-Governor's Resolution on the report for the year 1880-81, that Act I (B.C.) of 1881 would remove the objections which had been entertained by capitalists to lending money to the Commissioners have been fully realized, and the Commissioners found no difficulty in raising a loan of ten lakhs of rupees at the commencement of the year under review. Against the addition thus made to the liabilities of the Port Trust is to be set a reduction of Rs. 90,734 in the consolidated debt owing to Government. The total amounts of debt at the commencement and close of the year were as follow:—

	31st March 1881.		31st March 1882.
	Rs.		Rs.
Consolidated debt due to Government (repayable)	52,53,564		51,62,830

Less amount set aside for Sinking Fund.	.....	—10,000	9,90,000
	70,18,564		79,17,830

2. The property owned by the Port Commissioners at the close of the year, estimated as usual with reference to the amount actually expended on works and in the formation of reserve funds, but exclusive of the value of the foreshore and Strand Bank lands made over to the Trust by Government, is valued at Rs. 1,34,33,606, thus:—

	Rs.
Jetties and appliances for sea going vessels	51,34,974
Inland Vessels' Wharves, Landing-stages, Tramway, &c., &c.	55,33,947
Mooring, Anchor vessels, Harbour Master's boats and steamers	20,59,308
Investment for Jetty Reserve Fund	89,933
Ditto Insurance Fund	41,094
Ditto Port Insurance Fund	3,64,250
Ditto Depreciation Fund	1,99,995
Ditto Debenture Loan Sinking Fund ...	10,105
Total ...	1,34,33,606

The value of the Trust property at the close of the year 1880-81 having been Rs. 1,27,36,752, the total increase amounts to Rs. 6,86,854.

The above expenditure has been met from the following sources :—

	Rs.	Rs.
By loan from Government (repayable)	60,25,100
Ditto less unexpended balance	38,704
		59,86,396

Less amount written off on account of Press-house being burnt down	1,41,000
		45,03,182
Total		1,34,33,606

3. Of a total expenditure of Rs. 8,77,591 on new works, Rs. 4,10,232 or nearly one-half was incurred for the purchase of the site of the East Indian Railway Company's premises at Armenian Ghât. Of the remainder, Rs. 77,956 were spent on the Jetties, mainly in the extension of the embankment and the removal of sheds Nos. 2 and 3 to the jetty head; Rs. 37,075 on the Inland Vessels' Wharves, the principal item being the construction, at a cost of Rs. 21,609, of a new bathing ghât at Mullick's Ghât; Rs. 40,983 on the Tramway, chiefly in the purchase of new rolling-stock; Rs. 1,06,866 on the Howrah fore shore road, and Rs. 86,190 on the extension of the Port moorings. Miscellaneous expenditure, including the cost of a new anchor vessel, the renewal and repairs of hopper barges, and the construction of a new cargo shed at Armenian Ghât and of a house at Hastings for the Harbour Master, amounted to Rs. 1,18,289. With the exception of the removal of Nos. 3 and 4 import sheds to the jetty heads, whereby an increase of two has been effected in the number of sheds available to the public into which cargo can be delivered without trollies directly from the ships, no important improvements in the port were completed during the year. The following works, however, were taken in hand :—An extension of the jetty embankment from the end of No. 5 jetty to the north end of No. 6 jetty, a distance of 483 lineal feet; the construction of the first block of a row of warehouses at No. 1 jetty; the enclosure of the open cargo shed at No. 8 jetty; and the construction of a shed at Armenian Ghât, of jetties on Temple's wharf and of Tramway warehouses. Additional engines and boilers were ordered from England for the Hydraulic Crane pumping-house. The riverside Press-house, which was destroyed by fire during the year, has been partially reconstructed. The progress made on the Howrah foreshore road has been slow, and it was found necessary at last to annul the agreement made with the original contractors and to put the work into other hands.

4. The net revenue from the jetties amounted to Rs. 2,20,186 or Rs. 32,793 less than that realized in the previous year. The falling off was entirely due to increased expenditure. The total receipts amounted to Rs. 7,68,047, (of which Rs. 6,68,529 or 87·04 per cent. were realized from imports) against Rs. 7,24,900 in 1880-81, showing an increase of gross income amounting to Rs. 43,147. Of this increase the proportion contributed by import and export trade were about $\frac{1}{4}$th and $\frac{3}{4}$ths respectively. The receipts from imports would have been considerably greater, but for a reduction in the charges made for landing piece-goods, twist, iron and other commodities. The expenditure which had been Rs. 4,71,921 in 1880-81, rose to Rs. 5,47,861 in the year under review. More than half of the excess, however, is explained as being "due to the contribution made from jetty revenue towards the cost of maintenance of the River Survey, Lighting and Buoy Departments to make good the loss of revenue which this part of the port expenditure sustained by the reduction made in the year in the cost of pilotage and port dues." The remainder of the increase is due to the enhanced cost of establishment, to higher working expenses, and to renewals and repairs consequent on the increase of work at the jetties. The proportion of expenditure to gross income for the last three years has been—1879-80, 69·8 per cent.; 1880-81, 65·1 per cent.; 1881-82, 71·3 per cent. The jetties were used by 212 vessels, a number 19 in excess of that for 1880-81, and only 20 short of the large number which used the jetties in the year of the Madras famine. But while in 1877-78 the gross tonnage of the vessels accommodated at the jetties amounted to 355,634 tons, in the year under review it reached 361,636 tons, the average burthen of each vessel being in the former year 1,533, and in the latter 1,706 tons. Notwithstanding this increase, the work has been done with greater despatch than in previous years, and for the first time since 1875-76, when 156 vessels only were accommodated, the average detention of each vessel has been under 10 days. The beneficial results of the shorter detention to the general public is seen in the fact that the average amount paid for the use of the jetties was only Rs. 3,552 for each ship against Rs. 3,700 in 1880-81. The Lieutenant-Governor hopes that further substantial reductions will be found practicable; and that improved facilities for loading and unloading vessels may in some measure compensate for the want of the larger docking accommodation which other ports afford.

The floating 30-ton crane paid its way satisfactorily during the year, its earnings being Rs. 20,465 and the cost of its maintenance Rs. 14,787. It is believed that the crane is of considerable indirect benefit to the port, as but for it, the Commissioners are informed, ships would either refuse to bring out the heavy pieces of machinery now carried, or would charge greatly enhanced rates of freight for doing so.

5. The receipts and expenditure connected with the Inland Wharves both show a considerable increase during the year under review as compared with the previous year, in which the accounts of the Tramway were for the first time eliminated from the general wharf account, thus:—

	1880-81.	1881-82.
	Rs.	Rs.
Receipts	3,76,444	3,81,937
Expenditure	1,92,091	2,23,930
Excess of income over expenditure ...	1,84,353	1,58,007

The excess of expenditure in the year under review is accounted for by a contribution of Rs. 38,507 from this source towards the expenses of the River Survey, Lighting and Buoy Departments. Exclusive of this item, the receipts would have exceeded the expenditure by Rs. 1,96,514. The total amount realized from tolls on goods passing over the wharves was Rs. 3,72,993 against Rs. 3,70,568 in the previous year.

6. The whole of the available land on the Strand Bank was occupied throughout the year, and the receipts from this source were in consequence slightly in excess of those for previous years. Against the increase, however, which amounted to Rs. 5,501, an item of Rs. 25,000 appears on the expenditure side of the account, representing half the contribution made by the Port Commissioners towards the cost of the bridge over the East Indian Railway at Howrah. Leaving this sum out of account, the expenditure on the Strand Bank lands amounted to Rs. 86,559, showing an improvement of Rs. 2,259 as compared with the previous year. The net surplus revenue from these lands was Rs. 45,913. The Press-house belonging to the Commisioners, situated to the north of the Mayo Hospital, was destroyed by fire in February, but is now being rebuilt. It was insured for its full value and the whole amount has been recovered.

7. The receipts from the Harbour Master's Department during the year show a considerable falling off as compared with those of 1880-81, and the net result, notwithstanding that the expenditure was less in the former year than the latter, was a decrease of revenue amounting to Rs. 8,726. The figures for the past ten years are given below:—

	Income.	Expenditure.	Profit.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1872-73	5,43,020	3,95,168	1,47,852
1873-74	4,26,974	3,84,858	42,116
1874-75	4,25,390	4,19,923	5,467
1875-76	4,30,551	4,24,931	5,620
1876-77	4,69,290	4,23 566	45,724
1877-78	6,10,171	4,28,909	1,81,262
1878-79	5,80,184	3,98,106	1,82,078
1879-80	5,61,299	3,92,353	1,68,946
1880-81	4,93,644	4,63,514	30,130
1881-82	4,81,872	4,61,468	20,404

The decline in income from this source was due mainly to the increased demand for tonnage which caused ships to shorten their stay in the port as far as possible, so that "with a larger number of vessels entering and leaving, there were fewer vessels at any one time in harbour." This increased activity, which is in itself a cause for satisfaction, was not entirely a pecuniary loss to the port, as a part of the cost was met by larger receipts on account of extra work done in the department. The principal heads under which increased expenditure was incurred were salaries and repairs. The increase in salaries was due partly to a small increase to the salaries of the Assistant Harbour Masters, but chiefly to increased fees earned by officers of the department. The repairs required for the steam-launch Vectis amounted to Rs. 7,742, which accounted for almost the whole of the additional expenditure under this head. The charge on account of the depreciation fund, Rs. 55,110, was less by Rs. 25,830 than it was in the previous year.

8. An idea of the expansion of the foreign trade of Calcutta during the last 20 years may be gathered from a perusal of the following table taken from the report, which shows the numbers of vessels entering and quitting the port in each year, and compares the total tonnage for the same period:—

The trade of 1877-78 was abnormal in consequence of the Madras famine, but leaving that year out of account, the year under review shows larger returns than any of previous years, and this is the more satisfactory, inasmuch as the rise has been gradual and is not due to any sudden or unusual inflation of trade.

The great draught of the vessels now piloted with safety on the Hooghly has already been noticed in the Lieutenant-Governor's review of the report of the Port Officer. The following table given by the Port Commissioners, in which the vessels entering and quitting the port during the last three years are classified according to their gross tonnage, is of interest as showing the progressive increase which is taking place in the size of the ships now visiting the port.

The number of the steamers which came to Calcutta viâ the Suez Canal was 239 against 163 in 1880-81 and 171 in the famine year. The average burden of these vessels during the year under report was 2,544 tons.

9. Seven accidents happened during the year to ships while in charge of the Assistant Harbour Masters. None of these was of a very serious nature, but in two cases the ships had to put back and unload their cargo for repairs. The Riga, on the 20th September, in attempting to pass through the Hooghly Bridge under steam fouled the hauling-out bar and knocked a hole in her bottom, and on the same day the Scindia, in dropping down to Garden Reach under steam, fouled No. 2 Prinsep's Ghât moorings and did considerable damage to herself and to another vessel. In the former case the mishap was due to the steamer's engines not being under proper control, and in the latter to causes which were purely accidental. Altogether the casualties amounted to only ·65 on the number of vessels which visited the port—a figure which compares favourably with that for 1880-81 (·91).

10. The fire-engine Hooghly was got ready on thirteen occasions during the year, and her services were actually utilized on nine occasions—once to pump out the Riga in the Calcutta dock, once to pump out water from the 30-ton crane, and seven times in consequence of fires which were unusually numerous during the year. A fire which broke out on board the Ellen Stuart on the 27th December was put out, but the vessel was wrecked and her iron hull was cracked. The County of Peebles, loaded with jute, caught fire on the 6th February. The vessel was saved, but the whole cargo was damaged by fire and water. On the 7th March the cargo of the American ship Valiant was ignited by some unknown cause. Both the vessel and the cargo were much damaged, and the former was abandoned; but it was afterwards found possible to tow her into moorings where her cargo was discharged. Three large fires also took place on shore. The Cossipore Jute Mills were partially destroyed on the 14th December, two large store-rooms being completely burnt. Owing to the distance of these mills from the river, no aid could be given by the floating engine. The Nasmyth Jute Mills, situated 200 yards from the river bank at Ghoosery, were wholly destroyed on the 21st February. The engine rendered what assistance was possible, but could only be employed for three hours owing to the shallowness of the water and the strength of the bore. The riverside Press-house on the Strand Bank caught fire on the 24th February. The house was destroyed, but the outer godowns were saved. The engine was in attendance till the 7th March, when its services were required for the Valiant.

11. The operations of the dredger were more satisfactory than in the previous year, but the cost of dredging (Rs. 14·28 per 1,000 cubic feet) though less than in 1880-81 (Rs. 24·93) is still very high. Altogether 1,541,500 cubic feet were dredged as against 1,067,500 cubic feet in the previous year, at a total cost of Rs. 31,611 against Rs. 33,443.

12. The Tramway forms on this occasion a separate section of the report. The income from, and expenditure on, it for the last three years are compared below :—

Year.	Income.	Expenditure.	Profit.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1879-80	1,34,901	1,06,365	28,536
1880-81	1,12,026	81,469	30,557
1881-82	1,35,812	97,672	38,140

The great increase which has taken place in the past five years in the traffic passing over the Tramway is shown in the following table :—

	1881-82.	1880-81.	1879-80.	1878-79.	1877-78.
Through Traffic—
Number of wagons arrived inward loaded	18,591	15,393	16,220	9,302	8,986
Ditto ditto forwarded outward ,,	10,036	8,453	10,062	6,267	1,314
Total tons of goods received and despatched	188,030	159,805	157,014	92,388	81,767
Local Traffic—
Total number of wagons loaded and despatched	11,448	9,481	7,632	2,239	Nil.

Up to the year 1879-80 the receipts shown under this head included the amount paid by despatchers and consignees of goods for loading and unloading wagons which have now, as mentioned in paragraph 6 of the Lieutenant-Governor's Resolution of last year, been handed over to the Eastern Bengal Railway. In consequence of the large extension of traffic, it has been found necessary to undertake the construction of 8,000 lineal feet of additional lines and sidings, to provide more godown accommodation, and to order 40 new wagons and 2 new locomotive engines from England.

13. The income from, and expenditure on, the River Survey, Lighting and Buoying establishments of the Hooghly, which were made over to the Port Commissioners on the 1st November 1881, are shewn below :—

	Rs.
Income.
Receipts from port dues	1,15,024
Sale of condemned stores	5,892
Proportion of rent of head office	217
Miscellaneous	424
	1,21,557
Expenditure.
Salaries	60,529
Proportion of salaries—control	3,695
Repairs	36,891
Working expenses	44,380
Charges for instruments	2,261
	1,47,756

The excess of expenditure over receipts actually amounted to Rs. 26,199. To meet the estimated deficit a sum of Rs. 50,000 was provided in the budget in equal shares from the surplus revenue of the Jetties and Inland Wharves. The Survey, Lighting and Buoying Departments therefore closed the year with a nominal balance of Rs. 23,801 in their favour. The port dues, which were levied at the rate of 3 annas a ton until the close of the year, have now been reduced to 1 anna, and the deficit which will be caused in the accounts of the port approaches will be met by contributions from other departments. The policy of devoting any surplus of income to a reduction of charges, rather than to defraying the expenses of permanent improvements, was strongly urged upon the Commissioners by the late Lieutenant-Governor. The soundness and justice of this policy is, in Mr. Rivers Thompson's opinion, not open to doubt. Owing to the many natural obstacles to navigation presented by the Hooghly river, the cost to ships of visiting Calcutta can never be low, and therefore, in the interests of the port, it is absolutely essential, in view of the increased facilities for traffic now offered by railways, and of the comparative shortness of the voyage between Europe and Western India, that

Calcutta should be relieved of any charges which can possibly be avoided. Satisfaction has more than once been expressed by Government at the acceptance of this view by the Commissioners. In July 1881 the Commissioners expressed their willingness to contribute a sum equivalent to a port due of 2 annas a ton to enable Government to effect a reduction of 15 per cent. in the pilotage fees, and this reduction was effected from the 1st August following. A reduction of 1 anna in the then port due of 4 annas a ton was made with effect from the 1st October, and from the commencement of the current year the dues have been levied, as already mentioned, at the rate of 1 anna a ton. Reductions were also made in the jetty charges during the year under review, and the charges upon piece-goods and twist have been considerably lowered since the 1st April 1882. In the words of the Commissioners "the concessions made in this direction of reduced charges have in effect taken off within 12 months five annas per ton from the charges formerly paid by shipping, and within the last few years one-third of the total charges paid by piece-goods, besides making other reductions in import and export goods of smaller importance."

14. The transfer of the port approaches from the Port Officer to the Port Commissioners was carried out on the 1st November 1881, in accordance with the scheme of which a sketch was given in paragraph 15 of the Lieutenant-Governor's Resolution on the Port Commissioners' report of last year. The Commissioners were appointed Conservators of the port approaches, and they have placed the work connected with this branch of their duties in the immediate charge of navigating Lieutenant E. W. Petley, R.N., as Deputy Conservator, whose services have, with the consent of the Admiralty, been placed at the disposal of the Commissioners for this purpose by the Government of India. A report by Lieutenant Petley regarding the port approaches forms an appendix to the report, but does not call for any special notice from Government in this place, the matters dealt with, though important, being for the most part of a technical character and without general interest.

15. With a view to providing increased facilities for warehousing goods to exporters and importers, the Commissioners had under their consideration for some time a proposal for the purchase of the Bonded Warehouses, but it was ultimately decided that it would be more expedient to build an entirely new set of warehouses. This scheme was opposed by the Municipal Commissioners, the British Indian Association, and other public and private bodies. The opposition was based mainly on two grounds—the interference with private trade; and a supposed pledge by Lord Dalhousie that high buildings should not be erected on the Strand Bank lands. Having consulted the law officers of Government, the Lieutenant-Governor was satisfied that no legal objections existed to the proposed scheme, the advantages of which to the general public will far outweigh the inconvenience caused to the owners of private warehouses by the competition of the Commissioners. The pledge said to have been given by Lord Dalhousie has been misinterpreted, and Mr. Rivers Thompson believes that, in securing the cleanliness and good order of the Strand Bank lands, and turning them to the best advantage in the general interests, he is carrying out fully the intentions of that Governor-General. The scheme has therefore been sanctioned.

16. A further scheme of a somewhat similar nature for the erection of a tea warehouse on the site vacated by the East Indian Railway at Armenian Ghât has been under discussion throughout the year. The advantages of the proposal commended it to favourable consideration, but a portion of the scheme consisted in providing "facilities not only for receiving and storing tea, but also for the sale and sampling of that commodity," a provision which the Advocate-General has ruled to be beyond the legal scope of the Commissioners' powers. The proposal has therefore been negatived in its present form, but, with some modification of the original intention, it might be adopted.

17. During the year an agreement was arrived at for the long proposed transfer of the Chandpal Ghât pumping station to the Port Commissioners in exchange for Mullick's Ghât which has been made over to the Municipal Commissioners as a pumping station. The Port Commissioners also pay to the Municipality a sum of Rs. 1,00,731 towards the expenses of the removal of the pumping engine. The Chandpal Ghât station will now be converted into a landing wharf. A further exchange of land between the Municipality and the Port Trust, with a view to putting a stop to the obstruction now caused to the public road by the traffic to No. 8 jetty was negatived during the year by the Municipal Commissioners, but the matter is believed to be still under discussion, and it is hoped that some satisfactory conclusion may be arrived at, as there can be no doubt as to the impediment to general traffic along the Strand road now offered by the large number of carts going to and from the jetties.

18. With a view to further facilitating the delivery and shipment of goods through the jetties, it has been resolved, experimentally to extend the number of hours for which the jetty gates are to be opened without payment of fees. So far as the extra cost of this arrangement falls on the Customs Department it will be defrayed by Government.

19. The Lieutenant-Governor observes with satisfaction that it has not yet been found necessary to take any action under Act I (B.C.) of 1881 in order to prohibit by a port rule the exposure of seamen to the sun. Notices are distributed on arrival to all masters of ships regarding the danger of this practice, and the number of cases of sunstroke among sailors has greatly decreased. Masters are at the same time warned of the evil consequences of allowing their men to bathe alongside of vessels and to sleep without proper protection from damp.

20. The introduction of a new set of storm-signals has been sanctioned since the close of the year. These signals were proposed by the Meteorological Observer for the purpose of distinguishing between the more dangerous class of cyclones usually accompanied by a storm-wave, and the dangerous, but less destructive, cyclonic storms.

21. The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are due to the Commissioners for their successful management of the affairs of the Port Trust, the interest taken by them in its welfare having again been shewn by their regular attendance at the 29 meetings held during the year. The office of Chairman has been most efficiently filled throughout the year by Mr. Reynolds, and the duties of Vice-Chairman have been satisfactorily performed by Mr. D. Scott, who succeeded Mr. Duff Bruce shortly after the commencement of the year.

GENERAL C. B. NORTON, BOSTON.

1. It is proposed to hold an International Exhibition in the magnificent buildings of the Massachusetts Charitable Association at Boston, the capital of New England, commencing about April 15th, 1884, of the arts and industries of all nations. The commercial success which has attended the recent Exhibitions in Australia—including Adelaide, a city with a population of 60,000, and the capital of a colony of 300,000; Perth, with a population of 9,000; the capital of a colony with a population of 30,000, and Christchurch, New Zealand—has induced an association of capitalists to make arrangements for holding a series of Exhibitions throughout the United States and Canada. Buildings large enough for the purpose are to be found in nearly all the large cities. The first Exhibition will be held at Boston in the Spring of 1884. Boston, with its suburbs, has a population of 450,000, and New England of 4,000,000. The Boston Exhibition will be kept open as long as it proves remunerative to exhibitors and promoters.

2. Applications for space, with full particulars of the intended exhibit, can be forwarded to the Secretary of the Boston International Exhibition, 1884, No. 70, Water-street, Boston, prior to December 1st, 1883, or to the President, whose address up to November 15th, 1882, will be—"Lafayette," East St. Kilda, near Melbourne, Victoria, after which it will be—care of Gibb and Macintyre, 7, St. Benet Place, Gracechurch-street, London, E. C.

3. The ordinary charge for space will be two shillings for each of the first twenty square feet, and one shilling for each additional square foot; but exhibitors desiring a frontage to the main avenue for their cases can obtain it on payment of an additional five shillings per foot of such frontage, irrespective of depth. A passage of from 2 to 3 feet will be left round each case where desired, and exhibitors desirous of having spaces against the wall should mention the fact at the time of application. In cases where the sum to be charged for space will be less than £5, the full amount must accompany the application. Where it exceeds that sum, half may be paid on application, and the other half before the opening of the Exhibition.

4. The general reception of articles in the Exhibition Building will commence about March 1st, and terminate three days before the Exhibition opens, after which date no exhibits can be received, and all vacant spaces will become forfeited.

5. All exhibits must be removed within ten days after the close of the Exhibition, after which time they will be taken away by the Executive, and stored at the risk of the owner.

6. Exhibits will be admitted in bond, and can be sold free of charge so long as they are not removed before the close of the Exhibition; but exhibitors who wish to make sales with immediate delivery must pay duty in advance, together with a license fee of two pounds ten shillings per week per stand, payable weekly in advance.

7. All fittings, show-cases, shelves, &c., which exhibitors require, must be provided at their own expense.

8. The Executive reserve the right of rejecting any proposed exhibit, and the introduction of dangerous or offensive substances is strictly prohibited.

9. Every precaution will be taken for the safe preservation of all exhibits against theft or fire, but the Executive can take no responsibility for accidents, however caused.

10. All exhibitors will receive a bronze medal, and a certificate that their exhibits were admitted to the Boston Exhibition. Under special circumstances, gold and silver medals may be awarded upon the recommendation of qualified experts, one-half of whom will be nominated by the Executive, and the other half by the representatives of the foreign exhibitors.

11. An official catalogue will be published, and no other in the English language will be allowed in the building.

12. For special concessions special arrangements will be made.

13. The Executive reserve the right of lighting the building with the electric light or with gas, keeping open at night, and of altering or amending these regulations.

14. Responsible agents will be appointed in all the principal countries of Europe and the East, who will treat with intending exhibitors and afford all information.

The mean pressure, temperature &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86 formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction of the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

It will then proceed northward until it meets the present municipal boundary, from which point the existing boundary round the Rumna plains, the old cantonment, and on the east and south along the Boorigunga, will stand.

RESOLUTION – By the Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce.

The Governor-General in Council is pleased to the prescribe following rules for regulating the payment of stock notes alleged to have been lost or destroyed :—

1. When any person desires to make a claim for the value of a stock note alleged to have been lost or destroyed, he should at once produce before the District Officer all the evidence he can produce regarding the circumstances of the destruction or loss of the note, which must be absolutely identified. The District Officer may either reject the claim, or, if he is of opinion that the evidence establishes beyond doubt the impossibility or extreme improbability of the note ever being presented, he should record his opinion to this effect and forward it to the Comptroller-General. The latter, if he agrees as to the effect of the evidence, may direct as follows :—

(1) That the loss of the note be advertised in the Gazette of India and the local Government Gazettes, and that after two years from the first advertisment of the loss the value of the note may paid by the District Officer and invested, if possible, in Govern ment securities, or, if the amount is too small, then paid into the Government Savings Bank.

(2) That after twenty years from the date of advertisement, if meantime the note has not been presented for payment, the said investment, with accumulated interest (or the said deposit, if no investment has been made) be delivered to the claimant or his assignee or other legal representatives, upon a bond of indemnity with two personal sureties attached.

2. If the Comptroller-General think that the circumstances warrant more favourable terms to the claimant, he may, if he think fit, submit the case to the Government for orders; but this is not to be done unless the evidence establishes a claim of Rs. 100 at least; nor is the period after which delivery to the claimant may be made to be reduced, under any circumstances, below five years.

ORDERED that these rules be published in the Gazette of India for general information, and communicated to the Comptroller-General for information and guidance.

The following order, issued by the Government of India in the Military Department, is republished for general information :—

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE PORT OFFICER, CALCUTTA, FOR THE YEAR 1881-82.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT,—MARINE.

Calcutta, the 16th September 1882.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Annual Report of the Port Officer for the year 1881-82.

The report is submitted by Lieutenant Stiffe, who was Port Officer throughout the year, with the exception of three months, during which Lieutenant Warden, the Assistant Port Officer, officiated for him. Lieutenant Warden was transferred to Rangoon just before the close of the year, and the appointment of Assistant Port Officer has not since been filled up. Considerable changes took place during the year in the duties performed by the Port Officer. The River Survey Department, the care of the light-vessels and light-houses, and of the houses of refuge, the Wreck and Anchor Department, the Buoy-vessel and Buoy Department, and the Tidal Semaphores and guages were transferred to the Port Commissioners on the 1st November, and the Port Officer subsequently took charge of the office of Shipping Master, which had formerly been amalgamated with that of the Collector of Customs. These changes have not yet been in force sufficiently long to enable their effect to be determined with certainty, but there is no reason to believe that the result will be other than satisfactory.

2. Two deaths among the Mate Pilots reduced the total number of Pilots, which, at the commencement of the year 1881-82, stood at 63, to 61 before its close. During the current year two Leadsman Apprentices have qualified and have been promoted to the rank of Mate Pilot, so that the number is now the same as it was on the 1st April 1881. One Leadsman Apprentice was removed from the service during the year for failure to pass the prescribed examinations, and one recruit was admitted. The Port Officer reports favourably of the conduct of the Leadsman Apprentices, and considers the present system of nomination, from the training ships at home, productive of good results.

3. The total number of arrivals in the port was 1,074 and of departures 1,058, being in excess of any previous year excepting 1876-77 and 1877-78, when the trade of the port was abnormally large, owing to the Madras famine. The average tonnage of the ships arriving was 1,683 and that of ships leaving 1,676. The increase in numbers was entirely among steamers, of which 601 entered and 597 left the port, against 506 and 510 in the previous year. The numbers of incoming and outgoing sailing vessels fell from 478 and 505 to 473 and 461 respectively. The subject of the increase in the number of steamers and the decrease in the number of sailing vessels has been considered in the review of the Port Commissioners' report, in which it is dealt with in greater detail than in that now under consideration. The figures cited above do not include 21 Government vessels, and 189 arrivals and 191 departures of vessels for the Orissa ports. The Port Officer has appended to his report some interesting diagrams indicating the number and tonnage of the vessels piloted, and the number of accidents which have taken place, for the last 25 years. These diagrams show very conclusively that the Pilot Service has proved fully equal to the more difficult tasks now falling to its lot in consequence of the great increase in the size of vessels visiting the port. This will be apparent from the fact that the average tonnage of the steamers which visited the port in the year 1872 was little over 1,500 tons, and that of the sailing vessels 1,050 tons, while the average of steamers is now 2,050 tons and of sailing vessels 1,200 tons. It may be added that the proportion of accidents to traffic, which in 1868 rose to 5·55 per cent, was 4·4 per cent in 1872, and has now fallen to 2·1. The Port Officer is therefore justified in stating that as "five steamers and one sailing vessel of the great draught of 25 and 26 feet proceeded safely down the river during the year, it would appear that the navigable channels of the Hooghly do not show any practicable signs of deterioration."

4. The following table shows the comparative numbers of the vessels of deep draught piloted in the Hooghly for the last two years, and serves to exemplify the transition which is taking place from sailing vessels to steamers, and from vessels of light to vessels of heavier tonnage :—

Notwithstanding the changes in the distribution of tonnage among the various grades of Pilots, which were introduced last year with a view to raise somewhat the earnings of the junior members of the service, it is remarkable that the average monthly number of ships piloted by each Branch Pilot was 5·48 as against 4·72 in the previous year. As the Port Officer observes, the increase is due to the rapid rise which has taken place in the size of vessels visiting the port, rather than to the increase in their numbers. The average number of ships piloted by the Senior Master Pilots rose from 2·88 to 3·05, while the average number falling to the lot of the nine Junior Masters was only 2·7 a month. The Mates were better off in this respect, and averaged 3·4 ships each.

5. The Lieutenant-Governor observes with satisfaction that the increase in the number of ships was accompanied by a large decrease (from 46 to 33) in the number of groundings. In only one case was an injury received. In six instances the Pilots in charge were found to be to blame, but in one case only was it found necessary to inflict a more severe punishment than a reprimand. The number of collisions rose from 7 to 12. In half the cases no damage at all was done; in five one or both vessels received some injury; and in the sixth, a boat, which was itself to blame for the result, was sunk. One case only was due to want of care on the part of the Pilot. Taking groundings and collisions together, the percentage of accidents to the number of vessels in the port was only 2·1 as against 2·45 and 2 65 in the preceding years. The Lieutenant-Governor fully agrees in the commendation bestowed by the Port Officer on the Hooghly Pilots as a body for their skill in navigating vessels of all kinds in the exceedingly difficult and intricate channels of the Hooghly. It is satisfactory also to learn that the tone of the service is good, and, in the opinion of the Port Officer, rising.

6. Courts of Enquiry were held in several cases to investigate the conduct of Pilots, and accidents on the river and in the port, but the proceedings of one only—namely, the enquiry into the causes of the loss of the Ghattal—are of general interest. The Ghattal was a vessel carrying passengers between the place of that name in Midnapore and Calcutta. While endeavouring to pass through the Hooghly Bridge before daylight on the morning of the 21st February 1882, the Ghattal came into collision with one of the pontoons of the bridge and sank. Many of the passengers were saved, but it is impossible to say what loss of life occurred, as the number on board was not known with exactness, and it is uncertain how many reached land safely. In order to guard against similar accidents, a port rule has been passed prohibiting vessels from being under weigh between sunset and sunrise between Hastings Bridge and Ahiritola Ghat. The question of regulating the traffic of these small passenger-carrying steamers, to which, as they do not go to sea, the provisions of the Native Passenger Ships Act do not apply, is now under the consideration of the Lieutenant-Governor.

7. The services of the Undaunted were, as in the previous year, made available when necessary for the use of this Government by the Government of India until the 1st September 1881, when she was transferred permanently to the Bengal Marine. Of the three pilot brigs, one, the Chinsura, has been condemned, and a new brig has been ordered from England in her place. It is hoped that the new brig may arrive by the month of January or February next. The Coleroon and Cassandra are both in good order.

8. The number of certificates of survey granted to inland steamers during the year amounted to 193, against 170 in 1880-81. The number of permits granted to small coasting vessels of between 100 and 200 tons burthen fell from 26 to 22. Three vessels were again registered under the English Merchant Shipping Act of 1854, and two vessels under Act X of 1841. Under the Native Passenger Ships Act, 73A and 80B certificates were issued, showing a slight increase in the former, and a slight decrease in the latter, as compared with the previous year. For certificates of competency, 80 candidates were examined, of whom 58 were successful. Of the 22 failures, twelve were among 26 candidates for certificates as engine-drivers, and four among 7 candidates for second class engineer's certificates. Three candidates appeared for certificates of competency as first class engineers of inland steamers, of whom none passed. Five licenses were renewed to pilots of native vessels, who, however, only piloted five vessels between them.

9. The only changes of importance which took place during the year have been already noticed A committee, of which the Port Officer and Assistant Port Officer were members, sat by order of the Government of India to consider the question of light-house and light-vessel maintenance in India. The Government of India sanctioned the adoption of a code of signals for pilots, designed by Mr. Elson, a Licensed Master Pilot.

10. The thanks of Government are due to the Port Officer for his efficient performance of his duties throughout the year.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. P. MacDONNELL,
Offg. Secretary to the Govt of Bengal.

There were during the year twenty States directly or indirectly under the management of the Superintendent. Of these 15 were managed by their Chiefs, and over them the Superintendent exercised a general supervision; three of the mehals were Government estates, viz. Angul, Banki, and the Khondmals; one, Dhenkanal, was already, in consequence of the minority of its Chief, also under the direct management of the Superintendent's office; and the remaining mehal, Baramba, came under direct management during the year in consequence of the death of the Chief of that State, and the minority of his heir and successor. Since the close of the year the Government estate of Banki has been excluded from the operation of the Scheduled Districts' Act, and has been brought under the operation of the general laws as a part of the district of Cuttack.

2. The financial results of the year in Banki were again satisfactory. Out of a total demand of Rs. 19,573, the sum of Rs. 1,068 had been paid in before the commencement of the year, and during the year itself the whole of the balance was realized, while Rs. 4,926 of the current year's demand were also collected in advance. In Angul the results were not so good. Out of a total demand of Rs. 32,360, the uncollected balance due at the close of the year was Rs. 3,430. The regularity of the collections in this State is, as a rule, very marked, and the Superintendent explains that this very unusual balance was due to the absence of the tehsildar during the latter part of the year on account of illness, and to an extension of time being allowed to persons residing in one part of the mehal, which had suffered severely from a conflagration, to pay in their rents. In his report for 1880-81, the Superintendent remarked on the manner in which money is remitted from Angul and Banki to the Cuttack treasury, or, is drawn from it, and he suggested a change in the form of accounts, and in the present report he again alludes to this matter. The subject is, in the Lieutenant-Governor's opinion, one which can be much more conveniently dealt with in a separate form, and the Commissioner should therefore submit a full report of the existing arrangements in Angul, and should embody in it the proposals which he would suggest for the introduction of a better system of accounts. In Banki the system prevailing in all regulation districts should be adopted.

3. The continuance of the settlement operations in Dhenkanal has increased the revenue of that State from Rs. 73,196 in 1880-81 to Rs. 74,876 during 1881-82, and it is expected that there will be a further increase during the current year. The land revenue of Baramba, exclusive of grants for maintenance, is Rs. 12,971. The total collections during the year, including those under the head of "Miscellaneous demand," which were of an exceptional nature, amounted to Rs. 35,391, and the balance uncollected at the close of the year was Rs. 9,158.

4. The total demand from the States as tribute was Rs. 33,249, the whole of which was paid in full, and Rs. 10,166 in addition was paid in on account of the claims for 1882-83. The whole tribute for the current year was paid in during the past year in Atmullick, Baramba, Nayaghur and Talchere, and nearly the whole of it in Keonjhur. These results are very satisfactory, and appear to indicate that the various States are financially prosperous.

5. There has been a very marked increase during the past few years in the number of civil, revenue and miscellaneous cases instituted in the Tributary Mehals. In 1876-77 the number of cases instituted in the office of the Superintendent was only 1,945, by 1879-80 the annual institutions had increased to 3,972, and during the past year the number rose to 6,367. The largest number of cases were instituted in Dhenkanal (2,661), Banki (1,981), Baramba (708) and Angul (634). In none of the other States did the number amount to 50: in the Khondmals the people usually have their disputes settled by the village headmen, while in the States which were not under the direct management of the Superintendent, but were managed by their respective Chiefs, only those cases appear in which the complainant, being dissatisfied with the Chief's decision, applied to the Superintendent for redress. There was a large increase in the number of cases instituted in Banki, the number having risen from 902 in 1880-81 to 1,981 during the past year. The increase is said to have been in part due to the fact that the people were aware that, after Banki was excluded from the protection of the Scheduled Districts' Act, they would have to pay stamp and other fees, and they therefore endeavoured to settle all their old disputes before the legislative changes were introduced. In Dhenkanal there was also an increase in the number of cases instituted, 2,661 cases being instituted as compared with 2,007 during the preceding year. The Superintendent attributes this increase to the fact that the inhabitants of Dhenkanal, who are very litigious, had more means and leisure in a year of plenty to carry their disputes into the civil court. In Baramba the number was very greatly in excess of the number instituted during the previous year; this, however, was due to the fact that the State having come under direct management, every case is shown, and not, as in the preceding year, merely those which come before the Superintendent or his subordinates for revision of the Chief's orders. Of 7,101 cases which came on for trial, 5,454 were disposed of, and 1,647 were pending at the close of the year. The Superintendent remarks that, as the year terminates at a time when officers are in camp, where they cannot conveniently dispose of the ordinary civil cases, the number of pending cases at the end of the year is larger than it is at any other period. The explanation is sufficient.

6. There was a very marked increase in the number of criminal cases during the year. In 1879-80 there were only 1,142 such cases, in 1880-81 the number rose to 1,199, while during the past year the number instituted was 2,165. It thus appears that, as compared with 1880-81, both in civil and in criminal cases, the work of the court was increased by more than 60 per cent. during the past year, while, as compared with the number of cases, both civil and criminal, instituted during 1876-77, the work has increased by above 200 per cent. There were 8 cases of murder as compared with the same number in the preceding year, while the number of cases of culpable homicide fell from 7 to 3; the number of cases of cheating also decreased, there being only 5 cases during the past year as compared with 14 in 1880-81. Under almost every other head there was an increase: the number of cases of assault was 919 as against 526 in the preceding year: there were 308 thefts against 189, the number of cases of criminal intimidation increased from 92 to 185, of mischief from 123 to 184, of criminal trespass including house-trespass from 67 to 166, of defamation from 32 to 66, of contempt of lawful authority from 17 to 41, of hurt from 12 to 35 and of receiving stolen property from 17 to 33. In one case, reported as a case of murder from Pal Lahera, it was thought that a servant had poisoned his master at the instigation of the Chief of that State. The Superintendent went in person to the State to enquire into the case, and ascertained that the deceased had administered the poison to himself, and the accused was accordingly discharged; no suspicions consequently attach to the Chief. The increase in crime is the more remarkable, when it is considered in connection with the fact that in the Lower Provinces generally there was a decrease of crime during the year. No explanation is given by the Superintendent of the general increase, but he represents that in Banki the former tehsildar was in the habit of disposing of petty complaints verbally—a practice which, being irregular, has been put a stop to; all cases, however petty, are now decided on evidence recorded and are shown in the returns. It has also been explained that the people, in endeavouring to settle their cases before the introduction of the laws in force in the regulation districts, occasionally took the law into their own hands, the result being an increase in the number of offences against the person. Another explanation of cases of this description being more numerous than before may be that given for the increase in civil litigation in Dhenkanal, namely, a prosperous year, people having in consequence more time and money to bring petty criminal cases into court. It is probable that this is the true explanation for the most marked increase, amounting to 40 per cent. of the total increase, under the head of criminal force. The total number of persons put upon their trial during the year in criminal cases of all kinds was 2,586; of these 939 were convicted, 1,446 acquitted, 2 died, and 4 absconded, and the remaining 195 were awaiting trial at the close of the year. Though the general results were not satisfactory, they were worst in Dhenkanal, where 706 persons were acquitted and only 291 convicted.

7. The total number of appeals of all kinds—revenue, civil, criminal and miscellaneous, including 16 pending from the preceding year—was 145. Of these, the original orders were upheld in 88, modified in 4 and reversed in 9; 8 cases were returned for reinvestigation, 15 were amicably settled and 21 appeals were pending at the close of the year. The result of the appeals was, the Lieutenant-Governor considers, creditable to the officers concerned. The result of the appeals from the orders of the Assistant Superintendent, Baboo Nunda Kishore Das, was especially good. Out of 31 appeals the orders in 24 were confirmed, while 7 cases were pending at the close of the year; in no instance were the orders of this officer modified or reversed.

8. In consequence of a motion in the High Court made during the year in a criminal case, the question was raised whether the Tributary States did or did not form a part of British India. Hitherto the High Court has exercised no jurisdiction in the mehals, sentences of death passed by the Superintendent being confirmed, not by the High Court, but by the local Government, to which all appeals against the orders of the Superintendent lie. On the motion in question a divisional bench of the High Court held that the mehals are a part of British India, but on a reference of the matter to a Full Bench it was decided that these States are not a part of British India. The Superintendent inclines to the opinion that they do form a part of British India. He thinks, however, that "it will be necessary for the Executive Government to determine whether the Tributary Mehals are or are not British India. If they are held not to be a part of British India, it will, with reference to past legislation, be expedient to declare by formal enactment that they are not. If on the other hand it be held that they are, it will be necessary to make formal legislative provision for their administration." The whole question, which is a very important and complex one, is now under the consideration of Government, and a communication on the subject will in due course be addressed to the Government of India. For the present, the ruling of the Full Bench of the High Court recognises and supports the policy of Government in dealing with the Tributary States as not forming a part of British India.

9. With a view to preserving the breed of wild elephants in the Tributary States, a set of rules was issued in 1880, regulating the capture of these animals in the mehals and requiring persons hunting them to take out licenses. Against these rules the Maharajahs of Mourbhunj and Keonjhur have protested, and their representations are now before Government. The question at issue in this matter is one that can only be decided when the exact legal status of the mehals has been definitely settled; and until this is done, no orders regarding the rules can be passed.

10. The Superintendent remarks that forests abound in almost all parts of the mehals, but that nothing has yet been done systematically in any part of them to prevent the destruction and waste of timber. The sâl forests in Angul have been inspected by Mr. Davis, Deputy Conservator of Forests, and the proposals submitted to Government for the formation of forest reserves and the appointment of a forest officer, have received the sanction of Government since the close of the year. Enquiry is also, it is stated, being made in the same direction in the Khondmals, the results of which have not yet been reported. Mr. Smith considers that control of Government over the Tributary Chiefs is not sufficiently close to permit of peremptory orders being issued prohibiting the waste of timber, and directing the introduction of systematic forestry; but he hopes "that, when the system of reserves is introduced into Angul, and the benefits of the system are seen by the Rajahs, self-interest will induce them to adopt some such system with respect to the forests in their States." There has been undoubtedly an increase of civilization in the Tributary Mehals during the last few years, but it is doubtful if it will for years to come advance to such an extent that Government may expect to see a system of forest conservancy introduced by the Chiefs. Mourbhunj, the largest and most populous of the mehals, has, since the close of the year, come under direct management in consequence of the death of the Maharajah who has left a minor as his heir; in this State, as well as in Dhenkanal and Baramba, which are also under direct management, some attempt in the direction of the prevention of the waste of timber could well be attempted, and the subject should receive the attention of the Superintendent.

11. No new roads were constructed during the year, but all the existing means of communication were kept in repair. A scheme for the construction of a line of railway from Ranigunge to Pooree, which was under the consideration of Government, has been negatived, but it is thought that it may be feasible to construct a line down the valley of the Mahanuddy to Cuttack and Pooree from the line which is to be constructed from Barrakur to Belaspore; and in connection with this project statistics of the trade on the road to the south of the Mahanuddy are now being collected. More recently, independent enquiries have been instituted regarding the construction of a line of railway from Cuttack to Pooree. The passenger traffic is known to be large, but trade returns are wanting.

12. The Superintendent reports that the want of encouragement felt by the officers employed in the management of the Tributary States has been a great drawback in their administration. The climate is an unhealthy one, and the work of the Assistant Superintendent and the tehsildars is onerous and important, while their remuneration is insufficient. Mr. Smith addressed Government separately on this subject, and the Lieutenant-Governor, concurring in the remarks which he made, has, since the close of the year, submitted to the Government of India a proposal to increase the salaries of the Assistant Superintendent and the tehsildars of Angul and the Khondmals by bringing the former on to the Subordinate Executive establishment, and by making the pay of the latter officers progressive. The Banki tehsil having been amalgamated with Cuttack, the tehsildar of Banki has been brought upon the regular establishment of Sub-Deputy Collectors.

13. During the past year there was again a satisfactory advance in education. At the close of 1880-81 there were 472 schools in the States, which were attended by 7,519 students; these figures showed an increase of 178 schools and 2,475 students, as compared with the figures for 1879-80. During the past year there was an increase of 520 schools and 5,500 students, there being at the close of 1881-82 992 schools in the mehals, with 13,019 students on their rolls. The increase is said to be due not so much to the opening of new schools as to a number of existing indigenous pathsalas having been brought under the inspection of the Educational Department, on whose books they now stand. With reference to schools of this class, Mr. Smith remarks:—

> The indigenous pathsalas are, I may say, the schools of the people, who establish those institutions of their free will, sympathise with them and are ever ready to support them, and they think that those institutions supply all their educational wants. While by offering inducements to the people in various shapes, we do not generally succeed in inducing the people to send their children to higher institutions, they establish and support pathsalas of their own accord. To these pathsalas therefore we must look forward for the advancement of popular education. They spring up wherever they are needed, and we have only to watch their progress and improve their efficiency. Our aim should be chiefly in the direction of supplying a better staff of teachers for these schools, and by frequent inspection, advice and instruction, to enable them to rise above the antiquated and unscientific method of the gurus, and to substitute for the same a more rational method of teaching.

There are no colleges, or higher class schools, and the Superintendent does not think that any are at present required. The number of middle English schools was increased from 2 to 3 by the establishment of a school of this class at Ranpore. Middle vernacular schools have increased from 7 to 9, while the number of upper primary schools has fallen from 55 to 50: this decrease is not due to the schools having been closed, but is in consequence of the status of two of these schools having been raised, while inspection showed that three others really belonged to the lower primary class, in which they have now been included. The number of students of different creeds attending the schools was as follows:—

	1880-81.	1881-82.
Hindus	6,719	11,636
Mahomedans	34	44
Christains	4	60
Others	782	1,279
Total ...	7,519	13,019

The Christians belong chiefly to the mission schools at Chagan in Atghur, which have now been brought under departmental inspection. Of the 992 schools, 12 are Government institutions, 196 receive aid from Government, and 784 are entirely unaided. The cost of education during the past year was Rs. 56,778 as compared with Rs. 38,159 in 1880-81, and of this amount Rs. 8,888 was paid by Government as compared with Rs. 6,618 in the preceding year. The progress reported is satisfactory, and the Lieutenant-Governor concurs in Mr. Smith's remarks that "the increase of expenditure from private sources is a sure and substantial indication of a growing spirit of self-help on the part of the Chiefs and their people in promoting their own intellectual advancement, and it may reasonably be hoped that, as time advances, this wholesome spirit will be developed to an extent which will place the Gurjat people on a footing comparing not unfavourably with their brethren of the plains." Mr. Rivers Thompson is glad to observe that the report on the state of education in Keonjhur is again creditable to the Maharajah, whose interest in the subject has already been acknowledged in the remarks on the last report. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets the loss sustained, during the year, by the death of the Maharajah of Mourbhunj, who was a liberal promoter of education in his State.

14. The postal scheme, on which remarks were made in the resolution on the report for 1880-81, has been in operation throughout the year and has worked successfully. The Postal Department has been able to relieve the Chiefs of all contribution towards the pay of the runners; the cost of the establishments in the post-offices themselves and office contingencies being alone defrayed by them, thus reducing the monthly charge on the Tributary States from Rs. 250 to Rs. 159. This reduction has been effected in consequence of the revenue received being credited to the Chiefs, and as this course will, it is stated, continue to be pursued, the Tributary Mehals will eventually be relieved of all expenditure in connection with the postal lines. In Mourbhunj the system did not work very smoothly, the amount collected on letters sent unstamped or under-stamped was remitted at irregular intervals and the proportion of letters returned as undelivered was unduly large. The Superintendent was in communication with the Maharajah, with a view to preventing the irregularities complained of. The Maharajah was not very willing to allow the Postal authorities to take over charge of the management, as he derived some revenue from it. The Superintendent, however, finally decided that this should be done, but it does not appear from the report whether the Postal Department has actually taken over the management. As Mourbhunj has now come under direct management, it will be within the power of the Superintendent to introduce a proper system of control over the postal arrangements in that State.

15. The advance in civilization in the mehals is shown by the request of the residents of Baramba that there might be a settlement made with them after measuring their lands. The State having come under direct management, the Superintendent had only to consult the interests of the State, and he accordingly granted their request. Ameens were appointed, and the work progressed satisfactorily. Advantage will be taken of the settlement to fix the rent at fair and equitable rates, and to do away as much as possible with extra cesses, the number of which formed the subject of serious complaint by the people.

16. The report submitted regarding Boad is far from satisfactory. At the commencement of 1880, the Assistant Superintendent on inspecting the Chief's office ascertained that he was neglecting his duties. A few simple rules were then laid down for his guidance, and the Rajah promised to attend to his work and to hold office regularly. At the end of 1881, however, when Mr. Smith visited the State, he found that the Rajah had not adhered to his promise, and that he had not followed the rules laid down. As an instance of the unsatisfactory manner in which work is carried on in the State, the Superintendent mentions that he specially asked the Rajah and his Dewan that reports which he called for on some petitions presented to him might be furnished before he left the mehal, so that he might pass orders on the spot; but this was not done. The Superintendent has informed the Rajah that he will be expected to adhere to the rules laid down for his guidance, and has also advised him to appoint a competent Dewan in the place of the officer who at present holds the post. Mr. Smith has further warned the Rajah that, if on the next inspection he does not find a marked improvement, he will ask Government to take special measures for the fulfilment of the duties the State owes to its subjects. The Lieutenant-Governor approves of the instructions and warnings issued, and trusts that the Rajah will be guided by Mr. Smith's directions; much might be effected by the appointment of an intelligent and well-trained Dewan, who would constantly impress on the Rajah the necessity for a thorough performance of his duties, and Mr. Rivers Thompson trusts that the Chief has by this time acted on the Superintendent's advice on this point, and has appointed a new officer. The report on Duspulla is also unsatisfactory; the Chief and his Dewan, who is a Government officer lent to the State, have not worked together harmoniously, and the Dewan now wishes to return to the Education Department to which he belongs. The Lieutenant-Governor will await the separate report promised on this subject, as well as the suggestions of the Superintendent as to the best means of preventing the administration relapsing into disorder.

17. The Chief of Dhenkanal, who is still a minor, is making some progress in education under the tuition of a Deputy Inspector of Schools, who was appointed his tutor on the death of his adoptive father. The minor has now been for five years under the tuition of this officer, and, as he was 11 when he was adopted, he is approaching his majority. The Superintendent reports that the tutor has done his work well, but he thinks that it would be well that during the remaining years of his minority the Rajah should be placed under some person of a higher educational status. The Lieutenant-Governor understands that there are savings from which the extra expenditure for such arrangements could be met, and if the Superintendent considers that the minor Chief has reached a stage at which he would derive more advantage from a higher course of studies, a full report on the subject should be submitted to Government. From the character given of the minor, it might be of advantage if he had the companionship of other boys of his own age. The late Maharajah was a man of enlightenment, and the Lieutenant-Governor would be glad that the present Chief should receive such training as will enable him, when he attains his majority, to maintain the successful administration of his State. The report regarding this State is again favourable, the collections having increased from Rs. 74,570 to Rs. 1,12,983. The expenditure incurred in supporting the dispensary founded by the late Maharajah, amounted to Rs. 3,896. The Superintendent reports that this institution is one of the best in Orissa, and that during the past year it afforded relief to 9,102 out-door and 181 in-door patients.

18. The report regarding Keonjhur is satisfactory, the relationship between the Maharajah and his people is cordial, and he has carried on his administrative duties efficiently. He has on former occasions deserved and earned the commendation of Government, and the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to receive the intimation that the Maharajah maintains the character of a just and liberal ruler.

19. The late Maharajah of Mourbhunj was desirous of obtaining the help of an officer to assist him in the administration of his affairs, and he asked that the services of the Assistant Superintendent of the Tributary Mehals might be placed at his disposal, and offered to pay him a gross salary of Rs. 1,250 per mensem, including contribution towards pension. The proposal was submitted to Government, but was not sanctioned. The Lieutenant-Governor considered that the salary was too high, and that, apart from that fact, it was essential, in the interests of the Tributary Mehals, that the officer holding the post of Assistant Superintendent should be debarred from accepting service under the Tributary Chiefs. The Superintendent was, however, informed that the Lieutenant-Governor would be prepared to consider the proposal of lending the services of some other officer on a reasonable salary, and Mr. Smith was asked to nominate some officer for the appointment after consulting the Maharajah. The death of the latter has now rendered the appointment of an officer absolutely necessary, and the Lieutenant-Governor awaits the report on the arrangements to be made for the future conduct of the administration.

20. The Superintendent was in the mehals for 81 days during the year, and thoroughly inspected the offices of a number of the Chiefs. Looking to the general state of the mehals, there has been an improvement in most of the States, though the report regarding a few is still not all that could be desired. The Lieutenant-Governor has again to acknowledge the thorough and intelligent supervision exercised by the Superintendent during the past year, and to thank him for his full and interesting report. The favourable remarks recorded regarding the Assistant Superintendent, Baboo Nunda Kishore Das, have been noted, and copies of them, as well as of the remarks made regarding other officers, will be communicated to the Appointment Department of this office.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the above Resolution be forwarded to the Superintendent of the Tributary States of Orissa for information and guidance.

Ordered also that a copy of the report, together with a copy of the Resolution, be forwarded to the Government of India in the Foreign Department for information.

Ordered also that a copy of the remarks regarding the conduct of the officers engaged in the administration of the States during the year be forwarded to the Appointment Department of this office for information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

F. B. PEACOCK,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE GENERAL REPORT OF THE CHOTA NAGPORE DIVISION FOR THE YEAR 1881-82.

GENERAL DEPARTMMENT.—MISCELLANEOUS.

Dated Calcutta, the 19th September 1882.

READ—

The General Administration Report of the Chota Nagpore Division for the year 1881-82.

Mr. Edgar, by whom the report has been compiled, assumed charge of the division from Mr Hewitt after the close of the year under review. Mr. Hewitt had been Commissioner throughout the year, with the exception of the months of August, September and October, during which he was absent on privilege leave. For these three months Mr. Metcalfe officiated as Commissioner.

2. Tour.—Mr. Hewitt, as in the previous year, made an extended and useful tour, and on the present occasion visited a great portion of the Lohardugga, Hazaribagh and Manbhoom districts. He has left on record some strong remarks, to which the attention of the Forest Department will be invited, regarding the denudation of the forest lands between Ranchi and Barsanda by indiscriminate cuttings of timber. The tours made by the district officers were in all respects satisfactory. Of the sub-divisional officers, those successively in charge of Govindpore alone complied fully with the requirements of Government in this respect. Ill-health rendered the tour of the Deputy Magistrate in charge of Giridi incomplete, and the Assistant Commissioner of Palamow was prevented from spending the prescribed time in camp by causes which the Commissioner considers as unavoidable.

3. Weather and crops.—As in the previous year, the rainfall, though above the average in the aggregate, was unevenly distributed. The amount of rain recorded varied from 67·39 inches at Chaibassa to 34·99 inches at Govindpore. The crops generally were fair, although the unequal distribution of the rainfall produced local differences in the outturn of the bhadoi and rubbee. The rice harvest was good in Palamow, Singbhoom, and Manbhoom; mohwa yielded well only in Palamow, and the mango crop was everywhere a failure.

4. Public health—A small amount of cholera was reported from each district, but the disease nowhere assumed an epidemic form. The largest number of deaths (420) occurred in Manbhoom, where the outbreak was traced to pilgrims travelling along the Grand Trunk Road. In this district small-pox was also more prevalent than elsewhere, though the total mortality due to the disease was small. An epidemic of fever broke out in Palamow, and in certain other localities with defective drainage and water-supply, and resulted in some mortality. Enquiries should be made whether the drainage of these localities can be improved by connecting, if possible, the sources of the water-supply with adjacent rivers. The vaccination staff, consisting of 1 Superintendent of Vaccination, 3 Inspectors, 2 native Supervisors, and 164 vaccinators, is said to have performed 154,049 operations, of which 116,227 were successful, 30,378 in Manbhoom were not verified, and the remainder were failures. The percentage of successful operations, exclusive of those not verified, was nearly the same as last year (94). Vaccination is said to be growing in popularity throughout the division, and it is satisfactory to learn that its benefits are now beginning to be appreciated by the Kols. The opinion expressed by the Deputy Commissioner that fees should not be charged for vaccination in the Kolhan has the Lieutenant-Governor's support and will be communicated to the Surgeon-General.

5. Material condition of the people.—The general prosperity noticed last year has continued throughout the period under review, and the favourable harvests are said to have led in most parts of the division to the adoption of a higher standard of comfort. Of the Kols of Lohardugga the Deputy Commissioner writes:—

"The true test of the condition of the Kols is afforded by watching the tide of emigration, examining the excise revenue, and ascertaining the demand for copper coin.

"In the past year emigration was slack, excise revenue good, and the demand for copper coins moderate, all indicating that there was no pressure on the general community."

In Ranchi it is said that "nearly all classes are ready to build superior dwellings if only sites were available." In Palamow "substantial tiled-roof houses are springing up everywhere, and the people are supplementing their earthen pots and pans by metal ones," and the increased demand is said to have led to a rise in the prices of the cloth and metal-ware sold at the Daltongunge fair. It is creditable to the officers of Government that this improvement in the standard of comfort is said to be especially noticeable in pergunnah Palamow, where the land is either the property of Government or is under the care of the Court of Wards. The superiority of the Christian villages in neatness, cleanliness and general appearance is noticeable.

6. Emigration and Immigration.—The account of emigration from each district of the Division for the last four years is compared in the following table:—

	1878-79.	1879-80.	1880-81.	1881-82.
Hazaribagh ...	6,952	2,819	1,738	2,809
Lohardugga ...	10,021	6,888	1,885	2,766
Singhbhoom ...	324	938	609	896
Manbhoom ...	1,799	3,170	1,502	1,285
Total ...	19,096	13,815	5,734	7,756

It appears from these figures that it was in Manbhoom alone, where the harvests were exceptionally rich, that the general prosperity was sufficient to counteract the effect of the greatly increased demand for labour caused by the revived prospects of the tea industry. This view is borne out by the statement of the Deputy Commissioner of Hazaribagh that in his district the increased numbers are due to garden sirdars taking away to Assam large numbers of their own relatives. Much space in the report is devoted to a reproduction of the views entertained by the Deputy Commissioner of Lohardugga with regard to the working of the emigration law and to an enumeration by the Deputy Commissioner of Hazaribagh of the chief cases of misconduct with regard to emigration which came before him during the year. As the new Act has only been in force for a short time, and as the Commissioner has stated in a separate communication that he is about to submit a general report on the working of the law, the Lieutenant-Governor does not propose to go into the subject at length on the present occasion. It may, however, be observed, with regard to the abuse said to be most rife, namely, the abduction of women for the purpose of being despatched to Assam as free labourers, that the law as to free emigration has not been altered in any material particular by Act I of 1882, and that free emigration was as lawful under the old law as it is at present. The apparent remedy for abuses of this nature is increased vigilance on the part of the magisterial officers and the police. Condign punishment, promptly inflicted on one or two offenders, would probably be effectual in checking malpractices. The evil referred to in paragraph 35, of registering coolies at a distance from the place of recruitment, requires attention. It is certainly against the intention of the Act, and could be remedied apparently by establishing a registering office in Palamow.

The Behari colony on the Deogun estates noticed last year is said to have continued as prosperous as before, though the late Commissioner expressed his doubts as to its future success when the minor attains his majority. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets to read that the minor, influenced probably by bad advisers, "has lately refused to give his consent to have the leases of a large number of villages which fall in this year renewed for terms of years, on the ground that, if the renewal is postponed till he comes of age, he will be able to get large salamis." Mr. Rivers Thompson trusts that the Court of Wards managing the Deogun estate has not been deterred by any shortsighted opposition on the part of the minor from exercising those plenary powers which the amended law confers on it for the good management of the estate and the future welfare of the ryots.

7. Prices of food and labour.—A further fall in prices of food-grains took place in the districts of Manbhoom and Singbhoom; in Hazaribagh and Lohardugga a slight rise occurred, but even in these districts the prices were lower than they have been in any recent year except 1880-81. The following table gives the comparative prices of rice and wheat in each district for the last four years :—

Year.	Hazaribagh.		Lohardugga.		Manbhoom.		Singbhoom.
	Rice.	Wheat.	Rice.	Wheat.	Rice.	Wheat.	Rice.	Wheat.
	S. c.	S. c.	S. c.	S. c.	S. c.	S. c.	S. c.	S. c.
1878-79 ...	15 5	10 8½	Not given.				15 0	9 0
1879-80 ..	19 12	11 10	24 2	12 3½	20 9	10 4½	20 13	7 10
1880-81 ..	24 10½	18 8	27 10	14 13	30 6	13 8	36 0	14 0
1881-82 ...	22 ·6	17 10½	24 14	17 0	32 13	15 0	36 0	23 0

As observed last year, local variations in prices are chiefly owing to the imperfect means of communication which exist in this division. The prices of labour remain unchanged, except at Ranchi and in the Giridi sub-division, where the demand is considerable and has caused a rise. In Giridi unskilled labour has risen from 2 to 3 annas a day, and skilled labour, which formerly earned 4 to 6 annas, now receives 4 to 8 annas.

8. Manufactures and mines.—The lac-dye industry in the Lohardugga district is said to be declining, and the Deputy Commissioner reports that "the Ranchi Lac Company have for some months been running the dye off into the fields; it does not pay the cost of manufacture having been completely supplanted in the market by aniline dyes. It was not a prosperous season with the Company; though the raw article, stick-lac, was cheap and plentiful, prices of shell-lac fell in a corresponding ratio." The export of lac from Manbhoom, where prices were said to be rising at the close of 1880-81, is not noticed by the Commissioner. The Commissioner reports that Messrs Thomson and Mylne's hand sugar-mills are in great demand in the greater part of the Palamow sub-division. The great wealth of Chota Nagpore in coal mines is well known, and the development of this important industry only requires that the country should be opened out by a railway and by improved communications. Besides the important coal mines of Giridi, which are connected with the East Indian Railway system, coal is raised for local consumption in the south of the Hazaribagh district and in the Govindpore and Palamow sub-divisions of Manbhoom and Lohardugga. The following remarks on the subject of the mineral products of Chota Nagpore were left on record by Mr. Hewitt, and are quoted as the opinion of an observant officer with local experience :—

"A syndicate formed in Calcutta preparatory to the starting of a mining company has bought up the mining rights of the Burrabhoom Rajah in the Manbhoom district, and the mining rights of the subordinate village proprietors in Dhadka, one of the subordinate estates under the Burrabhoom Rajah, have also been bought by a Calcutta firm, and the representatives of the purchasers have been prospecting in those parts of the country where their rights lie. I have not yet heard whether they have been very successful, but if they find no better ore than what was shown to me by the zemindar of Bagmoondi as having been declared to be a copper one by one of the proprietors, I do not think their search is likely to lead to very profitable results, though, if it does, the costs of litigation arising out of the complicated tenures that exist in the Burrabhoom country will probably add greatly to the expenses of the successful finders. There is also some talk of opening a copper mine in the Paresnath Hill. As I said last year, denudation and erosion have been at work throughout the hills of the division for nearly two geological periods, the secondary and tertiary, and it is therefore more than probable that all metallic veins have been laid bare during the process, the product of the veins eroded by water or human agency, and that therefore there will be but little left for future exposure. This view is of course only founded on theory, and diligent search may show veins which have escaped the destructive influences from which others have suffered, and which may give similar large returns by the early miners who worked the copper vein at Lando in Seraikella.

"Manufactures and coal-mining both await the coming of the railway before they can become what they ought to be—the leading industries of the Chota Nagpore plateau. If after the present railway survey is completed, the new line to Bombay is taken over the Ranchi plateau to Surgooja, and a branch through the Karunpura coal-field to Gya be made, the prospects of Chota Nagpore will be most brilliant, and it will be to the North-West, Oudh, Behar, and Bengal what the north of England is to the south, with additional advantage; that, besides giving profitable employment to those who are willing to leave their houses and work in factories, it will also open out larger areas to such Behar ryots as would wish to remain agriculturists, but would be glad to exchange their infinitesimally small and heavily rented holdings for large areas of cheaper land in a climate similar to that they have hitherto been accustomed to. If the railway through the Karunpura coal-field to Gya be made, coal can be sold throughout Behar at a large profit at Rs. 6 a ton and under. As firewood now costs from Rs 9 to 12, and even higher prices in places remote from the jungle, there can be no doubt that in the towns coal will immediately largely supersede and at length replace firewood, and that the sale will before long extend into the country. Though the Hindoo character is pre-eminently conservative, it is also eminently thrifty, and when once it is practically shown that coal can be bought for a little more than half the price of firewood or cowdung cakes, the people will not be long before they take advantage of the cheaper fuel."

The Lieutenant-Governor believes that the great want of the division—a railway—will soon be supplied; though it probably will not follow the course which Mr. Hewitt advocates. There is reason, however, for the conclusion that the southern line will lead to even wider material developments. It is impossible to over-estimate the results which may be expected from affording a free outlet to the great natural resources of Chota Nagpore.

9. Tea.—Some new gardens were opened out in the Lohardugga district during the year, but the total outturn of tea both in that district and in Hazaribagh has not been so large as in the preceding year, thus:—

	Number of gardens.			Area under cultivation.						Gross yield in pounds.			Average yield per acre, mature plants.
				Mature plants.			Immature plants.
	1879-80.	1880-81.	1881-82.	1879-80.	1880-81.	1881-82.	1879-80.	1880-81.	1881-82.	1879-80.	1880-81.	1881-82.	1879-80.	1880-81.	1881-82.
Hazaribagh	6	6	6	734	635	781	210	336	221	65,455	79,927	76,668	89	126·6	104·8
Lohardugga	23	25	29	438	592	666	1,135	1,331	774	82,189	140,937	131,409	189	209·6	141·5

The falling off is attributed to want of timely rain in Hazaribagh, and of timely sunshine in Lohardugga.

10. Trade and Commerce.—The general prevalence of favourable harvests again rendered the demand for rice slack, especially in the districts of Manbhoom and Singbhoom, though for some reason, which is not explained, there seems to have been an increase in the exports of grain of all kinds from Hazaribagh. Owing to the heavy rain of July and August the yield of tusser was smaller than usual, and the exports from Singbhoom and Manbhoom declined. Notwithstanding the lessened demand for lac-dye, the trade in lac is said to have been unusually brisk; the year was a favourable one and the quantities exported were large. The price, however, has fallen considerably. The total value of the lac exported from Lohardugga is estimated at Rs. 6,00,000, the greater part of the produce being exported to Calcutta and Mirzapore. From Manbhoom 92,000 maunds valued at Rs. 17,74,600 were exported against 1,60,000 valued at Rs. 31,00,000 in the previous year. There was an increase also in the demand for hides, tusser cloth, stone-plates and jungle produce. In Lohardugga the demand for timber has decreased owing to the substitution of iron for wood as a material for sleepers. The quantity of piece-goods imported into the division is not given, but it is stated that the readiest sale for these articles is found in the large towns and, as might be expected, among the non-aboriginal population. The peasantry in the mofussil and the aboriginal tribes are said for the most part to wear cloth of local manufacture. If this is the case, it would be interesting to learn something of the condition of the weaving industry in Chota Nagpore which is not mentioned in the report, but which must be tolerably extensive. The quantity of salt imported into Hazaribagh and Singbhoom was largely in excess of the imports of the previous year. Much of the salt imported into Singbhoom, however, is re-exported for consumption in the Tributary States of Orissa. In the district of Manbhoom the imports of salt showed some diminution. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to learn that a commencement of trade registration has been made in the Govindpore sub-division, where the lessees of the cart serais keep up registers of the carts on the principal roads. The success of this experiment should be noticed in the annual report next year, and it is hoped that it may be found possible to extend the system to other portions of the division where the requisite machinery exists.

11. State of public feeling.—The only administrative measure which excited any opposition during the year was the forest demarcation in the Sarenda Pir and Porahat pergunnahs of Singbhoom. Ultimately, however, the personal influence of the Deputy Commissioner and the liberality towards the people of the Forest Department overcame the discontent in Sarenda Pir. In Porahat some irritation is said still to exist. The introduction of forest operations into wild tracts like those in Singbhoom is always a matter requiring delicate management on the part of the local officers, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that care will be taken to avoid all unnecessary causes of friction. In the general interests the reservation and demarcation of forests is a necessity, but those measures can always be conducted with indulgent consideration for the inhabitants of the locality by assigning to them small areas for the supply of wood for fuel and other domestic purposes. It is satisfactory to learn that the forest operations in Porahat have not tended in any way to keep alive the excitement which existed last year in that pergunnah on the subject of the settlement. In the Khursowan and Dogni Tributary Estates friction is said to exist between the Chiefs and their subjects on the question of forced labour which the latter are unwilling to render and the former to give up. It was believed at the commencement of the year that the agitation among the Kols on the subject of the Chota Nagpore tenures had entirely subsided, but this is reported not to be the case, and a petition on the subject is said now to be in circulation for presentation to the Queen. Mr. Power, the Deputy Commissioner, attributes much of the agitation to ignorance of Kol customs and to ill-advised attempts to force upon this aboriginal people inappropriate laws. His remarks upon this subject have attracted the attention of the Lieutenant-Governor, who, however, does not see how the question of the permanent settlement can be brought in as affecting injuriously the tenant rights of the people in the Kolhan, or how the Maharajah, as a landed proprietor and responsible for the payment of revenue to Government, can be debarred from his right of directly receiving his rents. If there is something peculiar in the customary law of the Kols, the Lieutenant-Governor would be glad if Mr Power could find the leisure for that systematic enquiry into, and exposition of, it, the want of which he seems to regret.

12. Statistical enquiries.—The revised results of the recent census are compared in the following table with those of the census of 1872:—

	Area in square miles.	Population in 1872.	Population in 1881.
Hazaribagh	7,021	771,875	1,104,742
Lohardugga	12,044	1,237,123	1,609,244
Manbhoom	4,119	820,521	1,058,228
Singbhoom	4,503	415,023	453,775
	27,687	3,244,542	4,225,989

The collection of vital statistics is considered by the district officers to show some improvement; but the number of deaths per mille registered in each district—19 in Singbhoom, 18 in Lohardugga, 16 in Hazaribagh, and 12 in Manbhoom—would seem to indicate that considerable room for further improvement exists.

13. Police and crime.—The state of the police is discreditable. Exclusive of Lohardugga, for which no statistics are furnished, it appears that out of a total of 926 policemen of various grades employed in the division, 186 or 19·19 per cent. were punished either judicially or departmentally—a state of things attributed mainly to the want of good under-officers who seem to be scarcely procurable. In Palamow some improvement is said to have resulted from the appointment of an Assistant District Superintendent of Police, though the distance between the sub-divisional and district head-quarters is believed by the Assistant Commissioner to interfere considerably with this officer's usefulness. The Commissioner should report whether the Assistant Superintendent is competent to be invested with the powers of a District Superintendent. In Manbhoom the increase in the number of punishments of police officers is so very remarkable, that one wonders if the activity of the present District Superintendent of Police in this respect will shortly leave him any police at all to control. The proportion of punishments in this district (19·88) is, however, little higher than that in the remainder of the division. With the exception of Manbhoom, the working of the Chowkidari Act appears to be unsatisfactory throughout Chota Nagpore. The statements of Mr. Power on the subject, and his denunciation of the Act, make it very necessary that the Commissioner should take up the question and report upon it at length. When the village police, who are said to be "to a man illiterate and to be recruited generally from the lowest classes," are on low salaries and are kept out of their pay for months, it can scarcely be expected that they will be efficient helps to the administration. The Lieutenant-Governor will await a further report on this subject from the Commissioner. During the year the number of cognizable cases increased from 4,542 to 5,012. Of the increase, about one-half (or 242 cases) took place in offences against property and is said to be mainly due to a stop having been put to a system of suppressing cases which had formerly prevailed in the Giridi sub-division. The percentage of conviction to arrests rose in Lohardugga and Manbhoom, and fell in Hazaribagh and Singbhoom. The percentage of acquittals in serious cases was everywhere extremely high. The proportion of stolen property recovered shows a slight improvement, having risen from 32·2 to 35·6 per cent. The only redeeming feature in this section of the report is that gang robbery appears to have disappeared from the district.

14. Civil justice.—The number and value of the civil and rent suits instituted in the division during the past two years are compared in the following table:—

District.	Number of Suits.						Value of Suits.
	1880.			1881.			1880.			1881.
	Money or moveables.	Title suits.	Suits under rent law.	Money or moveables.	Title suits.	Suits under rent law.	Money or moveables.	Title suits.	Suits under rent law.	Money or moveables.	Title suits.	Suits under rent law.
							Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Hazaribagh ...	1,623	85	801	1,164	65	90	1,85,356	97,274	47,951	2,54,365	38,210	5,946
Lohardugga ...	843	94	745	799	114	592	1,19,218	70,298	26,087	1,07,906	1,98,728	5,946
Singbhoom ...	38	13	37	33	5	12	4,730	4,010	3,143	5,953	2,827	1,491
Manbhoom ...	1,609	633	1,524	1,536	445	1,584	1,17,412	94,443	93,098	1,44,921	1,55,852	85,659

In Hazaribagh the number of suits for money and moveables rose by 144, while the value of the property in dispute was greater by Rs. 98,009 than in 1880. In the same district rent suits fell from 801 to 90, the property in dispute diminishing from Rs. 47,951 to Rs. 5,946. The former increase, as explained by the Deputy Commissioner, is due to the prosperity of the year, which led money-lenders and others to sue for money due to them. The Commissioner discredits this explanation, and it would seem that no real reason is forthcoming. Of the decrease in rent suits no explanation is offered. Title suits show an increase in Hazaribagh of 24 and in Lohardugga of 20. The falling off in title suits in Manbhoom is attributed to the transfer of seven pergunnahs to Bankoora.

15. Land and land revenue.—As usual the collections of land revenue were good. Out of Rs. 3,84,956 due from 369 estates, Rs. 3,75,520 or 97·5 was collected. In Singbhoom and Manbhoom there are no arrears of revenue, and in Hazaribagh and the Tributary States the arrears amount only to Rs. 695 and Rs. 533 respectively. In some districts a certain amount of revenue had been collected in advance for the current year. In Hazaribagh the settlement of the Dhunwar Ward's Estate has been quite, and that of the Koderma Government Estate almost, completed. The settlement of the Toondi estate is reported to have been, as was anticipated, of great benefit, and the Lieutenant-Governor would be glad, if it were possible, to extend the system adopted by Mr. Risley to other estates. The establishment generally of pergunnah rates would be also good. A further report should be submitted on this subject. The survey of the Khalsa villages of the Chota Nagpore estate in Lohardugga proceeded slowly, and much yet remains to be done. A complaint is made of a want of good ameens. A reference on the subject should be made to the Board. It might be quite possible to find good men who would take employment through the Superintendent of the Dearah Surveys in Dacca. With regard to the survey of ghatwali lands in Manbhoom, the Commissioner writes:—

"The ghatwali survey has made good progress under Munshi Nundjee during the year. Except as regards disputes, the work of survey and demarcation is practically finished The number of service tenures has been found to be larger than was at first supposed, and disputes have been very numerous, especially in the southern pergunnahs, Manbhoom, Burrabhoom, and Patkoom. In some villages there seems to have been a loss of service lands, but this is more than compensated by gain in other places, where the service tenants have acquired titles against zemindars by long adverse possession. The erection of permanent boundary marks is being pushed on."

The operation of the Chota Nagpore Landlord and Tenant Act continues to give satisfaction. The question as to the Rent law, Act I (B C.) of 1879, will receive attention when the general revision of the Bengal Rent Code comes under consideration.

16. Excise.—The excise revenue of 1880-81, which was then the largest ever realized in the division, has been exceeded by Rs. 1,04,897, giving a total of Rs. 5,33,783. The increase is mainly under the head of outstills, and is attributed "partly to the general prosperity of the people consequent on the recent good harvests, partly to increased vigilance in dealing with illicit consumption, and partly to the substitution of the monthly tax for the fixed duty on country spirits." In Hazaribagh 14 new outstills were established in consequence of the abolition of the sudder distillery at Echak. In Lohardugga, notwithstanding a decrease of 18 in the number of outstills, the income from this source was greater by Rs 34,110 than in the previous year. The district officers believe that the effect of the outstills is seen not in increased drinking, but in the substitution of taxed for untaxed liquor. The Commissioner should endeavour carefully to verify his suspicions as to the undue spread of outstills, and his attention is requested to the remarks made by the Lieutenant-Governor on this subject in the Resolutions on the Administration Reports of the Bhagulpore and Patna Divisions. The increase in the consumption of ganja will, it is hoped, be repressed by the enhanced duty now imposed on the drug.

17. License Tax.—In the districts of Hazaribagh and Manbhoom the lists of assessees are said to have been carefully revised. In the former district the result of the revision was such as to justify the doubts expressed by the Commissioner as to the accuracy of the previous assessment; while the number of assessees was increased from 1,383 to 1,658, there was a reduction in the total demand from Rs. 30,660 to Rs. 25,900, showing a decrease in the demand per head of the persons assessed from Rs. 22-2-4 to Rs. 15-6-3. With regard to Manbhoom, the figures given are evidently incorrect, but it appears that the revision resulted in a slight increase both in the number of assessees and in the amount of the demand. In Lohardugga, where last year's assessment was, it is said, taken as the basis for collection, the number of assessees remained practically unchanged, but the gross demand fell from Rs. 34,310 to Rs 18,880, or from Rs. 26-10-3 to Rs. 14-9-11 The amount actually realized, however, did not differ very materially from that collected in the previous year, as in 1880-81 remissions and refunds were made to the extent of Rs. 16,305. In Singbhoom the whole amount of the tax is insignificant, but the tendency was in the same direction, the number of assessees having increased from 148 to 206, and the amount of demand having declined from Rs. 6,030 to Rs. 3,180. The Commissioner gives a table showing the comparative number of petitions and appeals filed in the two years, which would be more valuable if it showed the result of the proceedings. Looking, however, at the working of the Act as a whole, it is impossible to avoid the conclusions that either the former assessments or those made in course of the revision of the lists have been of the most haphazard description. The Lieutenant-Governor would have been better pleased had some substantial reasons been given for adopting the second alternative.

18. Stamps.—The stamp revenue of the division, which had fallen from Rs. 2,61,028 in 1879-80 to Rs. 2,27,135 in 1880-81, rose again to Rs. 2,74,101 in the year under review. The increase is attributed to the good harvests, to the large number of rent-suits instituted by the zemindar of Ramgurh, to the cessation of the panic which the Chota Nagpore Tenures Act had caused among the money-lenders.

19. Monetary arrangements.—There was an increase in the circulation of notes in Lohardugga, and a falling off owing to the depression of the lac trade in Manbhoom. In Hazaribagh and Singbhoom, during portion of the year, the want of currency notes, which were not supplied to the treasuries, was felt as a great inconvenience. This matter will be brought to the notice of the Comptroller-General.

20. Fisheries.—Much good is anticipated from the outlay of Rs. 20,000 sanctioned for the construction of fish ladders on the anicut across the Sone river at Dehri. The want of these ladders is said to have almost put a stop to the supply of fish in the rivers of the Palamow sub-division.

21. Forests.—The most noticeable fact connected with forest administration in Chota Nagpore was the examination by Mr. Heinig, with a view to their conservation, of the forests of the Hazaribagh district. The whole tract examined was found to have been at no very distant period covered with valuable forests which by injudicious cutting have been almost destroyed. It should now be possible to introduce a proper system of conservancy and put a stop to the ruthless waste which has hitherto taken place. Rules for the protection of the forests of Palamow from fire were framed during the year, and the results of their enforcement have been exceedingly satisfactory.

22. Communications.—The remarks of the Commissioner on the subject of the management of the roads under the Public Works Department of Government will be considered in that department. In Manbhoom the provincial roads are said to be in good order, but metalling and bridging have made little progress in Hazaribagh and Lohardugga. The means at the disposal of the District Committees of Manbhoom, Hazaribagh, and Lohardugga have not admitted of much outlay on original works. Repairs have, however, been executed, and greater attention is said to have been given to village roads for which considerable sums were assigned in the two districts last named. In Singbhoom, where the Cess Act is not in force, an allotment of Rs. 10,000 was made for district roads from Provincial Funds, but the necessity for a larger contribution is strongly urged by the Commissioner, a copy of whose remarks on this point will be sent to the Public Works Department.

23. Education.—With the exception of Singbhoom every district shows an increase in the number of schools as compared with the previous year, but it is not stated whether a corresponding increase has taken place in the number of pupils. The following table shows the number and classes of the schools of the division:—

District.	1880-81.									1881-82.
	High English.	Middle English.	Middle Vernacular.	Normal School.	Lower Vernacular.	Primary.	Indigenous.	Girls.	Total.	High English.	Middle English.	Middle Vernacular.	Normal School	Lower Vernacular	Primary	Indigenous.	Girls.	Total
Hazaribagh .	2	7	4	..	4	258		...	275	2	7	4	.	12	230	24	4	283
Lohardugga	2	3	6	4	11	216	115	4	245	2	3	7	4	16	261	47	8	342
Singbhoom .	1	..	5	1		67	80	1	154	1	.	5	1		99	13	1	119
Manbhoom	2	3	14	1	10	233	.	3	266	2	3	13	1	13	324	53	8	413
Total .	7	13	29	6	25	794	154	8	920	7	13	29	6	41	913	137	11	1,156

The increase was confined entirely to primary and indigenous schools. In Lohardugga it is said that the examination held by the Deputy Commissioner when on tour has excited considerable interest, but he adds, "where primary education is most wanted there the difficulty of keeping a school open is greatest. The people care nothing for education, they grudge losing the services of their children, and without constant pressure will contribute nothing towards the guru's pay." Apathy of this nature is to be looked for in a backward district, with imperfect means of communication and consequently small intercourse with the outside world. On the other hand it is gratifying to read of the popularity of primary schools among the Hos of Singbhoom, who contribute nearly two-thirds of the whole attendance at these schools. Several of the primary schools have been closed owing to want of funds, a fact greatly to be regretted in a district where such satisfactory results are apparent, and the Director of Public Instruction will be requested to consider whether it is possible to give Singbhoom a larger share than at present of the allotment for primary education. The difficulty seems to be rather want of interest on the part of the teachers than of the pupils, and the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to see that endeavours are being made to stimulate the former by a gradual introduction of the reward system.

24. Committees.—The working of the Municipal, Road Cess and other Committees is thus summed up by the Commissioner, and the summary seems to the Lieutenant-Governor to present on the whole a satisfactory aspect of affairs in a backward part of the country :—

"The members of the Committees in Manbhoom are said to take a lively interest in their proceedings, and the Deputy Commissioner considers that these Committees are useful in auditing accounts and discussing questions of general policy. In Lohardugga the Deputy Commissioner reports that individual members take an interest in matters which affect themselves directly. European members, for instance, of the Road Cess Committee, are keen in having good communications opened along lines which tap their properties, but they do not seem to show much public spirit. In Singbhoom the native members are reported to take no real interest in the matters brought before them ; they merely attend meetings out of respect and deference for the district officials. The work of the Education Committees seems to have been practically confined to the supervision of zillah schools. The Market Committee at Purulia has been reported to be doing much towards improving the management of the municipal market. The continued success of the market is said to be owing to the care and watchfulness against abuses of the members of the Committees."

25. Wards and Encumbered Estates.—The number of estates under management of the Court of Wards was nine throughout the year. The collections were generally good and showed a considerable advance on those of 1880-81. In six estates the proportion of rent collected was over 100 per cent. on the current demand, and in two cases only Panjrikolan (84·8) and Katras (24·3) was the percentage below 90. The falling off in the latter estate, in which last year the collections exceeded considerably the current demand, has not been explained. The most important estate under the Court in the division is that of the minor Maharajah of Chota Nagpore, on which the current demand for rent exceeds one lakh and sixty-five thousand rupees. The Maharajah and his younger brother are being educated at Bankipore under the charge of an English guardian, and are said to be making satisfactory progress, intellectually and morally. The large estate of Deogun in Palamow, which is now in a prosperous condition, has been released from management since the close of the year. Under the Chota Nagpore Encumbered Estates Act sixty-six estates were under management at the close of the year, showing an increase of 11 since its commencement Except in Manbhoom, the collections were on the whole fair, amounting to 96·5 in Hazareebagh, 77·4 in Lohardugga, 71·4 in Singbhoom. In Manbhoom they were only 57·1 of the current demand. The total liabilities of the estates under management amounted at the close of the year to Rs. 14,93,373. Regarding the working of the Act, the Deputy Commissioner of Lohardugga makes the following laudatory remarks: and, the Lieutenant-Governor thinks, not without just cause :—

"This is only the second year of management. I consider that the results are such as may well be contemplated with pride and satisfaction. We found the proprietors looking forward with despair to utter and irretrievable ruin, helpless to disentangle themselves from the network of debts, disputes, and litigation in which they were involved. We have taken them in hand, ascertained their liabilities, recorded their actual rent-rolls, and are now teaching them our system of management, so that when the estates are free they may continue it. We relieve tenants from unjust demands, and call to account those who have been evading their just liabilities. We have now some chance of ascertaining and verifying salutary local customs, recognition of which I look upon as a panacea for the fermenting unrest noticeable among the aboriginal cultivators."

The Lieutenant-Governor will await a report from the Board of Revenue on the subject of the reference which the Commissioner proposes to make to them regarding the class of estates to be taken under management.

26. Conduct of Zemindars.—The management of the Maharajah of Jherria and his liberality are again commended by the Commissioner, and the Lieutenant-Governor shares the regret expressed at the death of Maharani Hingun Kumari of Pundra, a benevolent lady who was always ready to support or assist useful and charitable institutions. The management of the Rajah of Pachete has been frequently under the unfavourable notice of Government of late years, but it is hoped that recent orders may induce the Rajah to make some efforts in the direction of improvement. Should he fail to do so speedily, he must be prepared for the adoption by Government, in the interests of his family and of the ryots of Pachete, of other measures than good advice.

27. Character of Officers.—The Commissioner's remarks on this subject will be considered in the Appointment Department. Here it may be mentioned that of the Covenanted Officers Messrs. Power and Risley are most highly spoken of, while of the Uncovenanted Officers Baboos Rai Charun Ghosh, Raj Gopal Ray, and Ganganand Mookerjee have specially distinguish ed themselves.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. P. MACDONNELL,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction of the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park-street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore ·003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 1·05° lower; and finally, the thermometer, which has furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during the last 20 years and upwards, is found to read 0·6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

JOHN ELIOT,
for Meteorological Reporter to the Govt. of India.

METEOROLOGICAL OFFICE, INDIA,
The 18th September 1882.

Report on Traffic of the East Indian Railway for three weeks and one day ending 22nd July 1882.

THE audited figures for the period are as follow :—

	Coaching.		Goods.		Total.	Materials carried on revenue account, including maintenance.
	No.	Rs.	Mds.	Rs.	Rs.	Mds.	Rs.
1882	542,024	6,11,367	53,21,368	18,76,111	24,87,478	18,14,763	73,678

Decrease	.....	.....	.....	.....	.....	.....	9,302

resulting in an increase of earnings on the total traffic of 12 per cent.

The periods compared are—

1882 ... 22 days.
1881 ... 23 „

COACHING.

The figures exhibit an increase of 2 per cent. in numbers, the amount earned being approximately the same as last year.

GOODS.

The goods traffic does not present any unusual features during the period beyond the increase in wheat and seeds.
The principal staples affected were—

INCREASES.

Coal, up and down.
Government Ordnance stores.
Wheat.
Gunny.
Railway materials (foreign).
Seeds.

DECREASES.

Beer, Commissariat.
Other grains.
Pulses of all kinds.
Salt.

REMARKS.

Coal, up ... ... Mds. 26,790 Rs. 10,550
The increase appears against Asansol and Barakar.

Coal, down ... ... Mds. 75,000 Rs. 14,870
All the coal-despatching stations, with the exception of those on the Toposi Branch, were busy during the period owing to the brisk demand in Calcutta.

Government Ordnance stores ... ... Mds. 7,040 Rs. 10,420
Owing to the activity of the various depôts in preparing for the anticipated Egyptian expedition.

Wheat ... ... Mds. 2,33,320 Rs. 1,91,160
Nearly three-fourths of this increase appears in the week ending the 22nd July, and is doubtless attributable to the reduced monsoon rate, which came into force on the 15th idem.

Gunny ... ... Mds. 15,700 Rs. 21,480
Consequent on the increase in country produce exported.

Railway materials (foreign) ... ... Mds. 27,690 Rs. 25,940
Consisted of rails and permanent-way material.

Seeds ... ... Mds. 2,89,160 Rs. 1,31,100
The Calcutta market reports show a strong demand to have arisen in the fortnight ending 21st July with more favourable rates.

Beer, Commissariat ... ... Mds. 9,400 Rs. 16,080
This falling off is due to the encouragement given to Indian brewed beer for the troops.

Other grains ... ... Mds. 1,06,520 Rs. 43,940

Pulses ... ... Mds. 44,180 Rs. 24,460
The importation of food-grains into the North-West Provinces has ceased.

Salt ... ... Mds. 63,000 Rs. 27,840
The previous heavy despatches and the consequent accumulation of stocks up-country doubtless led to a more moderate demand for Liverpool salt.

The train mileage for the period has been, excluding maintenance and locomotive coal train-mileage—

After the receipt and examination of all such applications, and at a date not less than one month before the election, a printed list of all persons qualified to vote or to be elected will be prepared and affixed by the Chairman of the Commissioners in some conspicuous place in or near his office, and at the police-station of each of the wards of the town, for general information, and such lists will be open to public inspection for fifteen days after the date of publication. In virtue of the authority conferred on the Chairman by the second paragraph of section 18 and section 19, Act IV of 1876, "the Chairman shall be at liberty at any time to revise the said list for the purpose of removing therefrom the name of any person not duly qualified and erroneously entered therein, or of recording the name of any person duly qualified and erroneously omitted therefrom."

Rule 3.—No person shall be qualified to vote at an election, or to be elected as a Commissioner, unless his name shall be registered as prescribed by section 18 or section 19 of the Act.

Rule 4.—The election shall be held at the stations hereinafter appointed for the respective wards, which are numbered and defined in the first schedule of the Act, that is to say—

Wards 1, 2, 3, at the Burtollah Police Section.

Rule 5.—The Municipal Commissioners shall appoint one or more polling officers to preside at each station, and may pay to each officer so appointed such reasonable remuneration for his services as they may think fit. Each polling officer so appointed shall keep order at his station, shall regulate the number of voters to be admitted at a time, and may exclude all other persons, except the clerks, the agents of the candidates and the constables on duty.

Rule 6.—Each polling officer shall be supplied by the Chairman of the Municipal Commissioners with a copy of so much of the register of the persons entitled to vote as may relate to the ward or wards for which such polling officer is appointed to take votes, and also with a copy of the register of persons qualified to be elected as Municipal Commissioners.

(3)—Present it himself at the polling station on the day of the poll, or (4)—Entrust the whole or any part of such paper, containing one or more complete votes, to any person whom he may select for delivery at the polling station on the day of the poll.

Rule 12.—Any voter who, owing to miscarriage of the post office or other mishap, may not have received his voting paper by the 14th day before the poll, may apply at the Municipal Office personally or by agent, putting in a written statement that he has not received any voting paper. In such cases a voting paper marked "duplicate" shall be given, which may be dealt with in any of the ways prescribed for original papers under Rule 9.

Rule 13.—On the day of the poll, should it appear that votes are tendered on behalf of any voter on the original voting paper, and also on a duplicate paper obtained under the last preceding rule, the fact shall be noted, and a list of all such votes be prepared as soon as possible, ward by ward, and be posted up at the Municipal Office. Unless the voter comes forward within three days after such list has been published, and states that the vote or votes on the original paper are forgeries, the original votes shall count, and the votes on the duplicate paper be cancelled.

Rule 14.—Voting papers on different coloured paper from the original and duplicate papers referred to above shall be provided at all polling stations at the time of the poll, and any voter who has not already voted, or who may wish to cancel his previous votes, may, notwithstanding that he has already filled up an original or a duplicate voting paper, appear at the poll and fill up a paper in the presence of the polling officer, and such vote or votes shall alone be held valid and shall cancel all previous votes.

Rule 15.—All persons qualified to vote, who are able to read and write, should in their own handwriting put down the names of the candidates for whom they desire to vote, but in case the person voting is unable to write, he may authorize some person to sign for him and to put down the name of the candidates for whom he is desirous of voting, and in such case the person so signing shall put down his own signature underneath the name of the voter.

Rule 17.—On the day fixed for the election, the polling shall commence at 9 A.M. and shall close at 6 P.M. precisely, and each voter shall, as prescribed in Rule 9, present or forward in a sealed cover his voting paper, with the name of the person, or names of the persons, for whom he desires to vote, and with all particulars duly filled in.

Rule 18.—In all cases where, in accordance with Rule 15, the existing papers are signed and filled up in any language other than English, the name of the voter and of the persons for whom he votes shall also be entered in English.

Rule 19.—On the presentation of each voting paper, the polling officer shall forthwith note on the back of each voting paper whether it was presented by the elector in person, and, if not, the name in full and residence of person presenting it.

Rule 20.—If the voting paper is not in accordance with Rules 8, 15, and 18, the polling officer shall receive the votes under objection, and shall record the objection on the back of the voting paper.

Rule 21.—The polling officer shall satisfy himself that the voter and the person for whom he votes are entered in the printed lists referred to in Rule 3. He shall then note off against the elector's name the fact of the vote or votes and the person or persons for whom the vote or votes have been given. In case the polling officer, on coming afterwards to note off a later vote or votes from the same elector, find that a second voting paper has been used, he shall note the objection and forward the papers to the Chairman for action in accordance with Rule 13 or 14 as the case may be.

Rule 22.—After noting the above information, the polling officer shall attach a consecutive number to each voting paper, and shall, under the said number, affix his signature. The polling officer shall then read out in a loud voice three times the name and residence of the elector, and the names and residences of the person or persons for whom he votes.

Rule 23.—Up to the close of the poll, as provided for in Rule 17, any person present at the polling station shall be at liberty to object to any voter or intending voter on any of the grounds indicated in the above rules.

Rule 25.—At the close of the poll, the polling officer shall forward all the voting papers, arranged according to their consecutive numbers, in a packet duly sealed and secured, to the Chairman of the Municipal Commissioners.

Rule 26.—The polling officer shall, at the close of the day, transmit to the Chairman of the Municipal Commissioners a list of the objections taken by him under Rules 20 and 21, or admitted by him under Rule 23, and the said Chairman shall, after hearing and deciding upon all such objections, make lists of the votes given in each ward, and shall record the same in his office.

Orders and Notifications by the Government of India, &c.

[Reprinted from the Gazette of India.]

The following Extraordinary, issued by the Government of India in the Department of Finance and Commerce, is republished for general information :—

NOTIFICATION.—ACCOUNTS AND FINANCE.

Simla, the 26th September 1882.

The Governor-General in Council has determined to borrow Two Hundred and Fifty Lakhs of Rupees, being the amount required for the public service.

The following Notification is therefore published :—

FOUR PER CENT. LOAN.

His Excellency the Right Hon'ble the Governor-General in Council has resolved to borrow Two Hundred and Fifty Lakhs of Rupees for the public service in the following manner.

2. Promissory Notes will be issued for the said amount in Form A annexed to this Notification, being the form of the notes of The Four Per Cent. Loan of 1842-43, of which Loan the notes to be now issued will form a part. All the conditions which apply to notes of The Four Per Cent. Loan of 1842-43, will apply to the notes to be now issued.

3. Tenders for the whole or any part of the said amount of Two Hundred and Fifty Lakhs of Rupees will be received by the Comptroller-General from this date to noon of Wednesday, the 1st November 1882. Tenders must be in even hundreds of rupees not less than 500 Rs.

4. Each tender must be addressed, in the form annexed to this Notification, to the Comptroller-General, Calcutta, and enclosed in a sealed cover, superscribed, "Tender for the Four Per Cent. Loan, 1882." If the tenderer is not resident india, he must name an agent resident in India to whom a letter of allotment may be issued if any part of the loan is allotted to such tenderer.

5. Each tender must be accompanied by a receipt from one of the Banks of Bengal, Madras, or Bombay, or one of their Branches, or from an Officer in charge of some public Treasury, or by a cheque drawn in favour of the Comptroller-General on a Bank in Calcutta, Madras, or Bombay, or by* Government Promissory Notes, standing in the name of or endorsed to the tenderer or the person making the deposit, for not less than one-hundredth, or, if the tender be for less than Five Lakhs of Rupees, then for not less than one-fiftieth part of the tender. If the allotment is not fully taken up, this deposit of one or two per centum will be forfeited ; and if one or more Government Promissory Notes have been deposited, such note or notes will be appropriated by the Government and cancelled ; otherwise, if the deposit is in cash, it will be treated as in part payment of the last instalment. A cash deposit may, after acceptance of the tender in support of which it is made, be replaced by a Government Promissory Note, as aforesaid.

6. The rate at which a tender is made must not contain a fraction of an anna : if a rate containing a fraction of an anna is inserted in any tender, such fraction will be struck out and the tender treated as if the rate did not contain such fraction of an anna.

7. The rate at which each tender is made must be specified in rupees or rupees and annas : a tender in which no rate is thus specified, but a subscription is offered in some other terms, as, for example, at the recorded minimum, or at some specified percentage in addition to the recorded minimum, or at the average of the accepted tenders, will be rejected as null and void.

8 The minimum rate at which tenders will be accepted will be recorded under the signature of the Comptroller-General, and, before the tenders are opened, placed upon the table in a sealed envolope, but will not be declared unless some tender is rejected only because it is below the recorded minimum.

9. Tenders will be opened, publicly, by the Comptroller-General at the Currency Office, No. 1, Dalhousie Square, Calcutta, at noon on Wednesday, the 1st November 1882; but the contents of the tenders will not be disclosed. otherwise than as provided in clause 11.

10. Tenders at the recorded minimum rate, and at rates above the recorded minimum rate, will be accepted in the order of the rates tendered, beginning with the highest rate; the amount allotted at the lowest rate at which tenders are accepted, will be divided amongst those who have tendered at this rate, in proportion, as nearly as may be found convenient, to the amounts of their tenders.

11. As soon as possible after the 1st November 1882, letters of allotment will be issued to those persons whose tenders are accepted in whole or in part, or to their agents ; and an alphabetical list of the names of those to whom such letters of allotment are issued will be posted, for general information, at the Head Offices of the Banks of Bengal, Madras, and Bombay.

12. Payment of any accepted tender may be made to the account of the Government in the Head Office of one of the Banks of Bengal, Madras, or Bombay, or in any Branch of these Banks, or into any public Treasury or Treasuries in India which may be named in the tender.

13. Accepted tenders must be paid, in equal instalments, as follows—

but the whole or any part of any accepted tender may be paid at any time after receipt of the letter of allotment.

14. Interest upon each payment will be promptly paid in advance, at the rate of four per centum per annum, from the date of such payment to the last day of January 1883. But, at the option of the allottee and on his paying interest from the first day of August 1882, to date of payment, interest will run from the said first day of August.

15. Scrip receipts for instalments paid will be given by the Banks of Bengal, Madras, and Bombay, or their Branches, or by the Officers in charge of the Government Treasuries at which payment is made. These receipts will, as soon as possible, be exchanged for Promissory Notes issued under this Notification.

16. Any holder of an allotment may at his option, by paying interest for the difference of time upon any amounts paid up after November 1st, 1882, receive in lieu of Promissory Notes in Form A, either Promissory Notes with coupons attached, or Stock Certificates (Form B) with coupons attached, and payable to bearer, in accordance with the Loan Notification of this Department, dated 27th June 1881 (i. e, *The four Per Cent. RESOLUTION ON THE GENERAL REPORT ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE PATNA DIVISION FOR THE YEAR 1881-82.

GENERAL DEPARTMMENT.—MISCELLANEOUS.

Darjeeling, the 19th September 1882.

READ—

The Annual Report of the Patna Division for 1881-82.

Mr. Halliday, who was in charge of the Division throughout the year, submits his report a fortnight late, the delay being chiefly due to the unpunctuality of the Collector of Durbhunga.

2. Tours.—The Commissioner's tour extended over four months, during which time he managed to see the greater part of his extensive division. In the hot weather and rains he inspected the Gya, Patna, Shahabad, Durbhunga, and Mozufferpore offices, thus freeing himself for other duties in the cold season. Commencing at Sonepore, where he had the usual opportunities for transacting public business, the Commissioner made a lengthened tour through the districts north of the Ganges, and, after the visit of the late Lieutenant-Governor to Behar had ended, continued his tour through the districts south of the river. Mr. Halliday's tour was a well-planned and useful one. The District Officers spent periods varying from three to five months in the interior of their jurisdictions; the Chumparun and Mozufferpore Collectors' tours being the most noteworthy. The Sub-Divisional Officers generally made satisfactory tours, with the exception of Mr. Cameron, of Bettiah, who was disabled by illness from remaining in camp for the full period prescribed, and the Jehanabad and Barh officers, who have given no sufficient explanation of their failure to comply with the orders on the subject of tours. This explanation must now be furnished by them.

3. Weather and crops.—The weather was not very seasonable throughout the year, and in Shahabad and Sarun the rainfall was deficient. In the Patna district there was an excellent khareef, a moderate bhadoi, and a fair rubbee harvest. The rubbee gave good promise, but a deficiency in the winter rains reduced the yield. In Gya the rainfall in July and August was excessive, and consequently the bhadoi crop suffered. The khureef, however, was excellent, and the rubbee fair. In Shahabad only 35 inches of rain fell, and the general result of the year's agriculture was consequently not favourable. From the quantitative statement of such results, however, which is appended to the Commissioner's report, it seems the harvests were very good in Sasseram and Buxar, and bad only in Bhubooah. Irrigation appears to have been this year more sparingly resorted to in Shahabad than formerly, and the Lieutenant-Governor would be glad to learn whether the local differences in the harvests can be in any way ascribed to this fact. In Mozufferpore the rainfall was also unequally distributed; none fell in the south of the district during July and August, and but little in the north. In September the heavy rain caused an inundation, which was followed by an outbreak of fever throughout the district. Still the crops were everywhere good, save in the Seetamurhee sub-division, where the bhadoi and rubbee were very poor. In Durbhunga the rains began well, but stopped abruptly; and fears were entertained of crop failure. Seasonable rain, however, in September and October dispelled these fears: and, excepting the rubbee in Taipore, and bhadoi in Madhubani, the harvests were fairly good. In Sarun the rainfall was much under the average, but seasonably distributed, and the only crop said to have suffered materially was the khureef in the Sewan sub-division. In Chumparun the rainfall was sufficient in quantity, but unequally distributed; the khureef crop was good; but all the rest were below the average. On the whole the year was the least favourable of the last three years to agriculturists in the Patna Division.

4. Public Health.—It was noticed last year that malarious fever had appeared in Shahabad, and that the Civil Surgeon of that district had attributed the disease in some degree to irrigation from the Sone Canals. That explanation was questioned at the time, and it gains no support from the fact that this year the disease has overspread the whole Patna Division, extending to districts where there is no canal irrigation, and where the season was unusually dry. In Shahabad the fever is stated to have assumed a malignant type, and to have caused much mortality. In all the other districts of the Division it was much less severe in form and less fatal. Additional medical aid was placed at the disposal of the local authorities, and cinchona febrifuge pills were widely distributed. The disease, however, ran the same course in every district, beginning in a mild form in August, growing virulent in September and October, and disappearing in December. It seems impossible to trace the disease to any local cause, and, as remarked in the Resolution on the Bhagulpore Administration Report, it is probably due to climatic influences which are beyond immediate control. The attention of the Sanitary Commissioner will be again directed to the matter. While the Division suffered much more from fever than in the preceding year, it suffered less from cholera, which appeared in the Chumparun and Durbhunga districts only. In the former district the disease was confined principally to the towns of Bettiah and Motiharee; but in Durbhunga it assumed more of an epidemic character, and lasted for several weeks.

5. Material condition of the people.—Under this head the Commissioner gives on the whole a fairly satisfactory account. The experienced Collector of Mozufferpore, Mr. Worsley, considers that the material condition of the people improved visibly during the year, and he appeals to the number and character of weddings and the comparatively well-fed appearance of the lower classes in support of this statement. The Commissioner is doubtful how far these circumstances can be taken as evidence of permanent improvement in the condition of the classes referred to; but they at all events indicate some present advance; and if fixity of tenure and fair rents will give stability to the well-being of the agricultural classes, the Lieutenant-Governor hopes these measures will shortly be attained. The Collector of Sarun thinks the people of his district well off—better off in fact than their neighbours in some districts of the North-Western Provinces. They are, indeed, in debt; but Mr. Quinn is not prepared to say that the evils of indebtedness may not be exaggerated, and in this opinion the Commissioner is apparently disposed to agree. The Lieutenant-Governor prefers to retain the old belief that a load of debt does handicap a ryot in the struggle for existence in an overcrowded Indian district, and weakens the springs of industry. The people of Durbhunga have, in Mr. Boxwell's opinion, reached "a respectable average of rustic comfort," and the Sub-Divisional Officer of Tajpore has observed that granaries are everywhere well filled, that houses are being improved, and tanks and wells excavated. Such assurances of progress from a portion of Behar where progress was needed are especially gratifying. From Chumparun Mr. Edgar reports that, when he first visited the district in 1880, the contrast between its inhabitants and the people of Shahabad and Sarun "struck him painfully." It is therefore well to learn that within the short time that Mr. Edgar held charge of the district, "the material condition of the people had been greatly improved." The construction of the railway to Motihari had some effect in raising wages, and fair harvests also helped to better the condition of all classes. Still Mr. Edgar, who has now left the district, does not think things as satisfactory as they might be; and this he attributes more to defects in the land laws than to other causes. The Lieutenant-Governor fears that the Chumparun ryot is in a depressed condition; but he trusts that the extension of railway communication to the district will now stimulate trade, and that the energy, tact, and watchfulness of the district officers will check the agrarian abuses to which Mr. Edgar alludes until an amendment in the Rent law shall supply the true remedy.

A more hopeful account is given of things south of the Ganges. In the Patna district "the improved condition of the people is said to be still apparent as in the past year." From Gya a similar report comes, and it is added that "the ryot is awaking to a sense of his rights there and beginning to assert them." In Shahabad the condition of the people has always been reported as much better than elsewhere in the Division, and ought not to be permanently injured by one unfavourable season. In these south Ganges districts bouli rents are more prevalent than in the districts north of the river, and opinions differ as to the value of the system. While one Collector ranks it with thikadari as an obstacle to all improvement, another says it was the saving of his district during the last bad year. It is unnecessary here to renew a threadbare discussion. It will be sufficient to say that in the Lieutenant-Governor's opinion the bouli system is more suited to (as it is oftener found in) the earlier and ruder stages of agricultural communities, than to their later development. With the advance of experience and knowledge the system becomes subordinate to the money rent system, and nothing should, in Mr. Rivers Thompson's opinion, be done to obstruct this process of natural change.

6. Emigration.—Under this head the Commissioner has nothing unusual to report. The number of emigrants registered during the year was 3,134 against 3,226 in the preceding year, and the number of labourers who emigrated to the eastern districts for work was also less than usual, owing, it is supposed, to the sickness which prevailed. Those who did go, however, brought or sent back savings which increased the resources of the people. The Commissioner indeed thinks that by such savings the pressure of population on the food-producing area is not relieved; but it is clear that the presence of money in a district stimulates trade, and that the pressure on local resources is reduced in proportion to the consumption of imported food. The Collector of Gya notices the case of a returned emigrant from the Mauritius who has set about teaching his neighbours the improved style in which sugar is grown and manufactured in that island; and the Collector of Chumparun mentions the hopeful fact that immigrants are beginning to settle on the large waste tracts of land in that district.

7. Prices of Food and Labour.—The prices of food (salt not excepted) were unusually low throughout the division during the year. This circumstance was from one point of view—and with reference to the non-agricultural classes—gratifying; but from another point of view—and with reference to the agricultural classes who could not dispose of their surplus produce to much advantage—it was less satisfactory. The wages of labour, especially of agricultural labour, being usually paid in kind in this division, are not much affected by market rates for food What affects them is the quality of the harvests, and as the harvests in parts of Shahabad were very bad, some difficulties arose there. The condition of labourers "paid in kind at fixed rates," says Mr. Nolan, "compared unfavourably with those paid by money wages on account of the low prices, and the result was a certain reluctance on the part of the agricultural workmen to do their customary tasks for the usual remuneration in grain. This led to many quarrels, the cultivators endeavouring to put pressure on their workmen when the latter refused to come." When, however, a special demand for non-agricultural labour was created, as in Chumparun, money wages rose, notwithstanding the cheapness of grain. Elsewhere money wages remained at their usual level, which throughout the Patna Division is unfortunately a very low one.

8. Manufactures and Mines.—During the year a native Joint-stock Company, called the Sheik Ahmed Company, Limited, was formed to work the iron ore discovered in the Behar rock. The capital consists of Rs. 50,000 in 1,000 shares of Rs. 50 each. Over 700 shares have already been subscribed for. It is too soon to speak of the success of the Company, but the Lieutenant-Governor wishes it every possible success. The manufacture of sugar is extending in Gya owing to facilities for irrigation afforded by the canals, and the saltpetre industry is reviving all over Behar, owing, doubtless, to the more lenient rules which the Inland Customs Department have now introduced. The indigo season was not as good as usual, but a fair outturn was secured and fair prices realized. Mr. Halliday's present Report is remarkable for the slight reference made throughout it to indigo questions. If this be due to the fact that the cultivation of indigo has ceased to be a question requiring watchfulness on the part of officials, the matter is one for unqualified congratulation But if it be due to the fact that the Commissioner having written on the subject for so many years, is tired of it for once, the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that in his next Report Mr. Halliday will discuss the question again with some fullness. The well-being of the indigo industry in Behar is, in the Lieutenant-Governor's opinion, a matter of great importance to the prosperity of the Province, and he does not believe that the position of the industry can be considered safe until it is conducted on truly commercial principles.

The Lieutenant-Governor will be glad to receive from the Commissioner the information regarding the manufacture of tobacco at Poosah, which he evidently forgot to include in his Report.

In all the districts of this Division there are local manufactures of iron and brass utensils, cotton cloth, blankets, carpets, and coarse paper. In Nowada a kind of tusser silk is made from cocoons imported from Hazareebagh, and in the neighbouring sub-division of Behar cotton and silk fabrics are somewhat largely produced. Patna is noted for its silk and velvet embroideries, and for trinkets of various kinds. The list of articles manufactured in his Division which the Commissioner gives is large, but beyond the names no information is supplied. It is desirable that in future reports the condition and prospects of the various trades and handicrafts should be to some extent discussed.

9 Trade and Commerce.—The most noteworthy fact brought out by the year's experience is the revolution which railways and improved communications are effecting in the old routes and methods of trade in Behar. Patna and Revelgunge are fast ceasing to be the entrepôts of Behar commerce, or even important distributing centres; and this fact may be taken to indicate the growth of a better commercial spirit and of more enterprise in the smaller marts. The trade of the Division, affected by the harvests, which were not as good as in either of the previous years, was depressed a good deal; but still a fair export business in wheat was done in Patna; while the Gya trade in oilseeds, lac, molasses, and hardware was so brisk as to necessitate an increase in the number of trains on the State Railway. All accounts agree in showing that the impetus given by this State line to the commercial life of the district is surprising; and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that the time may not be far distant when an extension southwards into Chota Nagpore may confer similar benefits on large territories, which are now no further removed from the civilizing influences of modern commerce than Gya was a few years ago.

Shahabad trades with Calcutta and the North-Western Provinces To the former place it exports wheat, oilseeds, and sugar, importing piece-goods, salt, and other commodities. A large part of the district's trade is with the North-Western Provinces. The Lieutenant-Governor observes with satisfaction that, judged by the importation of piece-goods (34½ lakhs of rupees worth), the condition of the people of Shahabad cannot have been greatly affected by the bad harvests; while the export of 7¼ lakhs maunds of wheat is a satisfactory fact in the year's retrospect. The Railway is the great medium of traffic; but the Sone Canals are also rapidly coming into favour as a trade highway.

The trade of the Mozufferpore district with Nepal was depressed, and it is inferred that a similar state of things existed in Durbhunga and Chumparun, from which districts, however, meagre information has been received on this important section of the Annual Report.

10. State of Public Feeling.—Mr. Halliday says the Behar public were not particularly interested in any subjects, general or special, last year; and after the rent and census excitement of the preceding years, the respite must have been welcome. Certainly it could be said of few districts, as it is said of Gya, that the landholders there display a very general ignorance of the proposed rent-bill. Still the year's retrospect is not totally devoid in this respect. The news that the salt-tax had been reduced, and that there was to be no income-tax, is said to have spread with unexampled quickness, which, if true, shows that Indian rural society possesses a greater degree of "conductivity" than Mr. Boxwell would give it credit for. The Collector of Sarun says the license-tax is cordially detested by those who have to pay it, which is not very surprising, nor, indeed, very damaging to the license-tax. "The Chowkidari Act," says the Commissioner, "is wonderfully unpopular, considering that the incidence of the tax is to our ideas, at least, very low, and that the machinery for its collection is supposed to be especially congenial to the native mind." The principle of the Act is good; and its application in many other parts of the country has been successful; it is the working of it in Behar which, in the Lieutenant-Governor's opinion, is defective. The great danger to be avoided is the nomination of uninfluential residents to the punchayet. As a rule, no resident of a lower caste than the majority of the villagers should be appointed a member except the putwari, who should invariably be a member. To appoint in a Brahmin or Rajpoot village men of lower castes to the punchayet is to court defeat. Such men have no influence, and failing, therefore, to make collections, they have often to pay up in person the tax for the whole village. With such men, or with men who fear experience similar to theirs, the unpopularity of the tax is not so wonderful after all.

11. Public Press.—There are six newspapers published in Behar, three of which appear to be in the vernacular; and the Lieutenant-Governor welcomes the fact as a sign of the growing intellectual activity of the Province. The tone of the Behar Press is loyal, but its influence is not, it is said, very extensive as yet.

12. Administrative Changes.—No administrative changes of more than local importance occurred during the year. In Shahabad the system of farming pounds has not been successful, probably because the Bhojpoori asserts his independence, and is not disposed to submit to extortion either at the hands of rent-farmers or pound-farmers. In Mozufferpore the system is said to have been more successful, and the Lieutenant-Governor is willing to believe that Mr. Worsley's energy and knowledge of his district extracts as much good out of the system as it can possibly be made to yield. The endowment of the Hajeepore Branch Road Cess Committee with independent power is a step in the right direction, and the introduction into Shahabad of the payment-by-result system in the management of primary schools has had the same good effects that it has had in other districts.

Finally, it is very satisfactory to find that the outcry against Kaithi has died out; that the most prejudiced of the old class of amlah and mukhtears have acquiesced in the change; and that a new school of Kaithi-knowing public servants and legal practitioners is springing up. Mr. Grierson's labours have done much to hasten this satisfactory result, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that the important dictionary of Behar dialects, upon which Messrs Grierson and Hœrnle are now engaged, will consolidate the progress that has been made, and extend the knowledge of Eastern Hindi. Under the circumstances reported, the abolition of the Khajohli registration office is not to be regretted. Any attempt to suppress the ryots' right of occupancy is to be deprecated.

13. Police and Crime.—Compared with the previous year, there has been a considerable improvement in the state of crime in the Patna Division. Serious offences have diminished, especially serious offences against property, as will appear from the following statement:—

	1880-81.	1881-82.
Offences against property	14,028	13,175
Ditto person	2,177	2,777
Ditto public tranquillity	408	325
Other offences	6,354	5,395
Total ...	22,967	21,672

The diminution in crime is attributed by the Commissioner partly to the general prosperity of the people, and partly to improved police administration. The former cause had doubtless some effect, but the latter is not entirely consistent with other facts stated by the Commissioner.

The following table shows for each district the total number of cases reported, and the proportion true and false for the last two years:—

District.	True cases.		Cases reported.		False cases.		Percentage of false cases.
	1880.	1881.	1880.	1881.	1880.	1881.	1880.	1881
Patna	7,017	6,239	7,370	6,517	343	278	4·7	4 3
Gya	3,796	3,672	3,988	3,864	195	192	4·8	4·9
Shahabad	1,943	2,675	2,180	2,741	237	269	10·4	9 8
Muzufferpore	2,014	1,703	2,249	1,885	215	183	9·6	9·7
Durbhunga	1,589	1,868	1,823	2,125	234	243	11·0	12 8
Saran	2,686	2,196	2,853	2,318	202	161	6·9	6 8
Chumparun	1,946	1,917	2,189	2,179	243	303	11·1	12 03
Total ...	21,286	20,062	22,967	21,679	1,679	1,608	7·3	7 4

The increase in Shahabad is stated to be mostly nominal, being due to a change in the method of registering crime. When petty complaints of cognizable offences were not enquired into, they were formerly entered as "non-cognizable." Mr. Nolan has very properly altered this procedure.

It is less satisfactory to observe that, although the police had more time to devote to individual enquiries, the detective results of the year were below the standard of the preceding year. The total number of persons arrested was 17,568. Of these, 16,593 were brought to trial, which shows that many arrests were made hastily and without due cause. Of the persons brought to trial, 11,187, or 67·4 per cent., were convicted; while last year the percentage was 69·6. Excluding offences against municipal laws, which are rather a proof of the energy of the municipal police than of any actual increase in crime, the number of criminals brought to trial and convicted during the last two years shows considerable uniformity. It must be observed, however, what difference does exist shows a falling off rather than an improvement in the detection of offences.

14. Civil Justice.—Mr. Halliday gives a full and good summary of the state of Civil Justice in his Division during the year. On the whole the result is not unsatisfactory, except in the point that large arrears remained at the close of the year. The following table shows the nature and kind of suits instituted :—

District.	Suits for money or moveable property.	Suits under the rent law.	Title and other suits.	Total number of cases instituted during the year.	Cases disposed of.	Pending.
Patna	2,307	2,367	604	5,278	5,998	857
Gya	1,125	702	516	2,343	2,549	737
Shahabad	1,735	3,873	1,153	6,761	5,857	2,379
Mozufferpore	1,746	2,095	709	4,550	4,613	1,243
Durbhunga	1,378	1,909	562	3,849	3,915	918
Sarun	2,180	2,116	930	5,226	4,119	1,088
Chumparun					1,501	317
Total ...	10,471	13,156	4,476	28,103	28,712*	7,508

* These include cases pending at the close of 1880.

These figures present no feature of remarkable importance. As far as can be ascertained from a comparison between them and the imperfect returns submitted last year, rent suits have increased in Mozufferpore and Shahabad, while they have slightly decreased in Chumparun, Sarun, and Patna. Fewer enhancement notices have been issued; but it is explained that some zemindars sought to enhance rents under colour of suits for arrears.

The recent orders conferring civil suit powers on Joint-Magistrates have not yet had time to bear fruit, but doubts have been expressed by the Judge and Collector of Patna on the usefulness of these orders. Mr. Beveridge objects to the trouble caused by the transfer of cases, and by the occasional absence of Joint-Magistrates on tour. Mr. Metcalfe (who was Collector of Patna before his promotion to the Commissionership at Bhagulpore) thinks the scheme unpopular with natives and expensive to the Government, the time of highly paid Joint-Magistrates being more valuable than the time of less highly paid Moonsifs. As far as regards Mr. Beveridge's objections, they tell only against the method in which the orders of Government are carried into effect at Patna, not against the orders themselves. It is obvious that Joint-Magistrates can fix the dates for hearing civil cases in accordance with the convenience of the parties, and adhere to those dates as well as Moonsifs can. Joint-Magistrates are very rarely away from the Sudder station; indeed, the rareness of their visits to the mofussil was considered so prejudicial to the public interests that orders have recently been issued imposing on them the duty of a cold-weather tour. But obedience to these orders need in no way conflict with their duties as Civil Court Judges. As to the trouble of transferring cases, there need be none to speak of when the Joint-Magistrate's Court is situated near the Judge's. But when situated at a distance some inconvenience may arise; and the Lieutenant-Governor will be prepared, on a suitable representation, to consider how, in each particular case, this may be best obviated. The Lieutenant-Governor is aware that in many places besides Patna the new arrangements are condemned; but he is anxious that they should have a longer trial.

The Lieutenant-Governor notices with satisfaction that the system of employing Special Moonsifs for the trial of rent-suits is giving satisfaction.

15. Land and Land Revenue.—The total demand for the Division fell from Rs. 82,29,111 on 46,033 estates in 1880 to Rs. 82,13,659 in 1881 on 47,162 estates. The decrease in revenue is mostly nominal, being due chiefly to the fact that the demand against the Gya Escheated Estates has been struck off the revenue roll. The increase in the number of estates is due almost entirely to partition cases, which in Behar occupy a disproportionate share of a Collector's time. The effect of the unrestricted right of partition formed the subject of enquiry by Sir Ashley Eden, who submitted certain proposals in connection with it to the Government of India. Mr. Rivers Thompson has now received the sanction of that Government to an amendment of the butwara law limiting partitions (other than amicable partitions) to cases in which the Government revenue on each share shall not fall below Rs. 10. An Act will be introduced during the next session of the Bengal Legislative Council to effect this object.

The total collections of Government revenue during the year amounted to Rs. 81,02,457, being 98·6 per cent. on the demand. In permanently and temporarily settled estates the results are quite satisfactory, and the apparently small measure of success which attended the management of ryotwari tracts is satisfactorily explained. The general result of the year's administration would have been unusually good had more success attended the recovery of rents in Government estates. Still, even here the ill success is more apparent than real. The Commissioner's figures indicate that only 89 per cent. of the rent was collected; but the Lieutenant-Governor observes from the Board's Land Revenue Report, recently submitted, that, calculated on the current demand, the percentage would be 104. The fact that there has been some ill-success in the collection of arrears cannot seriously diminish the satisfactory nature of the year's administration, for which the Commissioner and district officers deserve every credit.

The land registration work in this division is almost finished. Some entries of fractional shares yet remain to be disposed of, and some irregularities in the operations at Patna (for which the present district officers are not responsible) have to be corrected; but the work throughout the division is practically finished, and completion reports have been sent in. An inestimable benefit has thus, in the space of a few years, been conferred on the holders of landed property in the Patna Division. The Commissioner on this occasion does not report whether the decision of the Collectors and their Deputies are still being accepted as final; but from the fact that the civil litigation of the year shows no material increase, the Lieutenant-Governor presumes that this is so. The fact is highly creditable to the Collectors of the Patna Division.

16. Excise.—The total excise revenue realized during the year was Rs. 21,22,274, showing an increase of 3½ lakhs on the previous year's figures. The increase showed itself in all the principal exciseable articles, but was specially marked in the case of country spirits and ganja. From ganja the increase has been very considerable, and without explanation (which has not been given) cannot be considered a satisfactory feature in the year's retrospect. The attention of the Financial Department of this Office, which deals with the excise revenue, will be called to this matter.

On the increase of revenue from the sale of country spirits Mr. Halliday makes the following remarks:—

> The expansion of revenue under the outstill system, as remarked by me in the last year's report, has been marvellous. Under the most favourable circumstances the highest amount contributed by sudder distillery was Rs 7,39,346, while the outstill system has during the year under report yielded an increase of Rs 16,37 161, or more than double the revenue derived from the distillery system. This extraordinary and rapid growth of revenue proves to demonstration its success in a financial point of view. As I remarked last year, it has also many other advantages over the distillery system, the chief of these being the complete check which is secured on the illicit distillation and sale of spirits, and the saving of trouble to the officers entrusted with the working of the department. As a means of State economy, it has been attended with the best results, in having effected a considerable saving in expenditure. The charges under the sudder distillery system in this Division in the year 1877-78 were about Rs 80,000, while under the outstill system they amounted to only Rs 42,549 during the year under review.
> The only ground on which the outstill system is condemned is that it has increased drunkenness. There are scarcely reliable statistics to support this theory. Judging from the reports of the district officers, most of whom have taken special pains to ascertain the real extent of the prevalence of drunkenness, and from my own observations in the course of my tour, I can find no reason for altering the opinion expressed by me last year.
> The experience gained this year confirms the view expressed by me last year. I am decidedly of opinion that the outstill system has not led to an increase of drunkenness, except to some extent among the labouring classes; but this is chiefly due to the cheapness of the liquor itself, and to the remarkably easy prices of the necessaries of life in late years. The lower and labouring classes of people in Behar have an innate desire for drink, and they satisfy their cravings, whatever our excise system may be.

The incidence of revenue under country spirits per head of population in the different districts of this division is as follows:—

		A.	P.
Patna	26 or	4	0
Gya	22 or	3	6
Shahabad	11 or	1	9
Mozufferpore	03 or	0	6
Durbhunga	02 or	0	4
Sarun	09 or	1	5
Chumparun	06 or	0	11

It will be observed that the incidence is generally very small, especially in the North Gangetic districts.

The Lieutenant-Governor believes that the administration of the outstill system in the Patna Division is being placed on a satisfactory footing. He finds that during the last year a considerable reduction in the number of licensed shops has been effected, and a "re-adjustment made in the location of outstills"—the principles, in fact, which the Lieutenant-Governor desires to see carried into effect in outstill administration. If, notwithstanding such provisions against an abuse of the system, the consumption of country spirits increases, it is a legitimate conclusion to draw that the result is not due to any improper forcing of intoxicating liquor upon the people, but to the general prosperity of the country, and to the liking of the lower classes of the people for a stimulant which, after all, has been shown to be weak and harmless when taken in moderation.

17. License-tax.—The following table compares the results of the license-tax operations in this Division for the last two years:—

Name of district.	Number of assessees.		Amount assessed.
	1880-81	1881-82.	1880-81.	1881-82.
Patna	1,238	1,308	29,420	29,810
Gya	1,375	1,333	27,240	26,650
Shahabad	1,279	1,240	22,980	22,220
Mozufferpore	2,135	1,947	43,265	38,883
Durbhunga	2,572	2,166	42,415	37,220
Sarun	2,388	2,226	48,045	41,425
Chumparun	894	879	17,000	16,860
Total ...	11,881	11,099	2,30,395	2,13,068

There has thus been a falling off of 782 in the number of persons assessed, and of 8 per cent. in the amount assessed during the year. This reduction the Commissioner seems disposed to explain on the ground that the Division was over assessed last year. In this view the Lieutenant-Governor is unable to concur. Without going over beaten ground, Mr. Rivers Thompson would notice one fact brought into prominence this year, with which Mr. Halliday's opinion is inconsistent. Assuming the tax now assessed on the Patna Division to have been assessed at the full rate of 2 per cent. on profits, it follows that the aggregate profits of all traders in the Patna Division, above the poorest, amount to 106½ lakhs of rupees. In the Bhagulpore Division the aggregate profits were shown to be 85 lakhs, the tax being at the same time recovered with ease. The Bhagulpore Division, with a population of 7¾ millions, consists of five districts, none specially rich or prosperous, and one—the Sonthal Pergunnahs—scarcely commercial. The Patna Division, with a population of 13½ millions, comprises seven districts, all rich, prosperous, and commercial. In all the attributes of social and commercial life the Patna Division is notoriously far in advance of Bhagulpore. It is therefore very difficult indeed to believe that if the profits of trade in the Bhagulpore Division amount to 85 lakhs, those of the Patna Division should only amount to 106½ lakhs.

The contention that the Patna Division was over-assessed last year (a contention which cannot on any reasonable ground be maintained) would, if true, necessitate the conclusion that it is over-assessed this year too; for the depression in trade this year, to which the Commissioner's report bears ample testimony, was more than sufficient to justify a reduction of 8 per cent. in the sum assessed. The Lieutenant-Governor, however, need hardly say that he does not really think that the Patna Division as a whole, or any district in it, has been over-assessed during the year under report, or during the preceding year. The policy of the tax is not one which can be properly discussed in this place.

18. Stamps.—The stamp revenue of Rs. 16,44,121 showed an increase of Rs. 59,329 over the revenue of the preceding year. There was an increase generally under every head except that of impressed stamps and hundi and adhesive stamps, under which there was a small decrease. The following figures will show how steady and substantial has been the increase in this branch of the revenue in this division during the last few years:—

	Judicial	Non judicial
	Rs.	Rs
1875-76	8,54,773	3,08,387
1876-77	9,55,739	3,01,762
1877-78	12 86,116	3,22,528
1878-79	11 47,894	3 52,798
1879-80	11 25,421	3,85 933
1880-81	11,05,850	4,12,452
1881-82	12,07,305	4,13,779

19. Monetary Arrangements.—The circulation of currency notes during the year increased considerably, notwithstanding that in some treasuries issues were restricted by short supplies of notes. This is a point which will be brought to the notice of the Comptroller-General The Government Savings Banks still fail to attract business; but the stock-note and Post Office Savings Bank system may supply the want which District Savings Banks have failed to make good. The Commissioner proposes that as the money-order system is now administered by the Imperial Postal Department, reference to it may in future be excluded from the Annual Administration Report. The Lieutenant-Governor accepts this proposal.

20. Public Works.—The Collector of Shahabad calls attention to the want of proper carriage accommodation for native passengers on the East Indian Railway, and to the condition of the permanent-way. His remarks on these points will be communicated to the Public Works Department. It cannot be right that horse-boxes should be used for the conveyance of passengers. As already observed, the Patna-Gya line continues to increase in prosperity, while the usefulness of the Tirhoot line has suffered from an insufficiency of rolling-stock. The extension of the line eastwards is progressing satisfactorily; the Chumparun extension is still unfinished.

Irrigation from the Sone system is practised in Shahabad, Patna, and Gya, but the area irrigated this year seems to have been less than in the preceding year. Mr. Nolan's remarks on this head, as well as regarding the system of assessing and collecting water-rates, will be communicated to the Irrigation Branch of the Public Works Department. The Sarun Irrigation Scheme has not yet justified the hopes that were entertained regarding it; but no real necessity for using the water has yet arisen. Meanwhile embankments and distributaries are being surveyed with a view to the full utilization of the water should need for it arise.

All the districts in the Division—the Patna district perhaps excepted—are well provided with unmetalled roads. In some districts, however, especially Durbhunga, there is the same want of bridges which was noticed in the Resolution on the Bhagulpore Divisional Report. The Lieutenant-Governor here deems it unnecessary to say more than call attention to the remarks made in that Resolution on this subject. Mr. Halliday makes no mention in his Report of tree-planting along road-sides; but the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that this matter, which is not without importance, is being kept in view.

21. Education.—Owing to the non-receipt of the Report of the Inspector of Schools, and to the meagreness of the district reports, all the information the Commissioner for the second year running can give regarding the progress of education in his Division is that primary education is everywhere advancing. This absence of information is not satisfactory, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that it will not occur again. It is perfectly within the power of every district officer to obtain from his Deputy Inspector of Schools, in time for incorporation in his Administration Report, all the information needed for a brief but comprehensive statement of the progress of education in his district, and the Lieutenant-Governor must insist that henceforward every district officer shall do this. It is of special importance that the Government should be in a position to judge of the progress of education from an administrative as well as from a departmental point of view.

22. Dispensaries.—There are 36 dispensaries in the Division, 7 supported by private munificence and 29 partially or entirely by Government. Their financial position is said to be good, and their popularity, as evidenced by the increasing number of patients, is extending.

23. Committees.—The District Road Cess and Municipal Committees have worked very successfully throughout the year. The Education Committees had but little to do, and naturally exhibited but little interest in doing that little. They will have more to do henceforward, and with an increase in reponsibility an increasing interest will no doubt be evoked. Mr. Halliday says of Committees generally: that "the system of District Committees co-operating with the chief ex-officers is considered a complete success." The extension of the Committees' powers in the way of independent action ought therefore to be the more easy in this Division.

24. Court of Wards.—Thirteen estates were under management, of which four were released during the year. The most important estate is Nurhan in Durbhunga, with a rental of a lakh-and-a-half. It was heavily in debt when taken over; but the debt is being steadily reduced.

25. Conduct of Zemindars.—The Commissioner has nothing special to remark this year regarding the individual action of leading zemindars. It is difficult, he says, to make any statement that will be true of all; but perhaps Mr. Worsley's remark regarding the Mozufferpore zemindars might be fairly applied to the class—"respectful and loyal towards the Government and its officers, and more or less selfish in the treatment of their ryots." No event during the year attracted unfavourable notice to the action of any of the great proprietors; while the Maharajah of Hutwah is commended for his liberality and the intelligent interest he takes in public affairs.

26. Character of officers.—The Commissioner's remarks on this head will be communicated to the Appointment Department. The staff of Collectors in the Patna Division contained last year so many officers of excellent character and qualifications, that the Lieutenant-Governor will single out none for special mention; but of the junior covenanted officers, Mr. Tobin has most distinguished himself. Among uncovenanted officers, Baboos Durgagati Banerjee and Gour Sunker Biswas are most commended.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. P. MACDONNELL,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

The mean pressure, temperature &c. are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86 formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction of the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.
